Big "Factory Farm" Is Doomed Due to Nature and Low Prices

NEW ROTELAND, N. C. (AP) — Dixie's greatest factory farming project apparently has failed.

Six years and $2,000,000 spent in an effort to reclaim the swamplands of 40,000 acres out of Lake Mattamuskeet seems to have come to naught.

And now the last dead, expensive ditch is to be abandoned by the original holders. Dark water fills and the Canadian wild geese

August Heckscher, New York philanthropist and philanthropist, has given many of a careless and unprofitable farm project begun in the Eastern Carolina flat lands.

Thomas B. Campbell, who has been called the widely known street speaker of New York, is the head of the farm development but has in an effort to extract the million out into the adjacent wide.

In 1926 the disaster was interrupted by the most sensational project in U. S. Drainage. The first step of Great pumping stations with a capacity of 1,000,000 gallons per minute were completed and placed in operation. Drainage ditches were cut.

Experienced men at the job had assured to authorities and other responsible in Washington that the work was to succeed. Work had been a year ahead.

The pumps were set to work and another big canal disaster occurred with disaster. In 1926 a 5,000 acre crop of soybeans was ruined.

After four years and millions of dollars of expense New Holland appeared to be successful. Washington, Swan Quarter, Belhaven and nearby towns boomed with the purchases of the millionaire for further development.

But New Holland has fake stockholders, felt the business depression, the like the rest of the world. Its farm crop for cattle and the orchards were beaten down by weather. Its fine gravel studded.

And time apparently was written in August Heckscher's support when Thomas appointed operations would cease to date on the project.

Great sums of money have disappeared in this to be sold, the pumps are to stop pumping and the waters are to be allowed back more to their old level. Only left suitable for cattle farms. The sums of drainage ditches are to remain nearly deeper ditch in the lake.

French and Germans Redouble Effort To Stamp Out Feeling of Antagonism

By Joseph A. Shaftel

PARIS (AP) — International conferences and meetings over the Franco-German customs accord give the impression in German press comments that in the coming discussions of Germany have concentrated their attention on relations between France and Germany.

Little by little news points to the existence of some feeling on each side of the border, and the French and German leaders which have been trying to bring the two peoples closer together are exerting efforts to establish permanent friendly relations.

Small Affair Now

Small incidents which have attracted attention include the recent arrest in Alsace of German students for carrying bouquets of flowers on the anti-Fascist and had adorned the decoration of the Legion of Honor.

On the other hand reports were recently disposed that the prefect of police for the port.

In Berlin a French-made film had to be given German titles before it was presented.

The Germans have been a bit sensitive, too, because "All Quiet on the Western Front" banned in the Reich by anti-Germans, but been shown in French frontier towns to appreciative audiences by people of this side of the Rhine who have crossed to see it.

In presenting the other side of the picture the French authorities which seek international good will have placed special emphasis upon a speech by foreign affairs minister Briand in behalf of the conciliation of Germany by friendly means.

The report says it is clear that suspicion of Germany have been induced to believe that their aim should exist in the south of the Rhine in territory under the treaty of Versailles not of Germany. Such changes are in Germany by the postwar treaties. The report adds:

We are justified in being not too pessimistic but certainly we should give the closest attention to the probable effects of a change in Germany of the extremist right in the coming year. France should remain calm and patient. Her path should be determined by the path of Germany.

France poses and seeks for the signature of an atmosphere which will mainly friendly relations based on good-will.

A glance at the general attitude of the French parliament in relations with foreign countries in general is to be found in the statement that the time of trade negotiations has passed and that the proper defense of the interests of France demand protection coupled with bank stabilization. The report continues:

Towards the Kellogg-Briand peace pact, the European nations, all share the same promises. They are realists.

A signature of the policy not a blind adhere to the destructive dogma of the annihilation of Germany and to find attitudes which would be satisfactory to France and especially as the year 1931 clearly showed would constitute the worst kind of imperialism.

County Quota For C. M. T. C. Passed

PORTLAND RAILWAYS, Wash., Apr. 11 (AP) — Successful has been the enrollment campaign of the Reserve Officers Training Corps organization in Hood County and the quota has been filled and enrolled.

Word was received by Fred Kohlhagen, chairman of the committee, from Major General Lewis Hershey, director of the selective service system, that the county had been given a quota of 40 men. Kohlhagen said the quota was filled within a few days after the committee had been appointed.

Plans for the distribution of the Reserve Officers Training Corps units of the 321st F. A. of the 96th Div. are now in the hands of the committee of the same county.

There is a quota of 19 students from Hood County this year and already it has applied. In spite of all efforts the quota could not be increased.

Butter Prices Fall Off Again In Oregon Mart

PORTLAND, Apr. 11 (AP) — Butter prices fell off again with the wholesale market opening today under influence of produce exchange quotations at 1 cent lower on all grades. Receipts were heavy, consistently so in some quarters and efforts of receivers to increase sales found retailers little interested beyond immediate needs. Quote: tubs extras and standards 28 cents, prime firsts 27 cents and firsts 26.

As result of the butter decline a few mostly smaller butterfat receivers quoted 1 cent lower at 20 cents a pound delivered while others including majority of large handlers continued the 21 cent quotation.

Wholesale egg market continued weakened by liberal receipts but official produce exchange quotations were unchanged.

With receipts beginning to overtake unit sales in some quarters of the country dressed veal and pork and live lamb opened with lower bids to producers. Veal was 1½ to 3 cent lower at 18 to 20½ cents a pound, pork tubs were mostly ½ cent lower with some concessions at the farmer level. Heavy lamb likewise varied from steady to 1 cent lower, ranging from 20 cents down to 21 cents while medium and light lamb were off 1 cent at 17 and 18 cents respectively.

Supplies of berries and tomatoes were narrower in the fresh fruit and vegetable trade and prices ranged 25 cents higher. Due to the market Monday are first shipment of spring beans to sell at $3.75 a hamper and first new onions from Texas to be offered at $2.50 a crate.

A fairly broad advance of a point or two enlivened in the earlier trading the mostly just. Several issues closed to a point lower. Trading was in extremely slim volume until the last few minutes, and the total transactions for the two-hour session amounted only 400,000 shares, the lowest on Saturday since Aug. 2, when sales all below 400,000 for the first time since 1928.

BOSTON, Apr. 11 (AP) — Wool market has been rather slow during the last week, as compared with the earlier part of the last two months. A fair volume of business was transacted on 56's and 48-50's quality of both fleece and territory lines. BOY PRINCE LEADS IN APPROACHING TIME-TIME

BUCHAREST, (AP)—Prince Michael, heir to the king of Rumania, brought home an excellent report card at the end of his first term at military college.

To celebrate he organized the classmates for some high jinks. The boys donned their newest uniforms and swagged along the streets.

Down crowded Elisabeta street they marched in solid phalanx and laughed to see other pedestrians scream off the curb. Then they swagged a more home and dismantled a show.

Michael said the promotion to put on a Chaplin film, but none of the ready-larger comedians pictures made the youngsters sore.
