"BALLOON BIBS" NOW AID YANKS

They're Latest in War Suits Worn by Sammies.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 16.—New gas proof suits kniwn as "balloon bibs" have just been issued to the American units on the French front in Picardy.

They are made of rubberized material and resemble oil skins. They are in one piece, and the trouser legs are bound with a cord to the ankles and worn under his rubber boots. The head attachment fits snugly over the gas mask. There are rubber gloves with a thumb and forefinger only, with the rest of the fingers incased like a seal fin.

The outfit makes the Yankee soldier look like a cross between a diver and a masked clown.

The suits are similar to those used by the English army. They are especially effective for emergency work in zones flooded with gas, and safeguard the men against the vicious mustard gas which burns the body where it finds moist spots.

"DEAD" THREE MONTHS, WALKS IN ON FAMILY

Vanished Last January. Returns to Learn Another Was Buried in His Name.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Believed to have been drowned three months ago, George Pilcher, fifty-one years old, is back in his home, No. 421 East Fifteenth Street, Flatbush. His appearance there Wednesday evening was a shock to his wife and daughter, who had caused a body supposed to be his to be interred.

"I have been on a business trip through the South," Pilcher explained when the members of his family were able to realize he was alive. "I did not write because I did not have any good news to communicate."

Pilcher left home early in January. Without acquainting his family, he went to Georgia to follow his trade of tuning and repairing pianos. He later visited Tennessee and Mississippi.

In February the body of a drowned man was washed upon Fire Island beach and relatives identified it as that of Pilcher. A scar on the left arm seemed to make the identification certain.

SON OF SOLDIER OF U. S. REVOLUTION DIES

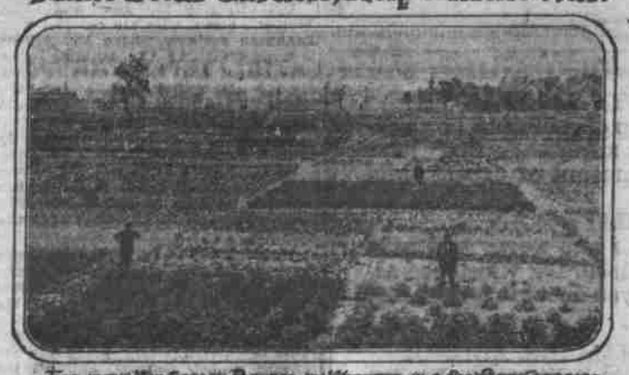
OMAHA, Neb., May 15.—Nelson Moore, believed to be the last real son of the American revolution, died at his home here yesterday.

Moore was born near Vernon, Oneida county, New York. His father at the age of 15, was fighting with the Continental army and was with Washington at Valley Forge. Moore came west and was a government freighter on the plains in 1859.

Some of the pacifists ought to be put to arguing with the Germans from the front trenches.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS OLIVE HAS A VICIOUS COMEBACK. BY ALLMAN

Plant a War Garden; Help Win the War.



THIS IS THE WAR GARDEN PLANTED BY WORKERS IN A BIG DAIRY COMPANY

HELPING to increase our export food stocks, war gardens will be planted this year in greater numbers than ever before. Each American family that has a garden plot is being urged to become more nearly self-sustaining by making use of it. This will render a national service by lessening the burdens on our railroads. Fewer carloads of food hauled about the country means more cars of munitions and food sent to seaboard for the Allies.

The United States Department of Agriculture and State Agricultural Colleges have printed leaflets of instructions for gardeners which will be sent upon request without charge.

It was only during the last winter that government experts were able to know definitely how great was the aid of 1917 war gardens. In many sections the potatoes and other vegetables raised enabled the people to escape a threatened famine in certain commodities that were held up on account of the railroad transportation crisis. Approximately 2,000,000 war gardens were planted in 1917—many were failures; but the gardener now knows more about raising vegetables and will do better in 1918.

Ohioan Delivers Slap On King's Shoulder

LONDON, May 16.—King George has met the real, made-in-Ohio democratic spirit.

A hearty slap on the royal shoulder delivered by Capt. W. Mack, Cincinnati, agent of the United States insurance board, brought home to the king the kind of democratic spirit that is customary among the Americans.

It happened when Capt Mack was formally introduced to the king and queen by Sir. Henry Fowler, at Guild Hall. As a booster for his war insurance, the enterprising American immediately asked their majesties for their signature, to encourage American soldiers in England to sign also. He accompanied his request to the king with a well-meant, though informal, slap on the shoulder.

The queen protested that she had no table at hand.

"Soon remedied, your Majesty," Mack replied. "Bend down Sergeant."

And placing the paper on the back of a sergeant the queen wrote her signature.

When it came to the king's turn, Mack's fountain pen was leaky, and he borrowed a sergeant's. This was dry, and Sir Henry then offered his pen and his back, and the king used both.

Mack showed his American enterprise, following his introduction to the king and queen, when he went to an American camp, and waving the autographs at the soldiers, said:

"Look at this boys. I've just got the signature of the king and queen. Now I wants yours!" and all signed up.

Mack has sold $1,500,000 war insurance for the government.

What is called temptation is only inclination's opportunity.

RED CHEVRON ARMY FORMS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—More than fifty men who have been physically disqualified from active duty in the army or navy, or who have been returned after being sent to some cantonement as a drafted man, have communicated with Marshall Breedon, national captain of the Army of the Red Chevron, exclusively for those men who have been declared unfit for active duty, that they intend to be at the meeting at the Hotel St. Francis on Tuesday evening next.

The idea of this army seems to be taking hold rapidly, and Breeden is securing the help and endorsement of prominent men and national organizations.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorbe impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken, into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.
