REBELS TAKE SAN DOMINGO

TERRIFIC FIGHTING IN WHICH MANY LOSE THEIR LIVES BEFORE FORT IS TAKEN.

San Domingo, March 24.—This city, the capital of the republic, was attacked by the revolutionists shortly after noon yesterday, and though the fighting continues the rebels may be said to be in possession of the city. They have seized the cable office and the government land wires.

Foreign Minister Sanchez and other members of the government have taken refuge in the United States consulate.

Stores are closed and business is at a standstill.

Assistant Governor Echnique and the commander of the government forces, General Pena, have been killed.

General Peppin led the revolutionists in the attack on the fort, and a number were killed on both sides before the fort defending the city was taken.

When the political prisoners were released from the fort they joined the revolutionists and marched with them into the city, where the fighting was continued by small detachments of government troops. Some of these, however, joined the rebels after fighting a short time.

President Vasquez was not in the capital when the attack was made. It is expected that he will try to rally his forces in the interior and recapture the city.

General Peppin, head of the present revolution, was a friend of Heureaux, the president who was assassinated in 1899. He is an old enemy of Vasquez, the present head of the government, who was one of those accused of being implicated in the death of Heureaux.

Washington, March 24.—United States Consul General Maxwell at San Domingo has cabled the state department that a revolution has broken out in that city and at the hour he sent the cablegram heavy firing was in progress.

MANY PASSENGERS HURT IN STREET CAR ACCIDENT.

East Liverpool, Ohio, March 23.—An electric car on the new Pleasant Heights line got beyond the control of the motorman last night and, dashing down a steep grade, struck a sharp curve, went into a ditch, and turned a complete somersault. The car was crushed, and the passengers, all of whom were injured, had to be chopped out of the debris.

The conductor had left the car, and the motorman was trying to do double duty. He left his post to collect fares and in this way the car got such a start that he could not coptrol it. The line has been in operation only a week.

Died of Their Injuries.

Buda Pest—Two of the students who were injured during the rioting Friday night on the occasion of the celebration of the anniversary of Louis Kossuth are dead. Many others who were wounded with swords during the police charge are in a serious condition.

Castro Has Resigned.

Caracas—President Castro has resigned. He placed his resignation of the presidency of the republic of Venezuela in the hands of the president of congress Saturday after reading the presidential message. In the ordinary course of events President Castro's term would have ended February 20, 1908.

SOME HISTORICAL ERRATA.

"Paul DeLancy" in the Portland Journal has been writing some things of late concerning the early history of Southern and Southeastern Oregon. His stories are entertaining and full of life, but contain inaccuracies apparent to people at all conversant with the history of this part of the state. For instance he puts into the mouth of Capt. O C. Applegate, Klamath Indian agent, words which we are satisfied the gentleman never uttered, inasmuch as it implies that he was present at the rescue of the old Indian Moses from the Piutes, while, to use Mr. DeLancy's words, the company was on its "way to Rogue river, after having hazarded the long journey in wagons across the plains." It was, indeed, "after" the Applegate family had "hazarded the long journey, etc.,"—as they crossed in 1843—and the "rescue of Moses" occurred in 1846, when a company led by Jesse and Lindsay Applegate, uncle and father respectively of Capt. Applegate, laid out the Southern route to Oregon—in order that future immigration could avoid the treacherous rapids of the Columbia, where the original immigration lost several members and a great part of their goods. At the time the "rescue of Moses" was made, Oliver Applegate was a toddling youngster, and we do not believe he ever authorized the publication of a story that would make him at least two decades older than he really is. "Moses" was rescued, as the story states, and is now, as he has been for twenty years, a venerable and persistent beggar from everyone who, in his opinion, had any "chicamon." How old he is cannot be accurately estimated, because, as is the case of all dark skinned people, it is difficult to determine, and might be anywhere between 40 and 75.

But what we started to say is this. There is enough of romance and adventure in detailing the actual occurrences of Oregon history without any embellishment whatever, to make the record interesting and enthralling.

A simple account of the privations and adventures of the early settlers of Oregon would read like a romance in these later days, and we personally have heard incidents detailed, which, did we not know that the narrators were speaking from actual experience, we would have thought they came from dime novels of the most virulent vanity.

Mr. DeLancy has endeavored to infuse a little "local color" in his writings, but he should have waited until the people who have heard these tales "oft recounted" by the family fireside had forgotten or been forgotten.

Peace at All Hazards.

St. Petersburg—The Russian government has decided that peace must be kept in the Balkans this year at all hazards, but is preparing meantime for decisive action in the spring of 1904.

Klamath County Items.

From the Klamath Falls Express.

On Monday papers were made out and signed, consummating a deal by which Marion Hanks bonds his ranch on the Upper Klamath lake to the Merrill Mutual Canal company. There is a little over 380 acres of the land, which we understand, was bonded at $30 per acre, making the sum total of $11,500.

Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Klamath County Agriculture Association was held at Judge Baldwin's office at the court house in Klamath Falls, on Saturday, March 21st, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of arranging the program and making other preparations for the spring race meeting to be held at the fair grounds in June.

Died—Mrs. Austin H. Sargent died at her home in the East End, Klamath Falls, this (Thursday) morning, after a long illness. The family are recent arrivals at this place and are in destitute circumstances, but generous and charitable citizens have come to their relief. The deceased woman leaves a husband and three young children.

Last Thursday evening as Marple's stage reached the top of the hill just south of town, coming in, the team became frightened and started to run. The driver, Mr. Marple was thrown from the wagon and he took the lines with him. When the team got about half way down the hill, Lynn Yaden, who was a passenger, started to jump and caught his foot in some way and fell under the wheel. He managed to secure one of the lines, though, and by a hard pull on it he swung one of the wheel horses around, throwing him and thus stopping the team. Both Mr. Marple and Mr. Yaden were considerably bruised and jolted up, but the depth of the mud prevented their receiving any serious injuries.

From the Klamath Falls Republican.

The marriage of Wm. Humphrey to Miss Leliah Carrick took place last Thursday evening in the county court room, Judge Geo. T. Baldwin performing the ceremony. The newly wedded couple are highly respected young people and have many friends who wish them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

Capt. O. C. Applegate informs us that it is the purpose to commence work on the Modoc Point ditch early in April with a hundred men or more, in the hope of completing that desireable work in time for use next year. This ditch, when completed, will make available for field and garden culture the Modoc Point country, the most favored portion of the reservation for such purposes, as it is a rich alluvial body of land and more free from frost than any other portion of the reservation.

Last Saturday H. L. Boggs met with a distressing accident, which will keep him from work a couple of weeks at least. He had the index finger of his right hand torn off at the first joint by a machine with which he was making grooves for shelving. The two blades of the machine were making 600 revolutions a minute, when the table on which he was working suddenly dropped, throwing his hand under one of the sharp-edged instruments, with the result as mentioned above. The finger was hanging only by the skin, but Mr. Boggs quickly re-adjusted it and hurried to the office of Dr. Hargus, who sewed the flesh around the finger and dressed it.
