91st Division to Return Home Soon.

Salem, Or., Feb. 18.—Governor Withycombe is in receipt of a letter from Major General William H. Johnston, commander of the 91st division now located near Lemans, about 100 miles southwest of Paris, announcing that the division is scheduled for early return to the United States and ordered to be ready for embarkation by March 1 at the latest date. General Johnston explains that this information is given lest a former letter to the governor would leave the impression that the division is to remain permanently in Europe.

"I believe the policy of the president, and I know the desire of General Pershing," the letter adds, "is to return all the forces to the United States as soon as the supply of shipping makes such transfer possible.

Naval Committee to Visit Portland.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Barring a special session of congress, now reported as certain to be called for March 11 next, 11 and possibie 13 of the holdover members of the house naval affairs committee will visit Portland about March 25. This number out of 16 holdover members, today accepted Congressman McArthur's invitation on behalf of the Pacific Coast Chamber of Congress to visit the western coast line was reported by him this morning and the plan is to leave Washington with all the holdover members on the senate committee on naval affairs March 8, if a special session is not held. This will bring the party to Portland between March 24 and April 1.

Roosevelt Highway Bill Passes House.

Salem, Or., Feb. 20.—The Roosevelt military highway bill was passed by the house yesterday afternoon by a huge majority. The measure, the author of which was Representative B. F. Jones, would appropriate $2,500,000, if the federal government will match the amount, for construction of a coast military highway from the city of Astoria to the California line. The measure will be placed before the people for vote if passed by the senate.

Lieut. Governor's Office is Proposed.

Salem, Or., Feb. 20.—The committee on resolutions yesterday afternoon introduced a joint resolution to create the office of lieutenant governor. The people are to vote on the measure if passed by the legislature.

The lieutenant governor is to be presiding officer of the senate, but will have no vote except in case of a tie. In event of the death of the governor the lieutenant governor becomes the chief executive. The measure is modeled after the system now in vogue in the state of Washington.
