Turkey dinner, trimmings to cost less than year ago

By Patricia Wiggins
UPI Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A turkey dinner with all the trimmings will cost less this Thanksgiving than it did a year ago and not as much more than in 1954.

That's the conclusion made today by The Machinist, weekly newspaper of the million-member Machinists' Union.

It based its findings on a comparsion of prices charged by a local supermarket chain for Turkey, cranberries, pumpkin, milks, eggs and other staples of the annual feast.

Machinist editor Gordon Cole said he believed the price trends were typical of the nation as a whole.

Here's the paper's item-by-item rundown on prices of Thanksgiving ingredients this year and last:

—Turkey is 10 cents a pound less for a 17-pound bird, or $1.70 less than the $8.33 price tag in 1958.

—Coffee is now 77 cents a pound, a decrease of 12 cents.

—Eggs at 69 cents a dozen, are a dime a dozen cheaper.

—Apples are down from 45 cents to 39 cents per five-pound bag.

—Lettuce is a cent less per head. Milk now costs 24 cents instead of 25 cents a quart in the Washington area.

—Cranberries, canned pimpkin and bread prices haven't changed.

—A few groceries cost more this year. They are celery, up four cents a bunch; butter, up a penny a pound, and potatoes, also a cent a pound higher.

The union publication said it checked results of its latest survey with a 1954 roundup and found that prices were very similar.

President talks with Russian atomic leader

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A Soviet atomic leader told President Eisenhower today he found U. S. activity on peaceful use of atomic energy to be proceeding on an "extremely comprehensive scale."

The President met the Russian, Vasily S. Emelyanov, during a busy schedule which included conferences on foreign policy and the federal budget.

Emelyanov, accompanied by Chairman John McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission, called on the President to tell about his recent visits to U. S. atomic installations.

The President started off the day by conferring with NATO officials and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter on the NATO foreign ministers meeting in Paris next month.

France resents action by U.N.

PARIS (UPI)—France made it clear today it not only has no intention of canceling its spring atomic tests but also bitterly resents United Nations attempts to get them called off.

French officials were unwilling to speak for the record but they made no secret of their resentment of the majority vote in the U.N. General Assembly last week against France's atom bomb program. Much of the resentment was focused on Canada and Ireland.

There also was a widespread feeling France was the object of an "unfair" campaign launched by the Afro-Asian group in the United Nations. This group sponsored the resolution that was passed.

Some French officials expressed indignation over the world body condemnation of an atomic test that hasn't even taken place, while it said nothing against the more than 200 test explosions already set off by Russia, the United States, and Britain.

These tests were detonated in areas much closer to habitation than the one France plans to set off in the Sahara Desert, the officials said. Informed sources said the first test probably will be detonated above the ground, on a platform.

The fact Canada voted against France was a particularly bitter pill for the French to swallow because of France's historic attachment to that partially French-speaking country.

There were hints President Charles de Gaulle may decide not to visit Canada next year when he goes to the United States on an official visit.

The French also believed the Irish resolution asking that the Soviet Union, United States and Britain refrain from handing over nuclear secrets to other nations was aimed at France.

Auto assembly plans set by GM

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors announced today it will resume assembly of automobiles, halted for nearly two weeks by steel shortages, Monday, Dec. 7.

GM President John F. Gordon said production of Cadillacs would begin Dec. 7.

In the same week, he said, the assembly of Corvairs will resume at the Willow Run, Mich., plant, and Chevrolets at Janesville, Wis., Norwood, Ohio, and Flint, Mich.

He said there would be enough components available by then to operate these plants four days during the week of Dec. 7.

All other GM car and truck divisions, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, GMC Truck and Coach and the remainder of the firm's Chevrolet plants, will resume assembly operations Dec. 14, Gordon said.

His announcement came as Chrysler Corp. began a pre-Thanksgiving layoff of another 10,200 workers because of steel shortages, with no definite indication whether the employes would be recalled before Christmas.

GM had laid off about 215,000 employes due to steel shortages.

Chrysler announced three plants would be shut down after the end of operations today and Wednesday. Its Hamtramck plant was closed today, idling 5,000 and its Los Angeles and Newark, Del., plants were to close Wednesday, idling another 5,200.

The new layoffs would bring to 23,430 the total number of Chrysler workers idled because of the steel shortages. All production of Imperial and the new small car, Valiant, has been shut down as well as Dodge truck production.
