Majority Report of Strike Settlement

coal. I am sure the public fully appreciates the desirability where practicable, of leaving commerciad transactions untrammeled but at the same time I am satisfied the public will find ways to protect itself if such liberal policy shall appear to result in unreasonable high prices."

"Stock Up" Advice

Recommendations by the majority lay stress upon the necessity of buying and storing coal for winter use during the summer months. State and federal institutions and departments are urged to take this action as well as householders, public utility corporations and private concerns. Railroads are asked to cooperate in the work and the interstate commerce commission is urged to aid in the solution of the transportation problem.

The report urged the federal reserve board to permit reserve banks to favor as eligible for rediscount, paper drawn against coal in storage.

Control of car distribution among mines, to the end that no particular mine or mines be given preference is recommended, as well as abolishment of the practice whereby purchasing agents of carriers can use company control over car supply to force down price of railway fuel. The interstate commerce commission would have jurisdiction over these details.

Better Housing Urged

In connection with mine labor the report says camp and housing conditions for miners should be improved and approval of the introduction of labor saving machinery is expressed. Advance of miners pay is discouraged but if made, advances should be without discount, directly or indirectly.

The following statement is included in the report:

"In submitting this report particular attention is called to the fact that herein every effort hasbeen made for the protection of the public, not only for the period under which this protection can be guaranteed by the executive under the powers granted him by the Lever act, but it has been our effort to go into the underlying causes for high costs and to offer some remedy therefor—this, in order that in the future, when the government relaxes its control over prices, there may be a continuing force at work in the public interest.

"We believe it is obvious that unless some changes can be made toward the end of reducing costs in coal production and distribution, no act of congress, no order of the executive nor any other regulation by constituted authority can in the end provide against the continuing high costs.

"It is for this reason that we believe that this industry should be placed upon the proper basis for more continuous and thus more economical production and distribution with the result that the cost of coal to the people will be reduced."

Armed Forces Keeping Order In Hun Capital

Berlin, Mar. 21.—(By the Associated Press)—An automobile trip made by the correspondent of the Associated Press this afternoon through the industrial district in the eastern outskirts of Berlin, which during Saturday night was the scene of several clashes between troops and Spartacans, brought to light the extensive military preparations that had been made to cope with the activities of the reds there.

The suburb of Kopenick, just eastward of Johannisthal, and Aldershof, had become a big military camp. The correspondent saw at least a dozen camouflaged field pieces and numerous machine guns and supplies of ammunition and stores of all kinds.

The principal fighting yesterday evening was precipitated by an attempt of the soldiers to seize a benzine plant near Aldershof. The district was quiet today but further trouble was expected.

The automobile passed a long string of armored cars mounting machine guns and truck loads of soldiers, going to reinforce the encamped troops. Only in the outlaying districts was the military conspicuous.

One of the principal criticisms directed against the government is the continued suppression of newspapers which prevents information regarding developments of the situation reaching the people.

Second Lot Of European Goods Reaches Portland

Portland, Or., Mar. 23.—The steamer Canusmset of the European-Pacific line, bringing the second lot of imports to be received here directly from Europe since the war started, docked late last night at the municipal terminal No. 1. The imports carried to Portland by this ship consist of linoleum, Fuller's earth and household goods, all from the United Kingdom.

The first direct imports from Europe in more than four years were discharged here last month by the steamer West Cayote of the same service.

After discharging her inward cargo the Canusmset will load lumber for Havana and general cargo for Havre and Liverpool.
