THREE SHOOTINGS STIRS PROTEST

record. He pointed out the two shootings along the Canadian border in which Henry Virkula, Big Falls, Minn. confectioner and Archibald Eugster, of Detroit, met death were by customs patrolmen.

The report of a shooting of an alleged bootlegger in Silver City, N. M., in which a federal dry agent was involved, is the first by a federal dry agent within more than six months, Doran said.

Calling attention to the stringent treasury regulations governing use of firearms, Doran renewed assurances, the treasury will act quickly to punish any federal officers guilty of violating these rules.

Meantime Assistant Treasury Secretary Seymour Lowman partially confirmed reports that the present intensive dry drive in the Detroit area shortly may be shifted to Buffalo.

The movement to cor-ordinate all border law enforcement activities into a single unit gained momentum in the house as a result of the new spotlight thrown on prohibition this week. Shootings would be fewer, Representative Hudson, republican, Michigan dry spokesman, declared, if the border units were unified. A bill to this end is pending in the house.

Aid for victims of persons killed by dry agents would be provided by a bill introduced by Mrs. Florence Kahn, republican, California.

YELLOW BIRD ON WING CRASH HALTS FLASH

Thursday. At that time one of the wheels dropped into soft sand and caused it to ground loop, but only the wheel and a few stay wires were damaged. The plane was traveling at a much higher rate of speed Thursday and it was believed the damage would be more serious.

IS SECOND START

The French plane got away two weeks ago but was forced to return after 20 minutes because of a leak in the main fuel tank.

The Yellow Bird Thursday was using a mixture of benzol and gasoline. The benzol was put in the fuel to reduce the detonation and vibration which caused the leak on the first take-off.

The crew of the Yellow Bird is Armeno Lotti, Jr., sponsor and co-pilot; Jean Assolant, pilot, and Rene Lefevre, navigator.

Assolant, a 23 year old pink cheeked youth, was married three days ago to Miss Pauline Parker of New York.

She accompanied him to the beach this morning and was very grave as she bade him good bye and saw the plane roar down the hard packer sands of the beach.

The Frenchmen carried two automobile inner tubes for use as life preservers. Lotti ordered a good sized rubber boat discarded because of the added weight.

PROPELLOR BROKEN

One half of the propellor was broken when the Green Flash nosed over, the left wing strut was broken and the landing gear smashed.

Yancey said the right wheel let go beneath them and the ship twisted to the right at that moment and centered into a nose-over.

The rear part of the fuselage near the tail assemblage was badly dented and the left wing torn. The cowling over the motor also was badly dented.

Gasoline leaked from the tanks and spread about the ground and the throng about the plane was pushed back for fear some one might toss a lighted cigaret or match on the sand and ignite the fuel.

The coast guard amphibian piloted by Lieut. L. M. Malka which accompanied the Yellow Bird at the start returned above the beach 40 minutes later.

RADIO ABROAD

The coast guardsman in charge of a portable short wave receiving set here said that Malka had reported the Yellow Bird at 100 miles out was 2,000 feet up and going strong.

Malka came back when he was informed by radio that the American plane had crashed. He circled the beach and reported by radio that as a precautionary measure he would start out and follow the Yellow Bird's course.

Two men who were standing about the French plane as the motor was being warmed up said they saw a young stowaway climb into the cabin. The report could not be confirmed and no radio messages had been received from the plane.

The crash of the Green Flash took place about a mile from the start and the wheels were still in the sands although they had bounced up for an instant several times. Williams was at the controls.

The tail was in the air, Williams said, when he felt the wheels spread under him, and the plane swerved to the left. He closed the throttle quickly and pulled the plane to the right and she nosed over, the propeller digging into the sand and the plane whirling about.

RAILROADS WILL OUST FAMOUS CATTLE DRIVE

Lubbock, Tex. (AP)—The overland drive of cattle, already fast disappearing, is to be rooted from one of its last strongholds in the southwest.

Both the Santa Fe and Texas Pacific railroads want to connect Lovington, N. M., with the outside world. For years cattle and sheep from New Mexico ranchos have been driven 70 miles to shipping points at Roswell, N. M., or Seagraves, Tex.

Whichever railroad wins its application, no more cattle will be driven overland.

More than 5,000,000 pounds of flax were grown in Italy this year.
