State of Oregon
County of Malheur

I, Ben J. Brown, Tax Collector of said County and State hereby certify that the foregoing list of delinquent taxes for the year 1915 is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

BEN J. BROWN,
Tax Collector,
By JNO. R. WHEELER,
Feb. 3-Mar. 3. Deputy.

Recruiting Officer Not Here

Some one must have mixed their dates as word was received last week that a recruiting officer would be in Vale the past week to take enlistments. However he did not arrive and it is possible that he may be here the coming week, unless he has cancelled his visit entirely.

Ontario-Nyssa Co. Elect

Monday of last week the stockholders of the Ontario-Nyssa irrigation company held their annual meeting at the city hall in Ontario. Directors elected were: S. D. Dorman, A. W. Trow, E. M. Greig, C. A. Marshall, Thomas W. Clagett, Peter Tensen and H. H. Mitchell. Following the stockholders' meeting the new board met and elected A. W. Trow president, E. M. Greig secretary-treasurer. The board authorized several improvements among which were the keeping of a man at the pumping plant all the time and the building of a small house for such purpose. A new pump will also be installed.

To Open Pool Hall

J. D. Rogers Purchases Pool Hall Equipment and Will Conduct New Business

J. D. Rogers has purchased the fixtures and equipment of the Idle-hour pool hall and cigar store, which has occupied the rand Central building since the first of the year.

Mr. Rogers will move the entire equipment to the building now occupied by Rogers and Doolittle, and will conduct a business of pool hall, cigar store and news stand in the future. Mr. Doolittle will move his jewelry fixtures to McGillivray's drug store, where he will conduct his business.

Irrigation Bill Passes

the auto money be spent on the western roads.

Multnomah county brought great pressure to bear to have the state bonded for $7,000,000 or thereabouts for a road system. It would be the proper way to get good roads and the automobiles would pay the interest, but bonds were unpopular with this legislature and this too will slide into oblivion for two years.

Irrigationists were strongly in evidence and many were the individual propositions put up to the committees. Fortunately both committees were headed by men thoroughly conversant with irrigation law, and it appears as though a good bill had been enacted.

A hot fight came up before the committee with the North Unit project in Central Oregon. Wets and drys were anxious for legislation to beat the other.

Malheur county was represented by a large number of interested irrigationists: C. W. Mallett, R. H. DeArmond, Judge George E. Davis, and John Rigby, of the Willow-Alder district were on hand.

The objections of Mr. Mallett to the law were of a minor character and were amply cared for in the different sections. The law, if it passes as it stood when reported by the committee, is the best irrigation law of all the arid states.

Percy Cupper, of the state engineer's office, has given the law a great amount of his time and Engineer Lauergaard, chairman of the House committee, spent much time in perfecting the details.

Freak legislation culminated in the Anti Cigarette bill, which prohibited grown men from smoking these deadly poisons, and Crandall's bill making it a felony to get drunk. The first was amended and the latter killed.

A tremendous lot of bills have been enacted and if everyone is not satisfied it is because they were not on hand with bills.

Small Bills Take Much Time.

Most of the appropriation bills of the session also were passed this week. Of course, there is also a mass of other bills. Most are of only local importance, while many are not even that. But these little dinky bills seem to take up more time than the big ones and they may be depended on to crowd the work to the final hour.

Licenses Raised to $1.50

H. L. Gray and other local sportsmen early this week received word from the state game warden, Carl D. Shoemaker, advising them that there was no certainty to the success of the measures recommended by the Vale association, whereupon the local people got busy with telegrams to their representatives. Later word was received that the measures passed the house with a large majority. The chief matter of importance was the raising of fishing and hunting licenses to $1.50, which will raise sufficient funds for a more effective patrol of the state, as well as the continuation of fish propagation and the upkeep of the state game farm.

School Notes

Carlton, who teaches the Sheaville school, writes that eighteen inches of snow and severe cold have made it difficult for his pupils to attend regularly. Other teachers make similar reports.

The open-book plan of conducting the eighth grade examinations has been abandoned and, beginning with the May examinations, the old plan will be followed. The open-book plan was an experiment to find out what kind of instruction was being given the children in these subjects. It was found that most of them were not able to use their texts as reference books without copying pages of material just as the author gave it. The plan works well with older students.

Examinations in four eighth grade subjects will be required for graduation from the eighth grade this spring. In other words, no exemptions will be granted in arithmetic, grammar, spelling and history. The reason for this is the low grades made by the pupils in these subjects. last spring, in several schools where a good many exemptions were allowed and pupils were required to write in a few subjects only, low grades were the result. In the Nyssa schools where no exemptions were asked for and the pupils were working to pass the examinations, every pupil in the eighth grade passed in every subject. Pupils who are well prepared are not afraid of an examination and the average child does not suffer when two entire days are given to the work.

Valley View will have a school rally Friday, February 23. An all day meeting with the forenoon spent in observing school work, the noon hour in enjoying a basket dinner and the afternoon in discussing the school and community needs is the program arranged by Mrs. Dunn and Miss Forbes teachers.

Splendid writing specimens have been received by Mae Murphy, John McDonald, Everett Pearson, Donald McDonald and Lane McDonald of Beulah and Carl Gunderson, Elmo Dickerson, Asie Gunderson and Mervin Dickerson of District No. 4.

Mr. George A. Hooker has been teaching in the Park school since before the holidays. He was employed to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. Chamberlain.

Supt. McDade reports that Brogan will enter the County Declamatory Contest to be held in Ontario, March 31.

The Executive Committee of the Oregon Teachers Monthly are making a vigorous campaign for new members and offer a year's subscription to the Oregon Teachers Monthly, now the official organ of the Association, and a year's membership in the Association for $1.50. When the Association enrollment reaches the four or five thousand mark such a body of teachers will become a real power in Oregon, and can do much toward moulding public opinion and influencing legislation that is beneficial to the schools of the State. Your help is needed by the Association and you need the Association and the only school publication in Oregon, the Oregon Teachers Monthly. Send your $1.50 to the Secretary, E. D. Ressler, Corvallis, and help the good work along.

Government Wool Car

ity of the Australian method of shearing, tying, grading and sorting wool, over the American methods, are clearly shown and explained.

"If you are interested in sheep, wool, cloth or anything pertaining to the sheep industry, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity," says O. D. Center, extension director of the University of Idaho who has the car. "There isn't a single object in the car, or a minute spent in inspecting it, that is disinteresting or uninstructive."

M. O. Evans, Jr., of the O. A. C. Extension Service, was in Vale Thursday making arrangements for the Wool demonstration car which is to be in Vale next Monday. Vale is the only stop the car will make in Malheur or Harney counties and a large attendance from the entire interior is expeced.

Free Films, Too.

In addition to the exhibit in the car there are two reels of educational films known as "Lambs From Range to Market" and "From Wool to Cloth" that will be shown as extras at the Rex Theatre at the Monday afternoon program.

This exhibit, and the pictures shown at the Rex are free.

"Men in charge of the car will be glad to explain every feature and answer all questions," says Professor Center. "Come out and learn more in one hour about sheep, wool, and the sheep industry than you could by a week's study elsewhere.

"There is something of interest and of educational value to sheepmen especially. Then there is an abundance of interesting information of equal value to the professional man, the housewife, the student and the pupils of the public schools."

MANY FILINGS MUST BE AMENDED

With But Few Exceptions 640 Homestead Filings Made Before This Week Must Be Amended.

Register Thos. Jones of the U. S. Land Office at Vale gave out the statement that most of the applications under the new 640 acre homestead law filed previous to the receipt of specified requirements will have to be amended. However present filings will hold for short time.

The following circular explains in detail. The clause in black face type is the only one that the local officials did not require, which omission was made in all the offices in the state.

Circular No. 524.

Imperfect Applications and Petitions Under Act of December 29, 1916

Department of the Interior,
General Land Office,
Washington, D. C., Jan. 27, 1917

Registers and Receivers,
United States Land Offices.

Sirs: Because of the fact that the approved forms have not heretofore been available, appliactions filed under the act of December 29, 1916, are doubtless imperfect.

Unless applications heretofore or hereafter filed contain substantially the allegations prescribed in the approved forms, you will reject them, subject to the right, for 30 days from notice, to make proper amendment or to appeal.

In cases where such appliactions are executed on the forms prescribed for making entry under the enlarged-homestead law, they can be amended by filing the following:

I hereby consent to the amendment of my applicaion to make homestead entry for (here describe land) by the insertion therein of the following:

"Application made subject to the reservation to the United States of all coal and other minerals in the land, together with the right to prospect for, mine, and remove the same, as provided by the act of December 29, 1916, (Public, No. 290)."

I do solemnly swear that the land applied for does not contain any water hole or other body of water needed or used by the public for watering purposes, and that the land is chiefly valuable for grazing and raising forage crops.

The affidavit must be executed before an officer authorized to administer oaths in public-land cases, and must be corroborated by the affidavits of two witnesses, similarly executed.

The preferable method of amending an imperfect application is by the execution of a new application on an approved form. If this is done, care should be exercised to plainly mark the reexecuted application "Supplemental."

However, Circular No. 523 requires applicants in certain cases to supplement their applications by additional affidavits. Nothing herein contained is intended to in any way modify those requirements.

Should an imperfect application show that applicant is not qualified to make the entry applied for, you will disregard the defects and reject the application, subject to the usual right of appeal.

Doubtless many petitions for designation have been filed which fail to make the showing required by the regulations set forth in Circular No. 523. You will, therefore, forward to such petitioners, by ordinary mail (unless you are making other requirements by registered mail), a copy hereof, together with a copy of said Circular No. 523, which will thus constitute a notice that the petition therefore filed will not be forwarded to this office until the expiration of 30 days from the mailing of the circulars during which time he will be allowed to file an amended petition, making the showing required by the regulations. You will, after the lapse of 30 days from the mailing of the circulars, if no response is received (provided the application to make entry is in all respects regular), forward the original petition, noting thereon the following:

(Date) Circulars mailed.
(Date) No action taken.

Attach Form 4-007d to the face of all petitions for designation before forwarding.

Very respectfully,
Clay Tallman, Commissioner.
