If Roosevelt couldn't bear to have a Mississippi steamer outrun the one he was riding on without punishing the doughty captain, what punishment would he impose on one who would outrun him in a Presidential race.

After riding down the Mississippi with the President, Gov. Curry, of New Mexico, states that Roosevelt will accept the nomination if it is "forced" upon him. This virtually means that Roosevelt will be the Republican nominee for President in 1903.

Tony Noltner.

Tony Noltner, a veteran newspaper man of Oregon died in Portland Oct. 8th, having been failing for some time. In 1859 he was associated with Jas. H. Slater, after U. S. Senator, in publishing a paper in Corvallis, and later on was a partner with Joaquin Miller in the Eugene, which for awhile, during the war, was denied the mails until its secesh policies were moderated. Tony Noltner was known by all old Oregonians, and was a genial companion, an open fighter and an able fearless writer of more than ordinary ability. Slowly but surely the old pioneers are falling behind the curtain which rises not again.

Before a fair or race meet can become much of a success in the Coquille valley, more advertising (gratuitous or otherwise) and more careful reporting must be done by the local press than was done at the recent meet at Arago, and a little more thoughtful decision by the judges would not be out of order. The racing on the 4th and 5th inst. was not reported at all by one of the local papers—another got but one event in the two days correct and in this did not state the time or distance, and a third while giving a more full account, had the time in one or two events down to world's record. The running of the consolation race before the program had been carried out and allowing a horse to enter it that was the fastest racer on the grounds, together with debarring a horse for fouling after his winning the race with ease without protecting his backers, are not features that tend to make a race-meet popular with a public that enjoys a clean, fascinating sport.

We recently received a letter from an old friend, in the sunset of life, conveying to us the sad news of the death of his wife. Among other beautiful things he says: "My domestic enjoyment has perhaps been as near perfection as the human condition permits. She made my home the pleasantest spot to me on earth. And now that she is gone, my worldly loss is perfect." How many poor fellows would be saved from the penitentiary and the gallows and from suicide, every year, had they been blessed with such a wife. "She made my home the pleasantest spot to me on earth." What a grand tribute to that woman's love, and piety and common sense. How different the testimony of an old man recently hung for murdering his wife, whose last words before dropping into eternity were: "I did not intend to kill my wife, but she was a very aggravating woman." Let each wife who reads this ask herself "which am I?"—Crescent City News.

The Renewal a Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kinds of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Editor TRIBUNE:—The ways of the Idaho Grafters have been devious enough, but not altogether past finding out. It will be remembered that, immediately following the indictment of Borah and twelve others for timber stealing, a hue and cry was raised against Federal prosecutor Ruick for alleged misconduct in presenting said indictments. Two solemn and circumstantial affidavits were secured and taken to Washington by Borah and laid before the Department of Justice, which, of course, was compelled to institute a searching investigation. To this end Chief of Detectives Wilkie was sent out, and a special grand jury empanneled, to investigate prosecutor Ruick, which, after a tedious session, returned a report wholly exonerating Ruick, and indicting the two affiants against him for perjury!

An indictment for perjury was also returned against the man Wallace who had sworn that attorney Miller of the Haywood defense had stated that the Western Federation had spent $15,000 to secure Borah's indictment!

Of course these three poor wretches had been bribed by Millionaire Malefactors to commit this perjury, and it will be a strange if they do not, before they have been long in the penitentiary, expose the whole conspiracy.

As is usual when the Oregonian for notorious falsehood of statement to follow where its prejudice or interest leads, that paper repeatedly stated in its efforts to discredit Ruick's work in connection with the indictments he secured, that he is a Democrat. This in the face of the great improbability that President Roosevelt had appointed a Democrat to fill that responsible office.

In its criminal anxiety to fasten the murder of Harvey Brown upon the Western Federation of Miners and to exculpate the gambling and saloon fraternity of Baker City from blame in the premises, it will be remembered that the Oregonian, in a leading editorial, recited many "facts" tending to disclose a motive on the part of the miners to dispose of poor Brown. Among the "facts" recited were these:

That Brown had "run down" Steve Adams;

That he was to be a witness against Pettibone;

That he had, in fear of assassination, largely increased his life insurance. The truth later developed, was that Brown was to have been a witness for the defense in the Pettibone case;

That it was directly after his second election as Sheriff that he took out his large additional insurance, and long before he had had anything to do with the Steunenburg murder cases; this latter fact his widow discloses in the life insurance adjusters who visited her last week.

A falsehood uncontradicted finally takes on the semblance of truth, which fact is my apology for obtruding upon readers the above statement of facts, to the end that the character of innocent people be not irretrievably blackened by falsehood avouched by a "great newspaper."

R. D. Hume Making Contest of State License Law.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct., 8.—Eleven canneries and seven cold storage plants are being operated during the present season on the various streams along the Oregon coast. The canneries are as follows: Prosper Canning company, Coquille river; William Kyle & Son, Siuslaw; F. C. Barnes, Yaquina; Elmore Packing company, Nestucca, Nehalem, Tillamook, Umpqua, Alsea and Siletz; R. D. Hume Rogue river. The Cold storage plants are: Englebr Wiese, Coos Bay; Elmore Packing company, Tillamook, Umpqua, Alsea and Siletz; William Kyle & Son, Siuslaw; R. D. Hume, Rogue river.

All of the plants have secured licenses excepting those operated by Hume, who is contesting the law. He was arrested for running his plants during the Spring Season without first having obtained licenses, and on August 27 he was found guilty and fined $500 by Judge Hamilton of the Circuit Court for Curry county. He has, however, appealed the case to the State Supreme Court on the ground that the law is unconstitutional. In the meantime, evidence is being secuted by Deputy Warden Wilson and the Sheriff of Curry county, and under instructions from the State Fisheries Board Hume is to be arrested and prosecuted on a separate charge for every day that he operates either his cannery or cold storage plant during the Fall season without first securing a license.—Oregonian.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, in reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and depondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

CLE ELUM, Wash., Oct. 8.—Pinned under a log and either unable to bear the terrible pain or fearing that even if rescued he would be a helpless cripple for life, Claude Harkness, 30 years old, pulled a knife from his pocket and cut his throat. Several hours later his lifeless body was found by his uncle, Marion Harkness, who was in the timber with him. How long the unfortunate man cried for help will never be known. The ground was torn up at the place where he was found and tells the mute story of the awful fight he made to free himself before he decided to take his life.

Harkness was working on a big timber when it rolled over and pinioned him. His limbs were crushed to the thighs and doctors assert it is doubtful if he would have bleed had he been rescued alive. It is their opinion he struggled violently until he felt that his strength was leaving him, and then committed suicide.

TRESPASS NOTICE.
