COUNTY FINANCES.

The following are the amounts received and expended July 1st, 1886 to July 1st. 1887:

Taxes	$60,823.83.
Liquor licenses	1,250.00.
Trial fees	627.03.
Receipts from other sources	727.20.
Total receipts	63,473.06.
EXPENDITURES:
School fund	$11,284.99.
State tax paid	5,730.54.
County warrants issued	43,428.46.
Total	60,443.99.

The cost of keeping the county poor from Sept. 8th, 1886 to Sept. 8th, 1887 was $3,068.72., and at least $10,000 was paid as bounty for squirrel scalps. This is not a bad showing for the present administratioh of our county. We feel satisfied that as a county our finances are not in a bad state. Our warrants are worth from 95 cts. to 97½ cts. and there is no desire to part with them even at those figures. True, this does not show the financial condition of the county; but owing to the fact that in November a full and complete exhibit will be made by the clerk, we have taken only the receipts and expenditures.

[illegible] fishes for everybody exactly what is claimed for it. One of the reasons for the great popularity of the Mustang Liniment is found in its universal applicability. Everybody needs such a medicine. The Lumberman needs it in case of accident. The Housewife needs it for general family use. The Canaler needs it for his teams and his men. The Mechanic needs it always on his work bench.

Miner needs it in case of emergency.

Pioneer needs it—can't get along without it.

Farmer needs it in his house, his stable, his stock yard.

Steamboat man or the Boatman needs it. Liberal supply afloat and ashore.

Horse-fancier needs it—it is his best friend and safest reliance.

The Stock-grower needs it—it will save him thousands of dollars and a world of trouble.

Nervous Exhaustion.

A Few Useful Hints For Nervous People.

"I am so nervous" is a very common expression, used by both old and young; and very few can now be found who are free from nervous troubles. We regret to see that the malady is rapidly increasing. And from what cause? There are various reasons. It may be because of a low condition of the general health; the vitility of the nervous system is depressed; or from a want of perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the vitilizing power of pure, rich blood, the nerves are not properly strengthened and nourshed, and consequently become weak and diseased.

There was a time when "nervousness," and that class of disease known as nervous affections, were apparently confined to ladies; but at the present day it is an undoubted fact that as large a portion of nervous diseases exist among men as among the gentler sex; and their distressing effects and lasting and enervating results are a thousand fold more serious, as they extend to posterity and are productive of a weakened and enfeebled race. Nervous and physical debility, caused by

Exhausted Vitality

is a frequent and distressing disease, its depressing influence being felt alike on both sexes and all ages. Among the first symptoms of this affection are usually a derangement of the digestive organs. A feeling of languor will be experienced, and a gradual falling of strength, with general weakness and pain in the back. More or less exhaustation is experienced on waking in the morning. There is often a bad taste in the mouth; the vision becomes dim, the memory is impaired, and the patient is troubled with frequent dizziness. Persons thus affected are often despondant, and suffer from gloom and depression of the mind. The nerves become so weakened that the least excitement or shock brings on a tremor or trembling, often attended by palpitation of the heart.

LADIES

Are particularly susceptible to nervous disorders, owing partly to their more delicate nervous organization and partly to their sedentary life and consequent confinement in-doors. Such affections are attended by restlessness and nervous excitement, anxiety or depression of the mind, loss of interest in society and the daily affairs of life. There is also loss of sleep; the patient on rising in the morning, feeling tired, languid and unrefreshed. From slight nervous attacks to hysteria, from simple "nervousness" to utter prostration, there are many and varied forms of diseases of the nervous system none of which should exist, and of all of which can be cured by the use of
