After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

A dose that is always seasonable is a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator, the "King of Liver Medicines." It keeps the liver active; the bowels regular; prevents biliousness; and promotes digestion. Religious services and entertainments in Heppner are nearly always disturbed by a lot of rude boys who think themselves men, but who, from the point of politeness and manliness, lack a great deal of it. It is a burning shame that this is allowed to go on uninterrupted. Anyone who goes out in public should behave, and it is nothing to their credit when they fail to do so.

It is a common occurrence in Heppner for young boys—almost young men, in fact—and who ought to be gentlemen, to use vulgar language in the presence of young girls. The Gazette is always a friend to young people, when they behave and do what is right, but it proposes to unmercifully score the next perpetrator of this dirty work. Parents ought not and will not stand it.

"Old, yet ever new, and simple and beautiful ever," sings the poet, in words which might well apply to Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the most efficient and scientific blood-purifier ever offered to suffering humanity. Nothing but superior merit keeps it so long at the front.

SUICIDED.—Geo. Haywood, a native of England, shot himself last Friday, producing instant death. Deceased was a peculiar sort of a man, but was always considered sane. It appears that a boy was stopping with him, and on the day of the suicide sent him away on some pretense. On returning, the boy found the cabin locked, and bursting the door open found that Haywood had killed himself with a shotgun, blowing the top of his head off. Deceased was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and family in England.
