San Francisco or Portland.

Crook county is situated on the medial line which divides the territory tributary to Portland from that naturally tributary to San Francisco. Portland has heretofore been able to overcome this natural traffic boundary and has held a large share of the trade as far south as the California line, and with proper management might continue to do so indefinitely. As some one has remarked before, Eastern Oregon has boundless resources and its trade in the future will be an important factor in the prosperity of some trade center, Portland or San Francisco.

For years Portland has been content that the O. R. & N. and the Oregon Short Line partly encircled this vast region, leaving the interior untouched by rail. Not only content but it has actually discouraged and thrown obstacles in the way of the construction of railroads whose object was to penetrate the interior, as instance, the old O. P., now the C. E. road. Now when Portland apparently realizes its error, it find that others have a coveteous eye on what she has held so long in spite of herself, and she is almost frantically trying to awaken an interest in the building of railroads that shall be tributary to her. These efforts are not futile. In fact they have been too far-reaching. San Francisco has awakened and is now taking a hand by trying to block the southward progress of the Columbia Southern, and with it the Dalles Southern, while holding the C. & E. up through the influence of the Southern Pacific, until such a time as a road may be built northward from Reno, Nev., or from some point in Northern California. Several indications point to the correctness of these conclusions. In the first place, Charles Altschul, the owner of the W. V. & C. M. wagon road lands, which lie in an unbroken chain across central Eastern Oregon from the Cascade mountains on the west to the Snake river on the east, is a resident of San Francisco, and the plaintiff in the land suit brought against the Columbia Southern and supposed to be the real instigator of all the preceding ones. He wants his land made tributary to his own city and state.

Again, the Pilot Butte Development Company, operating at Bend, have already invested large sums of money there and are going ahead on plans that will involve the expenditure of at least a million of money. These expenditures up to the present time are wholly unwarranted except upon one of two hypothises. Either the men who furnish the money are fanciful and visionary to the verge of foolishness or they have complete assurance of the early completion of a railroad to that point. We cannot concede the former hypothises, for all any one else conversant with these gentlemen. They have been and are now prominent in eastern railroad circles, and among successful business men whose advice is not given without solid foundation of fact as a basis of action.

From all we can learn th's company's chief reliance is not upon any railroad leading to Portland or the Willamette valley but upon one from a totally different direction. To sum the matter up, it may not be illogical to say that if Portland wants the trade of Eastern, Central and Southern Oregon and further it she desires to strengthen the weakening tie that loosely holds Eastern and Western Oregon together as a whole instead of further alienating their interests it is high time for her to be stirring rather than TALKING railroads.

The Arid Land Act.

The following is the bill now pending in the legislature and which will probably become a law:

Section 2. Upon application made as hereinafter provided, by any person, company of persons, associations or incorporated company desiring to reclaim any of the desert government lands of this state, it shall be the duty of the State Land Board to make proper application for the land which said applicant undertakes to reclaim, and enter into contract with the Secretary of the Interior for the donation and patent to the state free of cost for surveying or price of such desert lands. Said State Land Agent is hereby authorized to enter into such contracts and agreements, and create and assume such obligations in relation to and concerning such lands as may be necessary to induce and cause such reclamation thereof as is required by the contract with the Secretary of the Interior and the acts of congress, and is empowered and authorized to create a lien or liens which when created shall be valid on and against the separate legal subdivisions of land reclaimed, for the actual cost and necessary expense of reclamation and reasonable interest thereon from the date of reclamation until said lien shall have been satisfied; provided, that in no event, in no contingency and under no circumstances shall the state of Oregon be in any manner directly or indirectly liable for any amount of any such lien or liability in whole or in part.

Section 3. Any person or incorporated company desiring to enter into contract to reclaim, as required by the acts granting such lands to the state, any tract of desert government land in this state, shall file with the State Land Board an application for a contract to reclaim said tract. Said applicant is hereby authorized and required, on behalf of the state, but at his own expense and without any cost or charge whatever to the state, to make the necessary surveys, prepare a map of the said land proposed to be irrigated, which shall exhibit a plan showing the mode of the contemplated irrigation and which plan shall be sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim said land and prepare it to raise ordinary agricultural crops, and shall also show the source of the water to be used for irrigation and reclamation, which map shall be duly verified and in all requirements of the Secretary of the Interior, and shall be accompanied by a list in triplicate of the land selected, designated as required by the regulations governing such selections, and a sum sufficient to pay the necessary land office fees for the selection of said lands. There shall also be submitted by said applicant a statement of the amount of water available for the plan of irrigation and other data and information required by the Secretary of the Interior, and when the canals and reservoirs required by the plan of irrigation cross public lands not selected by the state, he shall file separately an application for right of way over such lands, under sections 18 to 21 of act March 3, 1891, (26 Stat., 1095) in accordance with the regulations under said act it being intended hereby to authorize and require the applicant for a contract to do and perform all things necessary to be done to enable the State Land Agent to select these lands without cost to the state. Said application for a contract shall contain an estimate of the cost of the construction of the proposed system of irrigation and of the annual cost of the maintenance of the same.

Sec. 4 Upon receipt of the application, map, plan of irrigation, payment, etc., as provided in section 3 of this act, the State Land Board shall enter into a contract with the said person or incorporated company applying therefore, for the construction of the works substantially according to the plans submitted. Under said contract, the person or incorporated company entering into the same shall undertake to furnish an ample supply of water, substantially in accordance with the plans submitted, to reclaim said lands in compliance with the act granting the same to the state, and to make the proofs required by the Secretary of the Interior for the issuance of patent, and to pay all cost of advertising, and other expenses incident to such proof and application for patent. Said person or incorporated company shall further undertake that work will be commenced upon the ditches or other work necessary for the reclamation of said lands within six months after the signing of the contract by the Secretary of the Interior, that by the end of the first year 10 per cent of the necessary expenditures will be made, and that this work will be prosecuted with due diligence until complete, and the proof of reclamation is made, as required by acts of congress. The State Land Board shall, by said contract, fix the amount due the person or incorporated company, for the reclamation of said land and the annual charge for the maintenance of the irrigation system, and create a lien which shall be valid on and against the separate legal subdivisions of the land reclaimed and interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date of reclamation until said lien shall have been satisfied.

Sec. 5 So soon as any contract shall have been made by the person or incorporated company for the reclamation of any tract of land, the State Land Agent shall make proper application for said lands and for a contract from the Secretary of the Interior, binding the United States to donate, patent to the state, free of cost for survey or price, such desert lands, and upon completion of the reclamation required by the act granting such lands to the state, he shall file in the local land office a list of such lands to which shall be affixed a certificate of the presiding officer of the State Land Board, or any other officer of the state, who may be charged with the duty of disposing of the lands which the state may obtain under the law, and followed by the affidavit of the person authorized to superintend the reclamation of the lands.

Section 7 provides that if any contract or fails to complete their work, the State Land Board shall sell the incompleted work after advertising to the highest bidder.

Sec. 8 The right to the use of water for irrigation of any tract or subdivision of lands reclaimed under the provisions of this act shall be one and perpetually remain appurtenant thereto, subject however, to the annual maintenance charges and to the proper and reasonable rules and regulations adopted for the irrigation system under and by which the said land has been reclaimed.

Sec. 9 Any person who has reclaimed any tract of not more than 160 acres of desert land under contract with the State Land Board as herein provided, and who is a citizen of the United States, or has declared his intention to become such, and has made actual settlement on said land, as required by the act granting such lands to the state, shall be entitled to a deed to the land so reclaimed to an amount not exceeding 160 acres, in full satisfaction of his lien on said lands and of all claim or demand for his cost or expense in reclaiming said land. When any number of citizens occupying any desert lands as actual settlers as required by the act granting such lands to this state shall have unitedly, as a company of persons, association or incorporated company, reclaimed the lands so occupied and settled upon, under contract with the State Land Agent as herein provided each of said persons shall be entitled to a deed from the state for the lands occupied by him not to exceed 160 acres to each settler in full satisfaction of all claim for cost and expenses in reclaiming said land, provided the organization which was the party to the contract with the State Land Board for the reclamation of said lands shall have first satisfied the lien or liens created on said lands by the State Land Agent in said contract.

Sec. 10 Any citizen desiring to purchase any unsold quarter section of desert land on which there is a lien for the cost of reclamation shall pay to the holder of said lien such proportion of the amount of the entire lien as the true value of the tract desired bears to the true value of the whole tract subject to the liens. "Provided, that the State Land Board having control of these lands shall designate the proportion of the amount of the entire lien which the desired tract bears to the whole tract subject to the lien." Thereupon the holder of said lien shall release the tract so paid for from the lien and the purchaser shall be entitled to settle upon said tract and it shall be the duty of the State Land Board to deed the tract to the purchaser without further payment.

Section 11 provides that the deeds given by the board under this act shall be by quit claim, and shall convey only such title as the state may have.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief; such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day, and if I was rich I would give $100.00 for such movement; it is such a relief." AYLMER L. HUNT, 139 Russell St., Detroit, Mich.
