D. G. Rogers, of Culver, was visiting in town the first of the week. Dave says the warm weather has played havoc with the crops in the Haystack and Madras section. About half a crop is the verdict he gives.

J. H. Gray had the misfortune while riding horse back last week to have his horse step in a badger hole and fall with him. In the fall Mr. Gray's left foot was caught and his ankle badly wrenched. He came to town and had an examination made and to secure treatment. At present he is able to be around with the aid of crutches, but it will be some time before he has the full use of his ankle.

W. J. Wright was in town Monday on his way home to Summit Prairie from Portland, where he has been the past month with his wife who is at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland securing medical treatment. Mr. Wright says that his wife was much improved in health when he left and would be able to return in another week or two.

The witnesses from Prineville and Crook county who were in attendance at the Williamson-Gesner-Biggs trial the first time had in the most part just returned home and were figuring on a good rest from the trip when they were waited upon by the deputy United States Marshall and invited to again appear before the Federal Court. They all accepted the invitation, but——?

Mrs. H. P. Belknap accompanied by Miss Grace Belknap returned home Friday from a visit to Portland and the Fair. Miss Belknap, who has been attending King's Conservatory of Music at Los Angeles, will visit with relatives and friends in this city until August 1st, when she will return to school from whence she will graduate in December.

A traveling doctor called at a farm house and asked to be kept over night. The good old farmer, who was suffering from a big boil on the back of his neck, granted the weary traveler the request. Before retiring the learned man recommended the gold cure for the farmer's troublesome boil. The good wife—good crops and fortune had smiled on the tiller of the soil—dug up a $20 gold piece. The farmer applied the remedy according to the directions, by briskly rubbing the gold piece over the boil for some minutes, after which he laid the twenty on the table. The boil got easy in the night and the old farmer slept soundly, and to his amazement the next morning it was gone; and so was the doctor.—Ex.

From Our Exchanges

Madras Pioneer

Frank Osborne is looking after the Madras drugstore while Dr. and Mrs. Snook are in Portland.

Max Putz, of the Madras Milling & Mercantile Co., has returned from Mitchell and is busy getting the machinery of the mill in place.

L. E. Allingham was in town on Monday, from the Derham & Cowles sawmill. He began yesterday driving logs down the Matoles to the mill, about a million feet being in the Matoles at this time. Mr. Allingham will get out about two million feet more during the present Summer.

Work on the free well was commenced last week, and a good flow of water was struck at a depth of between 15 and 20 feet. The well is being dug on land donated by the Madras Townsite Company, the farmers of the vicinity agreeing to furnish the labor and the business men of the town subscribing to a fund for supplying the necessary pumping apparatus. The new well is just south of the John Isham well.

The petition for a new mail route, between this place and Heisler, has been forwarded to the postal department through Mr. Vaille, the superintendent of star mail routes in this state. The petition had a large number of signers and it is likely that favorable action will be taken at an early date. The only hindrance to the prompt creation of this route is the fact that a portion of it would be compelled to go through private property. An effort is being made to remedy this, through a petition to the county court for the creation of a county road, and the matter will probably come before the next county court.

Teachers' Examinations.

Notice is hereby given that the county superintendent of Crook county will hold the regular examination of applicants for state and county papers at Prineville, as follows:
