The K. of P. Fair will be something great Nov. 23, 24, 25.

George W. Bradly has bought the moving picture show on Jersey street.

P. J. Peterson was home from McMinnville to vote and shake hands with his old friends this week.

Loyal Temperance Legion will meet at the Christian Tabernacle Sunday evening at four o'clock. Everybody welcome.

The Pacific monthly grows continuously better and larger. The November number is a splendid production of literature and the printers' art.

The Baptist Glory class will give a taffy pull on Wednesday evening, Oct. 11. A pleasant time is anticipated. Ethel E. Crosby, class reporter.

The street cleaning crew is doing a fine job in cleaning up the streets, making them look neat. Just the thing for the beginning of the winter season.

Two applications for franchise for street railway before the city council of Hood River indicates that that city will be using the trololley cars in the near future.

Note the Buckbee advertisement in another column and if you need garden seeds, bulbs or plants we know that you will find Mr. Buckbee a reliable seedsman to deal with.

Leave your renewals and subscriptions for the Ladies Home Journal with me. Beautiful gift announcement with the Christmas number. Nothing better for a Christmas present. Glenn Taylor, at Tea Store.

The U. S. pure food and drug inspector on a recent visit gave us an average of 100 per cent for pure drugs. That's the secret of our success in prescription filling. St. Johns Pharmacy.

George L. Perrine, the champion of socialism, came home Friday night and returned to his work in Washington state Saturday. He came home to figure on the placing of the new boilers in the St. Johns Lumber company's mill.

Miss Cynthia Plasket is a new employee in the furniture establishment of H. F. Clark. Miss Plasket is a very efficient, pleasant little lady and will prove a great help to Mr. Clark. She came from Faribault Minn., two years ago.

Miss Perkins goes this week to Dallas where she enters the college for a musical course. Her sister is teaching in the college and lives with the family of Mr. Metzger, stepfather of Rev. Gates. Miss Perkins will live with her sister.

J. E. Kirk, the old reliable real-estate man has returned to his old love, St. Johns. You cannot keep a good man away. Mr. Kirk went to Ronan, Mont., about a year ago; but that country is not Oregon and Ronan is not St. Johns, therefore we have the pleasure of welcoming Mr. Kirk back home again.

Ed Hurlbert returned this week from his trip to the east and reports having contracted with some eastern factories for the manufacture of his patent double headed salt and pepper shake. The company expects to start in the near future a factory here on a modest scale. Mr. Hurlbert reports everything flattering in the future prospects of his company.

Business seems to be booming in the bakery business. The Home Bakery changed hands twice last week. The first deal was when Ray Bullis, purchased the bakery from Mrs. Socey. Ray kept the place just two days and sold to W. W. Raser, the old reliable Clackamas member of our late city council. We are glad to welcome brother Raser back again, and believe that he will make more money if he stops right here in St. Johns than to do as he has been solicited to do, move elsewhere. We hope that he will see it that way himself. Mr. Raser recently traded his Clackamas farm for a fine property at Peninsular and will move over this week.

Mrs. Marcellus was a very pleasant caller Wednesday. She has moved to the corner of Montieth and West Charleston where she is boarding with her friend Miss Nellie Brown. Mrs. Marcellus is an old friend of Mr. Chafin, the candidate for president on the prohibition ticket, Mrs. Chafin having been a pupil in her Sunday school class before she married Mr. Chafin. Mrs. Marcellus says when Mr. Chafin first entered the Methodist church and would respond to a call during the exercises about all that he could say was "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." But when she heard him when he was in Portland recently she could see a wonderful development of the man and was proud to own him as a friend.

Just wait for the K. of P. Coons days fair, November 23, 24 and 25. Nov. 23-24-25.

An especially interesting program is now on the boards at the electric theatre. Go and see it.

The four applications for liquor licenses were tabled pending a written opinion from the city attorney.

Remember the football game this afternoon. The young lads should receive your encouragement. It will make you ten years younger to see the fun.

"The Great Election," will be Pastor Bentzein's topic at the Baptist church Sunday night. His morning subject will be "The Grace of Keeping Sweet."

Half of the money has been paid in on the Willis boulevard extension and the council is in hopes it will all be paid in before it becomes necessary to use coercive measures.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bolton go today to Tigardville, where Mr. Bolton has a ranch. Mrs. S. B. Sprague, Mrs. Bolton's mother, accompanies them. We are indeed sorry to see these good people leave St. Johns and hope they may find it profitable to return in the near future. They are relatives of our good friend, Mrs. Marcellus.

The Odd Fellows made Harry York and his young bride happy Tuesday by sending to his home on North Edison street a fine couch, and 18 or 20 of the boys went down to his residence after lodge that night to wish him and his mate a prosperous, happy life and to make a formal presentation of the couch in the name of the members of Laurel Lodge I.O.O.F.

W. C. North of the assessor's office was in the city yesterday shaking hands with his friends here and jollying up those who lost on Bryan. He thinks Sam Downey's hat rack looks like a busted community and the most lonesome place in town. You see Sam bet about a dozen Stetsons on Bryan and ordered a fine hat rack to hang them on after election; but BB. wasn't of heavy enough caliber and the pegs of Sammie's hat rack stand out as solitarily as the old barkless stumps in a forest burn.
