Under the Knife

Of the surgeon there is no more acute suffering than the people endure every day with Rheumatism. Distorted and withered limbs mark its ravages everywhere. Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy for Rheumatism has a remarkable record of cures—not only relieving the pain, but restoring all the functions of the crippled limbs. There is no reason for anyone to suffer longer, when this wonderful remedy affords such certain relief. If your druggist has not got it, write to the Drummond Medicine Co., 48 50 Maiden Lane, New York. Agents wanted.

Hall's Hair Renewer enjoys the confidence and patronage of people all over the civilized world who use it to restore and keep the hair a natural color.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

HALLOWEEN.—The eve of All Saints day will soon be upon us. The present mode of celebrating it is so much at variance with the early custom that we call attention to it. In early times the occasion was made one of charming social enjoyment, especially among young men and women. No writer has so happily touched upon this early custom as has Robert Burns in his "Halloween." But at this day the celebration of this festival has descended to the lowest type of criminal mischief, and it is high time it is checked, as it neither stands for "All Hallow," or good morals. The contrast is disgusting. The present mode is to steal something, yard gates, anything that can be carried off, secreted or destroyed, so that the owner may never recover his property, or if recovered at all, by great trouble and often expense. Stealing is stealing; if done in the name of fun. It is not fun to the man who has lost his property. This mischief, though perpetrated by boys usually, is no less criminal. Last year this mischief was carried on in Oregon City with a high hand and to the disgrace of our city. It is the duty of the police officers to see that this wrong and disgrace is not repeated again this year.

A TRAVELING QUILL DRIVER.—Ira Malin, but a few short autumn days ago proprietor of the Nehalem Times that circulates in the finest belt of timber in the world and boasts a million delinquent subscribers, arrived here last week by a tie-pass from Portland with six bits in his hip pocket and a "two for" look in his meek, beardless face. The young man complained of lameness in his legs and seemed "cooked." He remarked that Nehalem was a "rotten place," and appeared harmless, notwithstanding the Tillamook Advocate observes that "the people of the Nehalem valley had become weary of his bulldozing proclivities and it is presumed that he got out at about the proper moment." Ira is a good boy, a very good boy, for though he hails from Missouri, he never stole a ride in his life, which means that he walked the whole distance.

I. R. BIRT IN TILLAMOOK COUNTY.—The Tillamook Advocate gives "I. R. Birt, president of the Cape Horn Telegraph Company," the following "character:" "We would call the attention of those people interested in this telegraph line to the experience of the Tillamook business men with said I. R. Birt. Those persons who were enterprising enough to contribute to stock in the Bay City and Tillamook telegraph line were let down hard. In short this man is not the proper one to place confidence in and it will be well for Oregon City, Eagle Creek, Currinsville, Springwater, Highland, Molalla and Liberal people if they guard their actions." If the people of the county do business with Mr. Birt on business principles, they can safely give him ample opportunity to establish that he is the honest gentleman he claims to be.

ECKSTORM-HARDY.—Rev. M. Eckstorm, the young rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Oregon City, was at the Union Pacific train Tuesday morning, prompt and wide awake, to meet a young lady of his acquaintance from Chicago, Miss Fanny P. Hardy, to whom a few hours afterward he was united in the bonds of holy matrimony by Bishop Morris in Trinity church. Mr. Eckstorm has been the sole occupant of the Oregon City rectory for some time and all his friends are rejoiced at the good cheer that has thus come to him through his patient waiting.—Oregonian. They came to Oregon City in the afternoon. This (Thursday) evening a reception will be tendered them by the members of St. Paul's church at the Logus residence on Main street.

FIFTH STREET IMPROVEMENT.—About seven blocks of the improvement will be completed by Saturday night, with sidewalks, curb, gutter and gravel. On account of the change in the improvement from gravel full width to a strip in the center a gutter was made necessary. The severe rain of two weeks ago made the hill very soft and work slow at the upper end of the street and also caused some more of the embankment in front of the Broughton property to cave off. If good weather continues another week the improvement will be completed. When the street is in shape there will be considerable travel on this street in preference to Seventh as the grade is less and with the completion of the Mt Pleasant road it will be a well traveled thoroughfare.

THE POPULIST ORGAN.—Another change has been made in the management of the Herald. The following are the incorporators of the new Oregon Herald Publishing Company which will do a general publishing and printing business: E. C. Hamilton, W. H. Spaugh, James Shaw, Geo Ogle, G. R. H. Miller, C. M. Ewing and W. S. U'Ren. The capital stock of the corporation is $2000, divided into 200 shares of $10 each, payable $1 montly. The board of directors, consisting of five members, have power to lease the business to any three men of populist faith if they wish. It is understood that several hundred dollars worth of stock has been taken.

MAIN STREET.—The improvement of Main street under the supervision of the new contractors, Messrs. Behm & Hamshaw, is progressing more rapidly than by the old ones. Last Sunday, if it was rainy, did no stop them, and they have been doing considerable night work besides. The finished portion, from Pope's hall to the Imperial mill, shows off well and when the balance is finished we will have one of the finest streets in the state. The concrete curb and sidewalks are about finished to the Congregational church.

CIRCUIT COURT CASES.—Actions filed since October 19th; James H. Crook shanks against Honora Davoren, Edward E. Howland against Dr. H. W. Ross, I. F. Powers Mfg. Co., against M. K. Shipley, L. O. Kinsey against B. F. Linn and Susan C. Linn, Bernice E. Day against Frank E. Day, Annie A. Dodge against C. S. Dodge, Robbins & Son against Seth Austin. Next week the full docket of cases will appear.

AS QUICK AS LIGHTNING.—There are 500 10-volt dynamos at the electric station which revolve 1350 times a minute and over which the electricity travels the circuit of nearly 70 miles 12 times in each revolution, or 840 miles in each of the 1350 revolutions—1,114,000 miles a minute. No wonder a momentary contact with a "live" wire burns a hole in one's finger.

HUNTER'S CONTEST.—The contest on Tuesday between the two parties of hunters was close, the winning side of which J. P. Lovett was captain, won by but 35 points. The day was not a very fortunate one for most of the sportsmen, a few even returned with no points at all to their credit. The supper, which is to be paid for by the losing side will be given on Friday evening.

EGGS ARE FEW.—The rise in the Clackamas ruined the rack at the hatchery and most of the salmon in the stream took advantage of the opportunity to sneak off to the headwaters to spawn, and in consequence the hatchery has secured only 277,000 eggs instead of the several millions on which Superintendent Hubbard made calculations.

WEST SIDE RAILWAY.—The cars were to arrive yesterday for the Willamette Falls Railway. These cars will be used ballasting that part which was not finished when the road was built. The company is also having its trolley poles painted and getting everything in shape for the early running of cars.

Mr. Nehren, the courthouse janitor, deserves the thanks of those who have been in the habit of tying their horses to the posts near the corner of the courthouse yard, for the walk he has there built now enables one to untie a nag without getting in the mud.

A novel panoramic bird's-eye view of Oregon, drawn by Edgar and Abel Meresse, two pupils of Miss Fannie G. Porter, of the sixth grade, is on exhibition in the window of the store of Messrs. O'Connell & Glass. It shows that Edgar and Abel have artistic talent that is worth cultivating.

The Next Legislature.

The next legislature should not be dominated by Portland ring influence, but the members should represent the people and their wishes. The mortgage tax law should be re-enacted, as well as a carefully guarded exemption for indebtedness clause; the militia appropriation cut down; state fair and capitol expenditures retrenched; extra allowances for the governor and other state officers cut off; the general appropriation bill pruned of its numerous steals and economy and retrenchment made the watchwords of the session.

In addition to this the railroad commission now owned, operated and controlled by by the S. P. Co., should be abolished forever.

The asylum and penitentiary managements should be thoroughly investigated; the books and records of each state office carefully inspected, and the Board of School Land Commissioners made to show how its clerk makes so much money on a comparatively small salary.

The fish and game commissioner should be relegated to private life, instead of being paid a salary for making himself a public nuisance.

This is only a small part of the work to be done by the next legislature, and we enumerate as we have that the voters may realize the importance of sending, not only good and honest men, but energetic workers also, to Salem next year.

If the Portland ring is smashed, the state house ring should be pulverized.—Roseburg Review.

MOLALLA.

Aaron Kline finished his threshing a few days ago.

Owing to heavy rains there has been considerable grain damaged in this vicinity. Old settlers say that there has been more rainfall and earlier snows in the mountains than was ever known before. Some here that had late-sown grain on wet land failed to get it threshed. A few fields are yet uncut.

Joe Harless has moved to town and is now occupying the Noyer building. He talks of starting a packing house this fall and a butcher shop next spring.

F. C. Perry and family and also Anna Stubbs and Miss Dalton have just returned from taking in the exposition at Portland.

Geo. B. Fox & Co., have about finished their buildings. They have yet a barn and a few smaller buildings to finish.

Prof. Hovis is going to build a house here this fall, provided he can get the material. The professor is getting along finely teaching our school. There should be an addition built to our schoolhouse and two teachers employed as there are too many scholars for one teacher to handle properly.

Our blacksmith, Mr. McDonald, is raising and building an addition to his dwelling.

Mrs. George Kayler is moving to town again so she can send the children to school.

Father Dibble has been quite sick but is now getting better.

Fay Moody and Charley Warren have rented the Sol Hardesty place and expect to keep bachelors' hall.

From the looks of a wagon load of things that went to the vicinity of Teazle creek recently there is likely to be a wedding there soon.

Joseph Pasold, who is interested in a mine in the Kootenie country and has been away from here for nearly three years, returned a few days ago to spend the winter and visit his father and mother. He reports mining as being dull up there, even in some of the oldest mining camps.

Al and Lon Wells returned from the mountains a few days ago. They brought in three fine deer as the proceeds of their hunt. Game is plentiful in some parts of the mountains this fall.

Judge Meldrum was here a few days ago in the interest of the Molalla and Dickey Prairie bridge, crossing the Molalla river. Unless something is done soon there will be another bridge on dry land. The river is fast cutting a new channel west and north of the bridge.

The remains of Al Forrester, who was drowned in Milk creek at Union Mills not long ago, has not been found yet, though every possible effort has been made to do so.

The roads in all directions from here are almost impassable in places.

A debating society has been organized which meets every Saturday evening at the schoolhouse. The present question is, "Resolved, That capital punishment should be abolished." Prof. Hovis is the principal speaker against capital punishment and P. C. Little his opponent.

Herman Bros., are now winding up their wood sawing, preparatory to starting their saw mill at Teazle creek. Xyz.

O. W. Barber is down with the bronchitis.

Wm. Vorpahl is fencing in his block, in Canby, and blasting out the stumps.

W. Riggs is improving and fencing his block here.

J. Shull is plowing the land on the Judge Waite place. He will put out 20 acres of hops this fall and another 20 in the spring. He has the place for 10 years.

Carlton & Rosenkrans have bought four carloads of apples for which they paid 40 cents a box. Apples at that price pay better than wheat.

Ed. H. Krammer made shipments of trees to the Sound country and to Columbia county on Saturday.

F. Hampton is building a woodshed. Mr. Brannon is having a kitchen built onto his house.

J. Wolgamot is plowing 20 acres to sow with rye.

Mike Susbauer is getting ready to take the postoffice. It will be on Main street in the Evans block.

Scott Kelly has moved back near Canby.

Dr. Powell has quite a practice here.

Rev. S. Mathews has dried 5000 pounds of prunes this fall in his new drier. He has been offered 6½ cents for them by a Portland firm.

AURORA.

J. M. Giesy left Sunday night for a few days stay at Halsey visiting friends.

Mr. Van Hagen, of the firm of P. Steinhagen & Co., of San Francisco, is stopping at the Aurora hotel. Mr. Van Hagen is here buying potatoes for the San Francisco market.

Work on Mr. Meeker's new office building is progressing rapidly. When finished this will make a nice ornament to the town; still there is room for more.

It is rumored here that Aurora will soon have a new depot, but most of the people do not believe it till they see it, as a new depot has been promised this town for the past two years.

H. A. Snyder made a business trip to Salem Wednesday.

Work on the foundation for the new store building was begun yesterday morning. The building when done will have a frontage of 50 feet by 60 feet deep. The first floor will be occupied by a branch store of the W. T. Co., of Barlow, while the second floor will be neatly fitted up as a lodge hall for the Knights of Phythias.

Preparations are being made for a grand Pythian ball to be given in Pioneer hall on Thanksgiving eve.

Our road supervisor, A. C. Snyder, is kept busy with a force of men getting the roads in shape for winter.

H. L. Bents and wife started for the world's fair Saturday afternoon.

John Scholl, who has been very low with typhoid fever, is slowly recovering.

BRICKYARD NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between W. B. Poyser and F. W. Puttkamer, proprietors of the Oregon City brickyard, has been dissolved. All bills due the firm will be paid to W. B. Poyser, who will pay the indebtedness of the firm, and continue the yard as before.

ELDER HUSTLE'S HORSE TRADES.

A Good-Natured Hayseed Lets Him Down Hard.

Elder Hustle who does not live over 500 miles from Oregon City, has a weakness for horse trading. A mild-mannered, shrewd farmer by the name of Peters moved into his neighborhood a few years ago, among whose belongings were a few mules. The elder cast covetous eyes on the mules and soon scraped acquaintance with Peters. He talked trade to Peters, but the latter was loth to swop the particular mule the elder had picked out for his horse.

"Why, elder, that mule is worth $150 if he is worth a dime," quoth Peters.

His unwillingness to trade made the elder anxious, which Peters noticed. They haggled and bargained, and finally, in a spirit of generosity, the farmer offered to take the elder's horse and $40 for the mule. The latter bit at the bate and drove home with his bargain. The next day he couldn't sell the mule for $10 as he had a spavin on each hind leg. The elder wrote Peters, offering to trade back, who, instead, replied with a few lines of ridicule and called him "mamma's baby boy."

Some time afterward, on a Saturday, Elder Hustle alighted from his buggy at Peters' door, and asked him to drive with him to one of his German neighbors with whom he was negotiating a trade. But Hustle couldn't hustle a trade out of the German, and it being evening when they got back to Peters' farm, the elder accepted his invitation to "stay all night." Peters knew intuitively that the wily elder was only dodging around to come to a swop with him, and after supper he proposed that Peters trade his large grey horse for his buggy horse. Peters had observed during the day that this nag was all right. He wouldn't listen to the absurd proposal at first, but finally consented to give a bonus of $40. Hustle wanted to have a good look at Peters' grey before they called it a trade.

As it was 11 o'clock, but an hour from midnight, Peters proposed that they finish it in the morning. Oh, no. The elder spurned the idea of a boss trade on Sunday with holy horror. He wanted to finish the deal right now. The boys went out in the field after the grey and put him in the barn. The elder looked him over and was satisfied. They traded.

Next morning, Elder Hustle walked out to the barn to look at his "buy." Peters slowly and silently followed him. He found him standing by the grey with his feet outspread and hands on the hips, eyeing the animal's legs.

"Good morning, Elder Hustle!"

"Ring-bone again, by God!" was the reply.

Peters advised him not to risk that ring-boned brute in his nice buggy, and proposed to hitch up one of his horses and let one of the boys drive him home. They could lead the grey behind. The boy and the elder and the grey started. For convenience's sake, the elder fastened the end of the grey's halter to his foot as he sat in the buggy. The animal pulled back and yanked him out, and ran back home. Hustle picked himself up and followed hotly in his rear. The smiling farmer met him at the gate.

"Brother Peters, have you a gun?"

"What do you want with a gun, Elder Hustle?"

"I want to shoot that damned horse." Peters can't get another trade out of the elder.

State Normal School.

School reopened with a quite large attendance. The present enrollment is about 230, eight of these are from Clackamas county.

The Normal course has been extended by the addition of a two years' course in drawing with Prof. Getz as teacher.

Miss Cassavant, the critic teacher in the model school, has been added to the faculty of this school.

This year the school has the largest Latin class (22 members) it ever had. This shows a bright prospect for the advanced course in the future.

Mr. Hunt has charge of a class in typewriting and stenography.

A lecture was given by Pres. Bloss, of the State Agricultural College, last Sunday in the chapel. This is one of the series of Sunday afternoon lectures.

TO THE PUBLIC.—Having decided to continue the undertaking business as carried on by my husband, C. P. Winesett, I would ask for a share of the public patronage when circumstances make it necessary. My business will be in charge of S. F. Scripture, who will be found ready and competent to attend the same. MRS. C. P. WINESETT.

Resolutions.

HALL OF OREGON LODGE NO 3, I. O. O. F. OREGON CITY, OREGON.

WHEREAS, It has pleased an All-Wise God in his providence to remove from us our brother, J. R. Nelson; where kindness and brotherly sympathy, where loyalty and devotion to our beloved Order has been manifest to us all. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we bow in submission to the will of Almighty God, and while we sorrow in his death we note another example of the solemn teachings of our Order.

Resolved, That we commend his many noble qualities of mind and heart to the imitation of our brothers. His frailties we cover with the mantle of our blessed charity. May he rest in peace.

Resolved, That we extend to his brother and friends our fraternal sympathy.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his brother and also that they be given to the press.

S. S. WALKER,
W. H. HOWELL, } Committee.
S. M. RAMSBY,

There is no better medicine for family use than Ayer's Cathartic Pills. Their sugar coating makes them easy and ever agreeable to take, and as they contain no calomel or other injurious drug, they are perfectly safe for patients of any age.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this Remedy is taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by G. A. Harding, Druggist.

Steedman's Soothing Powders relieve feverishness and prevent fits and convulsions during the teeting period.

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."
