EVENTS OF THE WEEK

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES.—The largest crowd that gathered together for many a day in this city witnessed the commencement exercises of the Oregon City high school on Friday evening of last week at Shively's hall. The class of 1894, which is the most numerous that ever graduated from our schools, consists of 11 members as follows, with the subject of their respective essays: Hattie L. Case, "The Nebular Hypothesis;" W. Gilbert Beattie, "Industrial Crisis;" Eva S. Meldrum, "The New Wonderland;" John T. Gleason, "Charlemage;" L. Betts Fouts, "American Humor;" Susie M. Blankenship, "The Valley;" James W. Church, "Mary, Queen of Scotts;" Myrtle L. Watson, "Elizabeth of England;" H. Leighton Kelly, "Nicaraguan Canal;" Gertrude G. Nefzger, "The Fall of Poland;" George M. McBride, "Phropecy of Class." Each graduate made his very best effort and as reward left the stage loaded with bouquets and floral decorations. Rev. G. Wm. Giboney presented the diplomas and made a fine address to the class.

ROCKSY PAID HIS BOARD.—A fellow named Rocksy working on Main street Monday near the Commercial Bank barely escaped having his head chopped off by an angry woman. Mrs. Newsom, whom, it seems, he owed for board, came to him as he was busily at work, shoved a slip of paper under his nose and asked him to sign "that order." He paid no more attention to her than if she had been a caterpillar creeping over a rotten apple tree a mile off. Mrs Newsom's anger rose to a white heat. "You wont, will ye?" she said not ungently, and picked up a brick-bat with the object of knocking him silly. Rocksy dropped the hatchet with which he was working for the purpose of defending his contemptible caput. Instantly Mrs. Newsom seized the hatchet and brandished it in the manner that an Indian, spoiling for a fight, toys with his tomahawk. Rocksy became afraid. Seizing the order he rushed with it to the sidewalk and signed it. No boarder will try to fool Mrs. Newsom again.

THE CHAUTAUQUA MEETING.—This week Friday evening, a meeting takes place at the residence of E. E. Charman of the Chautauqua Circle. The subject that will come up for consideration is the enlargement of the sphere of influence and usefulness of the Circle. Rev. J. S. Smith, manager of the Southern Oregon Chautauqua Association, who recently visited us with the object of scanning our local advantages and opportunities, is of the opinion that Gladstone Park is the proper place for the headquarters of the Chautauqua Circle of the Willamette valley and urges that steps be taken by our citizens to make this desirable possibility a reality. Selah W. Brown, John DeWitt Miller and Prof. S. W. Staub, the musical genius, have offered their services for $75. If we make Oregon City a Chautauqua Circle, it will prove of great advantage to us in many ways. Now is the time for our citizens to display public spirit.

THE TEACHERS ELECTED.—At the meeting of the school board on Friday last, Prof. S. W. Holmes of Union was elected principal of the Barclay school, his salary to be $1000, and Prof. W. H. Powell principal of the Eastham school at $75 per month; C. H. Jones vice-principal of Barclay school at $60 per month. The salary of other teachers was reduced to $40. Eastham school: Mollie Hankins, Erma Lawrence, Ora Spangler, Ana G. Baird; Barclay school: May Kelly, Gertrude Finley, Hattie Cochran, Mrs. D. H. Glass, M. Ella Currin, Winnie Graham. To John Bell was awarded the contract to furnish 125 cords of wood at $1 70 per cord, and the clerk was authorized to borrow $200 to pay outstanding claims.

FORGERY CHARGED.—In the case of the State of Oregon vs. T. E. Linn, which was heard before T. W. Fouts, justice of the peace, on Tuesday, June 19th, the charge was, forgery of the name of Ed B. Clements to a note dated May 8th, 1894, for $40. The hearing was not a final trial. The defendant was represented by Geo. C. Brownell who waived examination and his client gave bond, and the case will be tried in the circuit court in November—which indicates that Mr. Brownell has dropped politics to give his time and attention to law business.

SAWDUST.—State of Oregon vs. E. S. Bramhall; charge, casting sawdust in the streams of this state. Bramhall operates a sawmill situate some distance beyond Sandy postoffice. The case was tried on Wednesday before Justice Fouts, District Attorney Dye conducting the prosecution and George C. Brownell being defendant's attorney. The court found Mr. Bramhall not guilty and, on Mr. Brownell's motion, taxed the costs to the prosecuting witness, W. L. Ewing, instead of to the county.

CLEAN UP.—It is both a matter of necessity and duty that our citizens clean up the rubbish and litter on Main street and the side streets before July Fourth. If this is done voluntarily it will save the city authorities the unpleasant trouble of insisting that each business man or householder clean up before his own front door. Oregon City must appear slick and clean and in holiday attire on July Fourth.

CHILDREN'S DAY was observed at the Baptist church on Sunday by appropriate exercises. The floral decorations of the wall and pulpit and the fountain on the platform, and the numerous canaries whice sang during most of the evening, made it seem more like outdoors than in. The orchestra furnished the instrumental music. On Thursday the Sunday school held a picnic at the Tualatin river.

DOUBLES.—A remarkable freak of fecundity of the large Plymouth Rock hens of F. C. Mack, who lives on the old Duffy place, is that they often lay eggs of enormous size containing two yolks. He is raising quite a large lot of ducks. A peculiarity of this web footed semi-aquatic animal is that plenty of water is death to ducklings.

TO THE READERS.—Many subscribers forget to pay their bills. The publisher of the COURIER would strongly impress on their minds the fact that somehow, in some way, their bills must be collected as the running expenses of the paper must be paid in cash. Readers, please pay up. If you can't pay all you owe, pay at least part.

Say, if you want to clear some land, 10 acres or more, and take your pay in land, you'd better see E. C. Hackett at once, at sheriff's office, before it is all taken. Only 25 acres of choice river bottom left for some good man who wants a home. First come first served.

Died at Eagle Creek, June 11th, 10:15 o'clock p. m., Mina, daughter of H. H. and Mary Brackett, aged 13 years, 3 months and 29 days.

To realms of endless day,
From sin and sorrow
Pain and woe,
Our dear one is called away.

Lizzie Straub, whose parents reside in this county near Sherwood, recently married George Ingelkee in Portland, and the next day left him to fool with a burly policeman. George has learned that Liz is no good and has applied for a divorce.

Norwood Charman was run over by the team of Henry Harding on Thursday. He hung onto the tongue for a while but this hit him in the head and as he fell one of the horses kicked him. He escaped the wheels and with a few bruises.

The Fourth of July celebration in this city is an assured fact. About $600 has already been secured (including the $180 left over from 1892), and Hon. C. W. Fulton of Astoria will deliver the oration.

Fourth of July will be appropriately celebrated at Wright's Springs. Besides a basket picnic there will be horse racing, a match game of base ball and other amusements. Full programme next week.

Saturday, a carload of Anheuser-Busch beer arrived from St Louis packed in ice, consigned to Giebisch & McNamee of Portland, who had it placed in Messrs. Smith & Lovett's cold storage warehouse.

The work by C. A. Holmstrom on the Holcomb and Moss hill road is a great improvement and reflects much credit on him as a road-maker. The county court should permit him to finish the job with a layer of gravel.

Striking features of the celebration on the Fourth will be "Five Fine Bands," "Fine Pageant and Street Parade," "Grand Ball at Armory in the Evening" Chorus by 40 Voices." See posters. Oregon City will do her best.

Rev. Dr. Cowan has gone to Pacific University at Forest Grove to take part in the commencement exercises, but will be back in time for Sunday services. He will talk Sunday evening on "The Young Man in a Strange City."

At the meeting of the board of trade last week, the following amendment to the constitution was adopted: "Monthly dues to be the sum of 50 cents per month instead of $1, taking effect January 1, 1894." Bills of J. T. Brown and Mr. Prier for photos were ordered paid.

Some day the whole Willamette valley will be a checker board of electric railways with cars pulled by the power of the Willamette river at Oregon City falls. The rapid development of long distance transmission of power is hastening this happy coming time.—Statesman.

Ex-Sheriff Samson states that the wasting away of the tissues of the legs below the knee from which his father has been suffering for some time (making the amputation of one leg necessary) has also attacked his hands. Bravely the old man resists the encroachments of remorseless disease.

Dave Morris, who left the penitentiary last week, says that the boarders in that institution receive starvation rations that have a most tiresome uniformity. The coffee served is made of charred bread. Sugar or butter an inmate never sees unless he buys them as extras out of his scant earnings. Life in the pen is no picnic.

Senator George C. Brownell is one of the four delegates elected to represent the first congressional district, comprising 17 counties, at the seventh annual convention of the National Republican League which meets in Denver on the 26th, which shows that his popularity is not by any means confined to Clackamas county.

On June 26th new barracks of the Salvation Army will be dedicated, Staff Captain and Mrs. Morton conducting the services. Its seating capacity is 350. The building fund is yet $100 short, which must, if possible, be all collected by the termination of the dedication services, and to that end 10 cents admission will be charged. An ice cream and cake social will follow.

MOLALLA.

Two Peddlers Robbed by Masked Highwaymen Who Escape.

On last Friday, June 15th, while two Jewish peddlers from Portland named N. Weinstein and L. Krubelnik were passing along the road some two miles west of this place, two masked men stepped out of the brush armed with breech-loading guns and ordered them to stop and give up their money. The peddlers thought it was some one trying to play a joke on them and started to drive on, but they were given to understand by the highwaymen that they meant business and if the peddlers did not disgorge they would get daylight let through them. This frightened the peddlers so that they forthwith emptied their pockets of their contents even to pocketknives and keys. Having been relieved of their valuables they were ordered to drive on as fast as possible, which they willingly obeyed, their team arriving at Molalla under the whip. They filed an information against the highwaymen for whose arrest a warrant was issued. As our precinct constable lives some distance from here and knowing that he was unable to ride because he had recently badly cut his foot with an ax, it was thought best to send the warrant direct to the sheriff, and therefore a man [Mr. Kayler] was dispatched immediately to Oregon City with the warrant, [where the sheriff instructed him, as a deputy constable, to take such steps as he might deem necessary to arrest the criminals.] A fair description was obtained of the highwaymen, who were seen just before the robbery was committed and were strangers in this community. The peddlers were relieved of between $38 and $40, all the money they had. The highwaymen are supposed to be the same that attempted to hold up a Mr. Bouten, a horsedealer from Eastern Oregon.

P. C. Little and family left on the 20th for Southern California.

The long talked of match game of ball between the Molalla and Mulino teams did not come off as expected last Sunday, owing to the rain.

Mike Clifford has the contract to carry the mail from Molalla to Oregon City for the ensuing four years.

The gentle, generous, percolating rains that come down every few days—many thanks to Jupiter Pluvius—give us a promise of a fine crop of all kinds of grain. A few around here intend to begin haying in a short time. X Y Z.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING.

Claim of Mary E. Winston for rebate ($59 on lots 3 and 4 of block 35) on Seventh street assessment referred to street committee. City engineer ordered to report the rebates due property holders on Seventh street to the council.

Bill of Hamshaw & Behm for extra work of $480.40 referred to street committee.

Thos. Newman asked for special permit to run a merry go-round inside city limits which was laid on the table.

Report by D. W. Kinnaird, city engineer, of city standing with Main street contractors, Hamshaw & Behm, as follows: Total amount of work to June 1st $28,423 52, warrants issued to date $24,186 84, per centage held by city $4216 84.

Bill of Hamshaw & Behm for Main street work for June of $1702 allowed.

John Weismandel allowed to redeem without penalty property recently purchased by him, that had been sold for street assessment.

Matter of excavating and putting in culvert at corner of Fifth and Jackson streets to cost about $1000 laid over to next meeting. The sewer put in at that place last year has already broken in and the high bank has caved off so much that this work will have to be done before long if not done now.

Chief engineer ordered to notify householders to remove the moss from their buildings before the Fourth.

Ordinance fixing salary of city treasurer at $140 a year and no more passed.

Ordinance fixing salary of the chief of police at $60 per month passed.

Ordinance regulating the running of freight cars on electric line passed. Mr. Howell stated that he had seen Mr. Steele who said he would not run the freight cars if a franchise had to be secured, but Councilman Howell thought Mr. Fields would lease the car and pay a license fee of $100, but not $300 as the ordinance now imposes.

Ordinance regulating licenses of drays, hacks, garbage wagons, billiard tables, bowling alleys, circus, etc., with amendments, ordered republished.

Street superintendent ordered to clean alleys, river bank, etc., and marshal to notify people to do the same around their premises, before the Fourth.

N. CROCKER.

On February 1st, 1843, Nathaniel Crocker and five others were swept over the Willamette falls in a canoe, at the point near the east shore where Broughton's sawmill used to stand, and were drowned. The remains of Crocker were buried near the tall fir tree at the house of Mr. Bestow on Abernethy creek. S. W. Moss had crossed the plains with Crocker the year before, and, as a tribute to his friend, he, a few months subsequent to the tragedy, wrote the following poem:

Whilst slowly sinks the western sun
Behind the mountains high,
I almost think on shadowy wings
His spirit passes by.

The tall green fir hangs down its head
As if to mourn his fate;
The fern droops now o'er his bed,
And both look desolate.

Ye winds that fan this lonely spot,
O'ergrown with desert weeds,
Breathe of Multnomah,*
Stay not to dally with the reeds.

And thou dear bird that trills so late
Thy vesper hymn to-day,
Go back and join thy gentle mate
Who sleeps not far away.

And tell her when you reach her grove
Along this winding shore,
That you have heard of one
Whose loved will never see him more.

Yea, hie thee on where vigil eyes
Weep in the widow's room,
And gently tell her that he now lies
In Oregon's wild tomb.

An Illinois Creameryman's Way.

The Rural New Yorker sent a list of questions to some of the prize creamerymen of Illinois, asking information as to their particular methods of butter making. Below is the answer given by one of them:

I will venture the opinion that mixing cream of any kind at different stages of ripeness will give an uneven grain to the butter, which will consequently be more likely to be mottled, owing to the uneven distribution of the salt, and the churning, too, will be less effectual, as I have proved to my own satisfaction quite conclusively. I find also that the flavor is materially affected.

We buy the whole milk, which is delivered every morning, none of it coming from a greater distance than two miles. I think, however, securing this cream by the use of small separators, where milk would have to be brought quite a long distance, would be far preferable to getting it by the gravity process.

We do not pay by the test yet, but we have Babcock's and Beimling's milk testers, both of which we find very satisfactory in every way.

I have tried heating the cream to 150 degrees for experiment's sake and got a little better yield of butter—that is, less fat was left in the buttermilk—but I fancied the butter was not quite so well flavored. We don't store butter. It doesn't pay.—J. E. Heise.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. Simon Goldraum, San Luis Rey, Cal. For sale by George A. Harding, Druggist.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of
