BURNED DURING FIRST DAYS RUN.

lem Journal:—The heaviest loss in this county, for a number of s that of Lane Bros'. Mill, at last Thursday, about 12 oclock. The mill had just been finished rted up, it seems, and had run a d hours before noon, when all left the mill and went to dinner, fore going. Mr. Lane was very to clean all the shavings and t from near the furnace, and, g everything safe, he followed of the men, who had but a short e to go to the boarding house. had got fairly seated when a small d them that it looked as though was on fire, at which everyone but by the time they arrived at e it was too late to try to save g, and the building, machinery, is a total loss. There was no ce on the mill, and the owners, e industrious, deserving gentlemen, are almost completely wrecked, ally.

THE NEW RAILROAD SYSTEM.

leton East Oregonian.—Within months it is expected that the gle rail and saddle-track railroad built in Oregon. About $60,000 e subscribed in the construction y, the preliminaries are being forward with a vim, and work on locomotive has been commenced and. Mr. Mahana is confident trial of his new railway system lt in a complete success, and it is that the invention comitself to everyone to whom its s have been explained.

Mahana is in receipt of communifrom people in Vermont in relathe proposed road between Montand Rutland, for which a large has been raised. He will go to t as soon as the Oregon enter completed.

atly printed pamphlet, containscription of the new system, with the engine, cars and road, has blished by the company.

Y FOR THE PORTLAND AND ASTORIA RAILROAD.

kanie Chief: Mr. Hurlburt with e of engineers who is surveying e between Green's Point and rt, on the route known as the Astoria route, passed Clatskanie nesday afternoon. The new surs half a mile north of this city. the evening Mr. Hurlburt run a the city and obtained the highmark. Mr. Hurlburt informed porter that this survey is made d for by Mr. A. Kinney, of As-Mr. Hurlburt thinks this new will place the road on better and lessen the cost of construcween the two points.

CONFLICT WITH TRAMPS.

e Guard.—Mr. Huntly, of the ker has a swollen disabled hand, lt of an encounter with three Monday. He was riding a pony Dunn farm three miles south of , and on entering a clump of was confronted by three men who him to dismount. Mr. Huntly the pony next to the men, and advanced as if to attack him, he d each down as they came within He then mounted the pony and but looking back when a short away, saw one of the men gel- When he returned with a hich he went after, nothing was he men, whom he supposed to s. Mr. Huntly is getting along , but is as active as a young

NEWSPAPER SUSPENDED.

y Herald: The Junction Pilot pended publication. Its editor at it was not of sufficient money capacity to warrant its continand he also disliked the muscular required to defend himself from rks of persons who considered d a grievance, one of whom the editor down over some trivhey had been discussing, the ion to which was in the editor's to mention the man's wife in r. The editor, who is a slightly n, while his antagonist is a musuilt fellow, produced a revolver he must answer to the county ying concealed weapons, and the sted him for drawing the pistol. agonist was fined for assault.

THE BIBLE CORROBORATED.

omish Eye:—The telepraph from Tacoma what is described h story—wherein a Japanese said to have been swallowed hale and thrown back upon beck—laces the biblical tale of Jonah the whale among possibilities." of Moses! Has it come to this, ything written in the bible must borated by modern events in order aced within range of the possible? his is indeed the age of unbelief.

PED FROM THE PENITENTIARY.

olburn Independent: Louis Mayis serving a seven-year term in Washington penitentiary for rob- made his escape last Friday, in a clever manner. By some means he obtained a suit of citizen's clothes and started to go outside the enclosure. The guard asked the man how he came to be inside of the walls. Mayer replied that he had been working in the jute mills and was going home to lunch. As there were a number of citizens working in the jute mills, the guard allowed the man to pass. At roll call Mayer was missed and officers started after him. So far he has not been captured.

NEW IRON SHIPS.

San Francisco Call: It is said that Secretary Tracy's object in giving the contract for the construction of cruiser No. 13 to Cramp & Sons instead of to the Bath Iron Works was to facilitate the construction of the Pirate's sister ship. The Cramps agree to construct the cruiser, which will be one of the speediest naval vessels in the world, for $2,690,000, the amount bid by the Maine firm, and it is calculated that a year's time will be gained in placing her in commission.

CHEAP SUGAR ON HAND.

Baker City Blade: The cheap sugar on every breakfast table is an illustration of the wisdom of the republican party. The democrats and all of the so-called reformers opposed cheapening sugar to the consumer. They opposed protecting the farmer's eggs, grain, stock and hay, and opposed reciprocal trade with our southern neighbors. All the beneficent legislation of the past thirty years came through the republican party.

A BIG DAY'S WORK.

Forest Grove Times:—Robt. Billingher, Jr., a young man working for J. H. Wilson, of Greenville, cut fifty acres of wheat in five days last week, counting Thursday, when the themometer stood 102 in the shade. The machine used was a McCormic binder, bought in 1884. Mr. Wilson says his wheat will go twenty-five bushels to the acre. Who says we can't raise small grian in Oregon, and haven't got men that can do it?

A NEW SAFE

Klamath Star.—Our safe has arrived. Now, dear delinquents, be moderate and careful about firing the coin in, and above all do not step on one another's coat tails. At present we are using the cool iron chest as a receptacle for our landlady's butter, but will throw it open when the coin begins to fly in. We think the butter will then be strong enough to take care of itself.

IT WOULD INDEED SEEM SO.

Newberg Graphic:—The free bridge promised to the people of the east side if they would vote for consolidation, don't appear to materialize very fast. It would seem that a city which takes as much apparent pride in its greatness as Portland does, could at least afford a free bridge across the river.

LIGHT RUN OF SALMON.

An Exchange says: The run of salmon for the past few days has been slowly increasing on the lower Columbia, but no increase is perceptible yet at St. Helens. The total pack will be much less than last year.

ASSIGNEE DOES THE ADVERTISING.

Portland Daily Dispatch: A firm in this city spent, all told, $2 for advertising last year. It attempted to do a retail business of $400 a day. An assignee is now endeavoring to dispose of the stock.

Literary Notes.

The following books are announced as nearly ready for publication by Harper & Brother: "Dally," a novil by Maria Louise Poole; "The Uncle of an Angel, and Other Stories," by Thomas A. Janvier; "A Mans conscience," a novel by Avery Macalpine; and "Tales of two Countries," translated by William Archer from the Swedish of Alexander Kielland. The last named volume, which is an addition to the "Old Number Series," will have an introduction by Professor H. H. Boyesen.

Octave Thanet will contribute to the next number of Harper's Bazar, published July 24th, a story entitled "A Misfit Conscience."

"The Sailors in the Navy" is the subject of a four-page illustrated Supliment to acompany the next number of Harper's Weekly, published July 22d.
