TRIAL SUBSCRIPTIONS.—The ENTERPRISE will be sent on trial for two months for twenty-five cents. Send in a trial subscription and if you do not get your money's worth the two bits will be refunded to you. The paper will be stopped promptly at the expiration of the trial period if it is not desired longer.

THE OREGON FISHERIES.—The annual report of the Oregon fish commission gives some interesting information about the fishing industry of the state. The amount of salmon packed was less than last year, which fact may be accounted for by several causes. The commissioners do not think there is any cause for alarm as to the future supply of salmon, or any reason why anyone should think that propagation of fish is a failure. "We still have as much faith in it as ever," says the report, "and believe it is the only salvation for a supply of food fish in the state for years to come." The season opened on April 10th and closed on August 10th. The total expense incurred by the commission during the season was $3495.85. Salmon packed in tins during the year was as follows:

	POUNDS	VALUE
Columbia river	11,786,400	$1,227,750
Nehalem	168,000	14,000
Tillamook bay	3,850	15,400
Siuslaw river	3,500	14,000
Coquille	4,000	16,000
Rogue	16,000	105,000
Total	13,500,400	$1,392,150

The number of cases was 281,400. The value of salmon and other fish consumed locally and shipped East fresh was: Salmon $397,635, sturgeon $143,525, cavair of sturgeon, $3000, shad $3000 shad $5000, trout $4000, smelt $12,600, carp $1500, catfish $400, tomcod $500, sardines $400, oysters $3750, clams $1650, fish oil $9000, fertilizer $600; total, $58,060. A total of 2590 men were employed at canneries and fishing during the season. The wages amounted to $634,720.

AN OLD RAILWAY—There worked up through the mud of Main street the other day a section of the old rails of the tramway that did duty three or four years in the early '60's in transferring freight around the falls between the upper and lower river. D. P. Thompson, A. L. Lovejoy and the Dements built and operated that road and it made more money than any other mile of railway in the Nothwest. The motive power was muless. The rails were wood. The road extended from Canemah down the river, traversing Main street to Fourth, and, turning then to the river bank, followed down to the present wharf of the Oregon City Transportation company. In 1865 the "basin" was completed so that boats could come to the present Imperial mill. Arrangements were made for transferring freight there, passing it through the warehouse and down to steamers below the falls. Then the old tramway went into disuse and the street was graded over it. That mode of transfer continued till the locks were completed in 1872. There was no steam railway in the valley in those days and the river transportation business was immense in volume and in the profit it yielued.

A VALIANT COLOR-BEARER—Julius Priester, who lives on his farm near Stafford in this county, is a fine specimen of valorous German-American. In 1862 he enlisted in Company E, Twenty-sixth Iowa infantry volunteers, and was one of the color guard. In an engagement at Arkansas Post he was the only one of the guard who stood by the flag and was made color-bearer for his gallant service. He carried the standard of his regiment from Arkansas Post to Tennessee and with Sherman on his march to the sea as far as Atlanta where a rebel bullet sent him to the rear. However, he recovered and resumed his perilous duty when the army reached Raleigh on its northward march. He was mustered out at the grand review in Washington after the war and he bore the colors back home to Clinton, Iowa, where the two flags he had carried were deposited in the court house. The first one had twenty-three bullet holes in it and a shattered staff. The gallant color-bearer suffered a severe wound from a shell at Vicksburg. His Atlanta wound was a bullet in the side.

MARRIED AND HAPPY.—Henry Lewis, a half breed Cherokee, and Lucy Smith, a California Indian woman, were married at the residence of J. A. Chase, in Park Place, last Tuesday by Rev. O. W. Lucas. The groom is about sixty years of age and has been well known hereabouts for a dozen years or more. His occupation has been that of wood chopping. Some time ago he acquired a lot or two in Park Place and he has lived in a cabin there. Recently he became unwell and he hired Lucy Smith to keep house for him. She did this in such an engaging manner that—well, they agreed to get married and sent for the parson. The twain were made one in the regulation style and they were as happy as clams at high tide. Henry is not above some of the weakness of his kind and Lucy's reputation is a little shady, but they have begun life anew and withas much promise of success as if their skins were not of copper hue.

FIRST REPUBLICAN CLUB—The young men of Milwaukie precinct, in this county, received the constitution and by-laws from the executive committee of the Young Men's Republican club of Oregon last week and Saturday night a meeting was held at the I. O. G. T. hall. John I. Ayer, president of the club, and Wallace McCammen, of its executive committee, were present and created much enthusiasm by their addresses. The organization of a mission club was completed. R. Scott was elected presiding officer, A. Bloch secretary and O. Wissinger treasurer. The executive committee is T. J. Gray, R. S. McLaughlin and J. C. Hungerford. The club outnumbers both the alliance and the democratic clubs and bids fair to become the star club of Clackamas county.

SOME LARCENY CASES.—Thomas Scott who was arrested with William Gardner for stealing a boat, etc. from the Willamette Pulp and Paper mills, was, upon examination before Justice Fouts, discharged from custody. Gardner escaped from the officer shortly after his arrest and it is understood that he is now in San Fransisco. Thomas and John Biggs, of Canby, were arrested last week on complaint of Paul T. Smith, for stealing a set of harnesses valued at $40. Justice Fouts held them to the grand jury in the sum of $250 each which they could not provide. The testimony against them was given by the wife of Thomas Biggs, and her sister, Mrs. Armstrong.

WIND AND RAIN.—The worst storm for a period of several years prevailed here last Monday. The wind was strong from the southward and some damage was done to telegraph and telephone lines. The rain fell in torrents must of the day. The steamer Altona lost a trip in the afternoon on account of the inability of the Madison street drawbridge to turn in the wind. The Latona landed at the Jefferson street wharf. Wednesday morning the river was at the highest stage this season, 15 feet above mean low water mark.

STEAMER STRIKES THE ROCKS.—Last Friday the Latona was going to her wood station above the warf when a floating log caught in the wheel making her unmanageable so that her bow ran upon the rocks with considerable force. Not much damage was done, however. Going down the river Sunday morning the fog was dense and the Latona ran on the rocks off Elk rock. Her engines had been stopped so the shock was not great. There was some delay in getting through that crooked part of the river, which is difficult to navigate when the fog is thick, but no serious damage was done. The Manzanillo is running in place of the Latona while repairs are being made.

HAD TO COME TO THE COUNTY SEAT—F. H. Heizer, a farmer who resides near Damascus in this county, wanted some money last week to get which he had to market some produce. He also had business to transact at the county seat. But the roads to this city were so bad that he took his produce to Portland where he sold it and bought merchandise, and he left his team there and came up to Oregon City by boat. Thus does Oregon City lose trade that justly belongs to it.

NOVEMBER WATER.—According to Captain Pratt's daily record of the stage of the river for November the highest water was on the twenty-fourth when it was 4.2 feet above the falls and 10.4 below the falls above the mean low water mark. On the first and last days of the month water was at the same stage 2.6 above and 5.5 below the falls above mean low water. The river has been at a good navigable stage since the first rains in October, an unusual circumstance.

STRAW FOR PAPER—Three or four carloads of straw are being delivered here daily to the Crown Paper mill, each car containing about eight tons of straw in bales. Most of this product comes from the vicinity of Woodburn. The shipments by boat have exceeded the amount brought by rail. It is an important item to farmers to be able to dispose of a bitherto unmarketable article for a good price, and a new industry is also added to the business of this town.

A HOLIDAY GREETING—Mrs. Prier returns thanks to her friends for past favors, and asks her to call and see her new stock of Christmas goods as she has quite a variety on hand this year at the old established Candy Store. *

The Southern Pacific Company's local freight trains which have hitherto been run daily, south-bound arriving here 6:43 a. m. north-bound 1:35 p. m., have been changed to run on the following days only: south-bound Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; north-bound Tuesdays and Saturdays. No change in leaving time.

A. J. Sawtell, the Oregon teasel grower, was in town last week. He supplies the Oregon City woolen mills with teasels used and in order to do so he draws the burrs to Aurora and ships from there to Oregon City, though his place is no nearer Aurora than here. But he cannot travel the roads to Oregon City. Mr. Sawtell has a unique industry and is the only teasel grower in the west.

VISITORS WELCOME.—We are now fully prepared to meet the demands of the season, and assure the public that visitors will be cordially welcome. Whether you wish to purchase or not we shall be glad to entertain you with our charming exhibition of Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry, Clocks, Silverware, etc. *

The correctiesss of the maxim "nothing succeeds like success" is well exemplified in Ayer's Sarsparilla. The most successful combination of alteratives and tonics, it always succeeds in curing diseases of the blood, and hense its wonderful popularity.

Weak Lungs

May be made to do good service through a long life by a judicious use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The signs of weakness are "shortness of breath," pains in the chest and back, a persistent cough, feverishness, and raising of blood. All or either of these symptoms may indicate weak lungs, and should have immediate attention.

"I have been a life-long sufferer from weak lungs and, till I used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, was scarcely ever free from a cough. This medicine always relieves my cough and strengthens my lungs, as no other medicine ever did. I have induced many of my acquaintances to use the Pectoral in throat and lung troubles. It has always proved beneficial, particularly so in the case of my son-in-law, Mr. Z. A. Snow, of this place, who was cured by it of a severe cough."—Mrs. L. I. Cloud, Benton, Ark.

"I have had lung trouble for about one year and have tried many different remedies, but nothing does me so much good as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I heartily recommend this medicine."—Cynthia Horr, Harmony, Me.
