Died.

HUGHES.—At her home in Beaver Creek Sunday, Dec. 6, 1897, of paralysis, Mrs. Margaret Davis Hughes, aged 59 years, 6 months and 29 years.

Deceased was born in Cawearthershire, Wales, coming to the United States with her husband and living for sometime in Wisconsin. In 1876 they came to Beaver Creek, where she resided up to the time of her death. Mrs. Hughes united with the Presbyterian church when she was 24 years old, and all through life was warmly attached to the church of her choice, and found special comfort in promises of God and his unfailing love for his people.

Lonely indeed is the heart of the one who for these many years has traveled hand in hand, heart to heart along the journey of life. All that is included in the terms "faithful and loving wife" she was to him, and has only proceeded him into that eternity that awaits us all.

Tenderly beloved by all who knew her, the funeral services were attended by a large circle of sorrowing friends and acquaintances. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, short services being conducted at the house and those of a more public nature at the Presbyterian church in English by Rev. A. J. Montgomery and in Welch by Dr. D. W. James. The interment was in the Beaver Creek cemetery.

Married.

FOSTER-MILLER—At the residence of the bride's parents in this city, on Saturday, December 4, 1897, Miss Clara Miller to E. M. Foster, of Vancouver, Rev. H. Oberg, oficating.

STATE NEWS NOTES

Items of Interest from all Parts of Oregon.

Fruit Shipments Made at Albany—The Poisoning of Forty-Six People at Corvallis Last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Albert, of Salem, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last Monday. They were married at Wheeling, Va., in 1837. Mr. Albert is 82 years old and Mrs. Albert 81 years.

The Columbia iron works at Astoria is engaged in making carwheels for a railroad to be built at Skaguay, Alaska. A considerable amount of them will be shipped the next trip of the steamer Elder.

The report of Superintendent Paine of the state insane asylum shows that there are now 1113 patients in that institution. The average number of patients for the month of November was 1116; employes, 136. Average expenses per capita monthly, $10 65; per capita daily, 35½ cents.

The grand jury at Dallas, Polk county, last Tuesday, indicted Allen Logan for murder in the first degree for the killing of E. H. Sylvester. The crime was committed in a hopyard row near Independence September 14. Logan is 18 years of age and a resident of Lincoln county.

In Corvallis Wednesday a decision was rendered by Police Judge Greffoz, in the case of the city vs Hodes and Halls, arrested last week for running a nickle-in-the slot machine, sustaining the validity of the gambling law of the city, and holding that under the ordinance the operating of the nickle-in-the-slot machines is prohibited.

Last Monday, Oscar Hadine, of Parkersburg, Coos county, while making his way in the dark from the wharf to a schooner, fell into the river and drowned. The first mate of the schooner heard a noise from the man just as he fell in the water, but failed to discover him till he was going down the last time, and too late to save him.

Forty-six persons at Corvallis are prostrated from the effects of eating poisonous food. Headcheese and sausage were the articles which it is claimed contained poison. Some of the cases reported are of a very serious nature, but the physicians hope to save the lives of all unless something not now anticipated should occur. Violent purging and vomiting are the symptoms in each case.

The state board of equalization convened at Salem last Tuesday, and organized by electing W. C. Wills, president; H. L. Wills, secretary; George Shirley, clerk and Frank Boragar of Salem messenger. The board has some intricate cases to dispose of and no doubt there will be many new ones presented for settlement before it completes its labors.

Charles Reynolds, aged 20, died at Adams, near Pendleton, last Tuesday morning from the effects of injuries received while attempting to board a passenger train Monday night. He attemped to swing under the car onto the brakebeam and missed his hold. His right foot was crushed. He had money to pay his fare but was in the habit of beating his way.

A dispatch from Cottage Grove states that the Champion mine, which was bonded several months ago by Joseph S. Woodruff, of Chicago, whose option expired the 20th of last month, will be turned over to Woodruff as soon as his money arrives from Chicago. The purchase price was $10,000. The Champion mine is said to be one of the best properties in the Bohemia district, and has a 10-stamp mill located upon it.

The death of R. R. Hays at Tillamook occurred last monday. Mr. Hays has been for many years identified with business interests of Tillamook county and has taken an active part in politics. In his home county he has held the positions of surveyor and county clerk. He was chief clerk of the Oregon legislature during two terms and a delegate to the republican national convention in 1892 and the first one from Oregon to cast his vote for Harrison.

Hosea Brown the last surviyor of the war of 1812 living on the Pacific coast, passed to his final rest and reward Monday of this week at the home of Orr Brown on Applegate. Mr. Brown was born in the state of New Hampshire, July 18, 1792, which would make him at his last birthday 105 years old. He served in the war of 1812, became a Christian man after the close of the war and has ever been faithful to his government and to the Christian cause he continued to love until his death. The G. A. R. of this city took charge of the remains and the funeral serman was preached at the Christian Chapel, by Stephen Jewell. A large audience assembled to pay their last respects to a truely good man.—Grant's Pass Courier.

The Albany Fruit Co. shipped yesterday to Davenport, Iowa, 600 boxes of Oregon winter apples. They are also arranging to ship a car load of winter apples to Missouri. There is a good demand for Oregon apples in the East, but they must be first-class and in nice condition to be salable. This company has dried 8000 pounds of apples which were not good keepers. They are now arranging to carry out the experiment of drying vegetables for the Alaska trade. They use a large steam dryer, and the process, which has thus far proved successful, will enable northward tourists to take vegetables in a much lighter form than when either fresh or canned, and the dried product can be restored to almost its original condition in cooking. This would be a boon to the Klondikers who could live on good fresh Linn county peas, beans and other garden truck during the long dark winter in Alaska.

FINANCE AND CUBA

its motive. It announces a domestic law of neutrality in the declaring state. It assumes the international obligation of a neutral in the presence of a public state of war. It warns all citizens and others within the jurisdiction of the claimant that they violate those rigorous obligations at their own peril and cannot expect to be shielded from the consequences. The right of visit and search and seizure of vessels and cargoes and contraband of war under admiralty law must under international law be admitted as a legitimate consequence of a proclamation of belligerency. While according equal belligerent rights, defined by public law, to each party in our ports, disfavor would be impossible to both, which, while nominally equal would weigh heavily in behalf of Spain herself. Possessing a navy and claiming the ports of Cuba, her maritime rights could be asserted, not only for the military investment of the island, but up to the margin of our own territorial waters, and condition of things would exist for which the Cubans could not hope to create a parallel; while aid from within our domain would be even more impossible than now, with the additional obligation of international neutrality which we would perforce assume.

The enforcement of this enlarged and onerous code of neutrality would only be influential within our own jurisdiction of land and sea and applicable by our own instrumentalities. It could impart to the United States no jurisdiction between Spain and the insurgents. It would give the United States no right of intervention to enforce the conduct of the strife within the paramount authority of Spain according to the international code of war.

For these reasons, I regard the recognition of the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents as now unwise and therefore inadmissible. Should that step hereafter be deemed wise, as a measure of right and duty, the executive will take it.

Intervention upon humane grounds has been frequently suggested, and it has not failed to receive my most anxious and earnest consideration. But should such a step be now taken when it is apparent that a hopeful change has supervened in the policy of Spain toward Cuba?

The Bimetallic Commission.

Under the provisions of the act of congress approved March 3, 1897, for the promotion of an international agreement respecting bimetalism, I appointed, on April 14, 1897, Hon. Edward O. Wolcott, of Colorado; Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, and Hon. Charles J. Payne, of Massachusetts, as special envoys to represent the United States. They have been diligent in their effort to secure the concurrence and co-operation of European countries in the international settlement of the question, but up to this time have not been able to secure an agreement contemplated by their mission.

The gratifying action of our great sister republic of France in joining this country in the attempt to bring about the agreement between the principal commercial nations of Europe, whereby a fixed and relative value between gold and silver shall be secured, furnishes assurance that we are not alone among the larger nations of the world in realizing the international character of the problem and in the desire of reaching some wise and practical solution of it.

The British government has published a resume of the steps taken jointly by the French ambassador in London and the special envoys of the United States, with whom our ambassador in London actively co-operated in the presentation of this subject to her majesty's government. This will be laid before congress. Our special envoys have not made their final report, as further negotiations between the representatives of this government and the governments of other countries are pending and in contemplation. They believe that the doubts which have been raised in certain quarters respecting the possibility of maintaining the stability of the parity between the metals and kindred questions may yet be solved by futher negotiations.

Meanwhile, it gives me satisfaction to state that the special envoys have already demonstrated their ability and fitness to deal with the subject, and it is to be earnestly hoped that their labors may result in an international agreement which will bring about recognition of both gold and silver as money upon such terms and with such safeguards as will secure the use of both metals upon a basis which shall work no injuries to any class of citizens.

[The foregoing are only some of the main features of the message and only a synopsis of that part pertaining to Spain and Cuba. Lack of space prevents us giving to our readers the many other important subjects treated by the president.—ED.]

Oregon City Talent Recognized.

Grafton B. Cheney, of the Courier office, received yesterday a $16 draft from the Ripans' Chemical company, of New York City, for illustrated drawings advertising their medicines. That Mr. Cheney posesses more than average ability as an artist is shown from the fact that he had to compete against Eastern artists and won over all competitors. This substantial acknowledgement of his ability is highly complimentary and duly appreciated by his many friends.
