COURT UPHOLDS COAST IN RATES

LONG-AND-SHORT-HAUL STANDS, BUT COMMISSION METHOD IS SCORED.

CLAUSE IS THOROUGHLY REVIEWED

Interstate Commerce Commission Sustained, But Case Will Be Appealed To Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—In the majority opinion of the Commerce Court formally handed down today in the transcontinental rate cases, it is held that the long-and-short haul provision of the interstate commerce act is constitutional. Temporary injunction against putting the so-called "Spokane rates" into effect, however, is granted.

The Court, however, declares that the Interstate Commerce Commission exceeded its authority in attempting to establish a relation between long and short haul rates, irrespective of absolute rates, and it enjoins the Commission from putting in force the order reducing transcontinental freight rates pending a more complete investigation by the court.

The Commerce Court reached the conclusion that the cases involved in the present proceeding afforded the best possible opportunity for a determination of the constitutionality of the long-and-short-haul provision of the act to regulate commerce. It was realized that the question eventually would have to be fought out before the United States Supreme Court.

In the formal opinion, prepared by Judge Mack, the Commerce Court upholds the Interstate Commerce Commission upon the point of constitutionality of the long-and-short-haul provision of the interstate commerce act, but it goes further than the Commission did, and declares the law would have been unconstitutional "as an unlawful delegation of legislative power," if no standard were given, "to guide the exercise of the Commission's discretion in granting authority to depart from the rules forbidding a lesser rate for the long and for the short haul in the same direction and over the same line." The court disagrees with the method used by the Commission in determining the proper rate.

PRESIDENT DODGES SUFFRAGE QUESTION

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 10.—A plea that President Taft say a word for the women while he was asking support of the people for his peace treaties was without result here late last night, for Mr. Taft ignored the letter passed into his hands until after he had completed his formal address.

The suffrage movement recently invaded Nashville, and a great crowd that heard the President's talk about peace also wanted to get his idea of the votes-for-women campaign.

The President left early today for Sewanee, Tenn., the site of the University of the South, where Major Butte spent part of his youth.

ALISKYS TO MAKE COURT FIGHT HERE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Cleta Pearl Gilman Alisky, sister of Mrs. Maybelle Gilman Corey, actress-wife of the former head of the United States Steel Corporation today appeared ebfore Judge G. A. Sturtevant in the Superior Court and traansferred the scene of her fight for divorce from Charles W Alisky from San Francisco to Oregon City.

In filing a dismissal of her local suit for absolute separation the wife announces that while fighting for money and freedom here she has been made defendant in a suit brought in the Circuit Court at Oregon City, Or., by her husband seeking divorce.

Mrs. Alisky has petitioned the Oregon court to grant her $250 a month allowance during the pendency of the case, declaring that Alisky's income is in excess of $750 a month.

OREGON APPLE CROP EXCEEDS ESTIMATE

As a result of heavier receipts from the country immediately tributary to Portland the apple market has eased off to some extent during the past week or two. From hundreds of valley orchards, large and small, where the gathering of the late varieties has since the first of the month been actively under way, the growers, having stored all they care to carry through the winter, are taking the surplus to the Portland market.

Supplies in the hands of dealers are said to be the heaviest for the season to date, and the fruit is still coming in from the country in a liberal way. It is also believed that the state's crop for the year was considerably above the estimates of two months ago, the output of the small orchards scattered throughout Western Oregon being a factor of no small importance in the present showing. Prices consequently have given way.
