The Past, Present, and Future.

I can see that I grow older,
And I note it day by day!
I can feel my heart grow colder
As its pleasures pass away;
At the telltale glass I linger,
As with faded eye I trace
Solemn tokens which Time's finger
Has engraven on my face.

But one moment can restore me
To my boyhood and my home,
And sweet memories come o'er me
Of that brief and blessed time;
Then I hear a father's blessing,
And I feel a mother's kiss;
And again I am caressing
One who's shared with me my bliss.

Who shall say the Past must perish
'Neath the Future's coming waves?
What the soul delights to cherish,
From Oblivion's depth it saves!
Looking backward, on I'm gliding,
Till I reach that final shore
Where the Present is abiding,
And where Change shall come no more.

Official Account of the Capture of the Indian Murderers.

Intelligence was received by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs yesterday of a highly important character. The Indian Agent at Ft. Laramie writes to the effect that Red Leaf, Long Chin and Spotted Tail, the three principals engaged in the attack upon and murder of the mail party in Nov., 1854, had been delivered up to him on the 5th ult., and were turned over to the commandant at Ft. Leavenworth by him at which place they were expected to arrive on the 5th inst., having been sent thither under escort. These Indians were accompanied by their women and children and by a few friends, making in all thirteen persons.

Two boys, or quite young men, who were present during the attack, but who took no part in it, have not been surrendered. One of them has been sick for month past, and is now so feeble as to prevent his being moved. The other was on the Little Missouri River, in company with the Minneconjons, and had been sent for. A young Indian, a cousin to the latter, had been offered as a hostage, but was not accepted as such, because the chiefs of the Brule band had pledged themselves for his surrender as soon as runners could get to him and return.—Wash. Union Dec. 21

THE GRAVE OF MADISON.—A correspondent of the Fredericksburg News, in Culpepper county, Va., gives a melancholy picture of the last resting place of the illustrious Madison. He lies with his family in a grave yard a short distance from his house, upon his estate of Montpelier; the family cemetery is surrounded by a brick wall, and the gate is entirely down. The correspondent says that not a stone marks the great man's resting place; dark, running green box wraps it with verdure, and the tracery of branches from an old leafless chestnut tree, relieving itself against the warm azure sky, nod and wave over the dark mountain—'Tis a solemn, calm and peaceful spot.

The correspondent adds that Mrs. Madison's remains are in the vault of the Congressional burial ground in Washington.—Her direction was to be interred by the side of her husband, but her son never fulfilled her request.

INTERESTING RELIC.—Mr. George Gibbs, in his report to Capt. McClellan, on the Indian tribes of the Territory of Washington, published in the reports to Congress on the exploration for a Pacific Railroad, records having fallen in with a very interesting relic among the Walla Wallas:

"At the crossing of Snake River, he says, at the mouth of the Pelouse, the Chief of the band Wat-tai-wattai-how-lis, in coming to visit Capt. McClellan, exhibited with great pride the medal presented to his father, Ke-powh-kan, by Capts. Lewis and Clarke. It is of silver, double, and hollow, having on the obverse a medallion bust with the legend "Thomas Jefferson, President, U. S. A.D. 1801;" and on the reverse the clasped hand, pipe and battle axe, crossed, with the legend, "Peace and Friendship."

SENATORS TRUMBULL AND HARLAN.—It appears both these gentlemen have been admitted to their seats in the Senate. A protest was presented by Gen Cass, from a portion of the members of the Illinois Legislature against Judge Trumbull, which was passed by, and on the presentation of his credentials by Mr. Crittenden, he was qualified and took his seat.

Mr. Harlan's credentials were also presented, and Senator Jones of Iowa stated that a protest was before the Senate in regard to his election, but as he was anxious for the assistance of his colleague, he moved that he be sworn in, which was accordingly done.

POST COACHES TO CALIFORNIA.—On the first day of the U. S Senate's organization, among other notices of bills to be introduced, was the following:

By Mr. Weller: A bill to authorize the Postmaster General to contract for the transportation of the United States mails in four-horse coaches, tri-weekly from St. Louis, Missouri, to San Francisco, California.

PRESIDENTIAL.—A Philadelphia correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says in a recent letter:

"I am informed from a reliable source that Gov. Wise, of Va., has written a letter here withdrawing his claims to the Democratic Presidential nomination in favor of James Buchanan, and that information has been received from Gov. Cobb, of Ga., also strongly in favor of Buchanan.—Of the delegates to our Democratic State convention, Buchanan has one hundred and ten, Dallas twenty. You may expect, accordingly, a full Buchanan delegation to Cincinnati, and resolutions in his behalf from this State Convention, which will have a powerful influence in other States. The movement of Wise in his favor is considered here as making Buchanan the Democratic nominee; but nothing is certain with that two-third Democratic rule to get over. Perhaps an effort will be made to repeal it in advance of a nomination"

☞ The men who commence their career under the most favorable auspices, and the most flattering prospects of success, do not always obtain the eminence they seek. The race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong. There is a certain ordeal which all men must undergo in their passage through life, and it is very questionable whether he succeeds best who commences under the most apparently advantageous circumstances. There is such a thing as a man depending too much upon his means, and too little upon himself. Small certainties, it has been observed, are often the ruin of man.

POPULATION OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.—The Census returns have been so far completed as to give the entire population of the State, which is three millions four hundred and sixty six thousand, one hundred and eighteen (3,466 118.) This is exclusive of the population of the Indian reservation, which will add about three thousand. At the last census, in 1850, the population was 3,095,394.

The population of New York City is 658,810.

☞ The proposed national monument at Plymouth is to consist of a colossal figure of Faith pointing to the skies, made of granite, and 70 feet high. With the pedestal it will form a monument 150 feet high.

THEORY OF THE ASTEROIDS.—Prof. Alexander, of Princeton, has recently prepared a paper on the subject of the asteroids, which is ingenious. His conclusion is, that between Mars and Jupiter there once revolved a planet with an equatorial diameter of 70,000 miles, and a polar diameter of only eight miles, thus being shaped like a wafer. Having a great velocity on its axis, it burst as some grinding stones do, and its fragments formed the asteroids. This theory of the asteroids is brought to support that of the Platonists and nebular hypothesis.

☞ Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Smith, a distinguished divine of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, is being tried by the Conference now in session at Petersburg, on the charges of falsehood, immorality and slander. Dr. Smith's accuser is the Rev Charles F. Deems, of the North Carolina Conference.

Population of California.

California poured at her recent State election nearly one hundred thousand votes. Under ordinary circumstances this would indicate a very large population, but there is an anomalous condition of things in that region. It is a community composed chiefly of males, the females being still comparatively few. In a society containing one hundred thousand adult males there ought to be at least 500,000 women, children and youths, or an aggregate population of 600,000. This would be placing it in the same ratio with Minnesota and other new Territories, where the males are always in excess of the usual proportion. But if California were like any of the well settled States, the population would be eight or nine hundred thousand. We showed, some time ago, by an examination of the passenger statistics, that the process of equalizing the sexes in California is gradually going on, by a preponderance of females in the emigration thitherward. Should this work of equalization be accomplished by the year 1860, it seems probable that California will rank high among her sister states in the census of that period.—Phil. N. American.

☞ Near Zanesville, Ohio, an Irishman lives, who is the proprietor of a beauty of a shanty a little way east of that thriving place. He purchased a cow a few weeks ago, and as she was rather wild, he had to hasten her and lead her home. As soon as he reached the lovely cot wherein his wife and the little Pats were lodging, they came out to meet him, whereupon Mrs Pat thus began:

"Well, Pat, me darlint, where did you git that beast of a cow?"

"Ishure an' I got it of ould Mr. Higgins up the road"

"What, did ye buy a cow of that ould Protestant?"

An' why not, Bridget dear. Jist ye bring out that bottle of holy water, and I'll be afther pouring it on her, and it will make all right in no time."

Bridget did as she was bid, and bringing the bottle to Pat, he took it and poured it on the animal's back, making the cross with all due devotion as he poured. But the old woman, by mistake, had brought him a bottle of vitriol, and Pat was astonished to find that the cow was frantic under the operation, kicking more by far than before he applied the holy water. He tried it again, and poured on more, when the cow broke loose from Pat and knocked him over as she dashed away, to the terror of poor little Bridget, who screamed out:

"Holy Virgin and mother of Moses! isn't the Protestant strong in her yet?"—Knickerbocker.

War Against Hard Times!

The Place to Get your Money Back.

CHARMAN & WARNER are now carrying on the BAKERY and CONFECTIONERY business at their old stand, where they are still determined to deal on terms to suit the times. Our motto is, "a nimble sixpence is better than a slow shilling;" and we are determined to sell, if we do sell upon a very small profit. We are keeping every variety, PROVISIONS, BREAD, CAKES, PIES, &c., &c., that were ever manufactured out of flour. We keep also all kinds of GROCERIES, such as Sugar, Coffee, Tobacco, Cigars, Raisins, Spices, besides many Drugs and Medicines. (We don't keep any "quack" medicines, however.) We have bought out the other bakery, and intend to fix up another establishment soon. The press of business is so great that we are compelled to "spread ourselves" over a larger platform.

☞ Country produce bought and sold.

'Tis no trouble to show "victuals." Call and try us.

Fruit Trees for Sale.

I WOULD respectfully call the attention of those who want Fruit Trees to my Nursery, near the bank of the Willamette, opposite Buteville, containing some nine acres of fine yearling or two year old trees, numbering some 50,000, mostly grafted. They are of fine healthy growth, very stocky, and raised without manure, which is a very important point, and embrace most of the leading kinds of Apples, Pears, Peaches, &c. Most of my kinds I have introduced here, at great expense, from the best nurseries in the Atlantic States, and they have mostly borne fruit which proves of the highest excellence.

I shall be on hand at the Nursery from the 25th Oct. until about the first of February, and ready at all times to wait upon those who may favor me with a call. I shall sell for cash only, and the prices will be low in accordance with the hard times. All trees purchased will be labelled and carefully packed, and delivered at the landing opposite Buteville, without extra charge. From the 1st of Feb I shall be at Oregon City to attend to selling trees there. JOHN W. LADD.

Who Wants a Good Saddle?

THE subscriber, living five miles south-west of Lafayette, in Yamhill county, is now carrying on the business of Saddle Making in good earnest. He keeps constantly on hand the best saddles that can be manufactured with the materials at command in Oregon. Those wishing a genuine saddle warranted to fit on both horses and rigged out in a complete style, cheap for cash, or good trade would do well to give me a call. My shop is situated on Bakers Creek near where the road crosses it leading from Portland and Oregon City, up country, by the way of Smith's bridge on the North Fork of Yamhill.

☞ I keep every thing in the saddlery line, as Bridles, Martingales, Halters, Lines, &c., &c.
