and in none is there any contradiction.

The testimony of Libby is confirmed by Law, and also in the following points by others:

1. He was at Bunker's when the Chapman was bought by Greathouse. This is confirmed by Bunker.

2. As to the bribe to put the guns on board secretly, he is confirmed by Rowe.

3. As to taking the seamen to drink, and about putting the seamen into the [illegible], he is confirmed by the seamen.

4. As to the men going on board after ten o'clock at night, he is confirmed by Farwell, McLean and Lees.

5. As to the bulkhead made with boxes, he is confirmed by the seamen.

6. As to the breaking open of the boxes for arms, he is confirmed by the seamen.

Judge Campbell remarked, that as the defence had not ventured to introduce any evidence about a matter in regard to which they knew everything, and had not attempted to argue against the evidence introduced by the prosecution, and as the evidence was so abundant and conclusive, it was not necessary for him to say much about the facts, but he wished to call attention to everything that could bear on the case.

The verdict in this case will not slumber in musty papers, but will go forth on wings of lightning to all parts of the civilized world. It will give new zeal to the patriot and new encouragement to the soldier. They will know that California does not intend to foster treason by allowing it to go unpunished. The celebrated author of the "History of the Peninsula War," says that the moral power in an army is to its physical power as three to one; and nothing can be so disheartening to the soldier, as to know that while he is exposing his life to the battle, the Legislature and the Judiciary are giving up, without a struggle, the very principles for which he risks all. In a struggle like the present, when the life of the nation is at stake, every man's duty to perform to his country; and he must be true to the obligations of patriotism wherever he may be. The municipal branch of the Government, which is now represented by this Jury, must be faithful, as well as the military. Let justice be done though the heavens fall.

Judge Campbell ended his speech with an eloquent peroration.

Judges Field and Hoffman each read clear and forcible charges to the jury, which I will send you in my next. They will be read with interest, as settling the law in such cases in the Circuit and District Courts of the Pacific.

Yours, &c., A. C. Gibbs.

Sentence.—The "Chapman" pirates, lately convicted at San Francisco, Harpending, Greathouse, and Ridley, have each been sentenced to ten years in the [illegible] and to pay $10,000 fine—the [illegible] of the law.

[illegible] and Banks.

[illegible] Banks at the [illegible] Vicksburg is [illegible] We agree [illegible] that we observe the [illegible] to seize of [illegible] the vic- [illegible] which have [illegible] New Orleans arrived at [illegible] of the Mississippi and [illegible] grasped each other's hands [illegible] a sight which will not be forgotten by those who had the privilege of witnessing the interview between those brave and successful chieftains.

To them had been assigned the most arduous task of the war. They were to reduce two of the strongest fortified positions held by the enemy, positions which they claimed were impregnable, and which they boasted were never to yield to the Union arms. The mighty Father of Waters was to be unfettered, and his broad bosom once more given to the commerce of the great Northwest. The task was herculean. But bold hearts, resolute wills, untiring energies, and earnest zeal characterized the two leaders who were set apart for the work, and they commenced and carried through their gigantic labors with a courage and determination which never flinched or faltered. Grant—whose sword has never left its scabbard but to return wreathed with the laurels of victory—after long and weary days of exposure, labor, and battle, witnessed the humiliation of the rebel flag, and beheld the national banner unfurled in triumph over the capitured heights of Vicksburg. Banks, undaunted amid all trials, the knight sans peur et sans reproche, with a perseverance in his work worthy of the cause to which the work was dedicated, had the proud satisfaction of seeing the emblem of treason lowered to the stars and stripes on the ramparts of Port Hudson. Thus was the mission accomplished. The Mississippi open, their task was finished in the main, and it was proper that the two conquerors should meet in congratulation on the banks of the noble stream. Hereafter the names of Grant and Banks, and the heroic men who seconded their efforts, shall be coupled with that of the majestic river which their valor restored to the Union as the nation's great highway, and which future generations shall consider the most enduring and fitting monument to their deeds and their memories.—Louisville Journal.

The State Elections---Triumph of the Union.

Ohio, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Indiana, Maine, and California have held their annual elections, and the result is an overwhelming Union victory in each State.—The increased vote in favor of sustaining the Administration, as compared with the vote in the same States last year, has been tremendous. There is scarcely a chance for the Copperheads to carry a single Northern State this year, for the same causes which have produced such wonderful changes in Ohio and Pennsylvania will doubtless operate in New York and elsewhere. The entire Northern States are becoming more united in favor of prosecuting the war to a successful termination at any and every sacrifice, that any former period since the rebellion commenced.—We are soon to have a united North, upon which the Administration can call for recruits to our armies without encountering riotous opposition from the "Democracy." This unmistakable approval of the Administration in carrying on the war will show to the South, in a stronger light than ever before, the utter hopelessness of their cause.—S. F. Bulletin.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE ARGUS.]

Sunday's Dispatch.

New York, Oct. 20.—The Herald's special from army of Potomac, 18th, says it is now definitely settled that rebels are falling back towards the Rapidan and our army offers them battle by advancing.

The railroad has been repaired and trains run as far as Bristow station to-day. To-morrow supply trains will run to or beyond that place.

Trestle bridge near Bristow has been burned by rebels and track between Manassas and Cotlett's and station almost torn up by them.

Slight skirmishing to-day does not indicate a general engagement probable and the campaign except pursuit of fleeing rebels may considered closed.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Yesterday, White's and Moseby's guerrillas numbering 1,200 came down from Aldie near Chantilly and taking the Flying Pan road succeeded in getting between army and defenses at Washington. One gang came within a mile of Chain bridge and fired into the rifle pits of one of the forts. Several officers were captured together with six men of the 13th New York cavalry and a number of surgeons. Our cavalry went in pursuit of them and a brisk fight ensued in which the rebels were defeated with considerable loss.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Military authorities have not reached any positive conclusion, as to the strength or position of Lee's army, but the general opinion is that he has fallen back to his old position.

Buford's cavalry division visited Chantilly, Aldie, and Drainsville without discovering the enemy. They discovered that Stuart and his cavalry had passed the day before in the direction of Aldie, and yesterday towards Leesburg. It is believed they were en route for Maryland.

The rebels are fortifying on the Rappahannock. They are taking up the rails and destroying all the bridges along the route.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The Richmond Sentinel says we understand that in consequence of the action of the British Consul relative to foreigners enlisted in the Confederate service, the President felt it his duty to disabuse all of them.

New York, Oct. 20.—The Tribune has the following important announcement in its editorial columns:

We understand upon authority from Washington, which we deem trustworthy that Gen. Rosecrans is about to be removed from command of the Army of the Cumberland.

Washington, Oct. 19.—There is no truth in the statement that Meade is with in the defences of Washington. As yet no tidings of Lee's whereabouts.

Washington, 20.—A Richmond paper has the following: It appears there is a wide difference as regards the numbers of prisoners with which we should be credited, and all arrangements for the present are knocked on the head.

Charleston, 15.—Firing from our forts continues. The Federals are making no reply but continue working additional numbered transports.

Lynchburg, Va., 16.—27 regiments of Yankee cavalry and mounted infantry numbering 14,000 men passed Greenville, Tenn., bound eastward, to make a raid on the Va. and Tenn. R. R., and attack our forces west of Greenville.

On the 11th, our forces withdrew to Henderson ten miles east of Greenville.—Enemy succeeded in getting into our rear when our forces fell back to Zollicoffer, when Yanks heavily reinforced advanced upon them and we again retreated to Bristol. Our loss in both days fight was 200 killed and wounded. Our wounded fell into the hands of the enemy.

Wednesday night the enemy advanced on Bristol and it is reported they have advanced towards Abington with a heavy force of from 2,000 to 10,000.

Yreka, Oct. 21.—Line down to-day.

THE LATEST.

TO-DAY'S DISPATCH.

Nashville, Oct. 20.—Quartermaster-General Meigs and Gen. Grant and staff arrived this afternoon. It is reported that Gen. Grant assumes command of the Departments of the Cumberland, the Tennessee, and the Ohio, the whole to be called the Military Division of the Mississippi.—The telegraph is working to Chattanooga. The river has fallen; there is but 5 feet of water on the shoals.

New York, 21st.—Gold unsettled, opening at 46½, and closing at 44¾. Sterling dull and lower, opening at 160, and closing at 161. Government stocks firm.

The steamer Fulton, from Stono Inlet, Oct. 18, reports all quiet at Charleston.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—Gen. Schofield has issued an order for regulating the November election in this State. Inspectors of election will be held strictly responsible that none but qualified voters shall be allowed to vote, and any act of their excluding qualified voters from the polls will be punished as a military offense. Any person having borne arms against the Government or given aid to the confederates during the present rebellion, who shall presume to act as judge or clerk at said election, and any county judge who shall knowingly appoint such person as judge, shall be deemed guilty of a violation of military orders, and punished accordingly. In parts of the State where there is danger of interference by guerrillas or persons intending to overawe or intimidate loyal voters, military commanders are structed to prevent such interference, but where there is no danger the troops will absent themselves from the polls entirely.

Resolutions

Passed by the Oregon Annual Conference, Church of the United Brethren in Christ, held at Pleasant Point, Marion County, Oregon, commencing Oct. 15, 1863.

Resolved, 1. That we reiterate substantially our sentiments expressed at former sessions of this Conference declaring our unaltered and unalterable attachment to our Government. In peace or war, prosperity or adversity, she has our sympathies, our prayers, and our cordial support.

Resolved, 2. That in President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation we recognize an honest effort to strike at the root of our national ills, and with all our hearts we say let slavery perish, and our nation live,—let oppression and legalized injustice go down. We shed no tears over the grave of this monster evil.

Resolved, 3. That we feel constrained to acknowledge that our very many sins, personal, social, and political, justly incurred the divine displeasure, and caused the Supreme Being to suffer at least this sore chastisement to come upon us, and we should feel called upon, by the cries of fatherless children and the sighs of bereaved widows, by the groans of wounded and dying brothers and fathers, by desolated homes, and a distracted country, as well as by the word of God, to bow down in deep humility before Him, and sincerely repent of these our many aggravated offenses.

BILIOUS FEVER CURED.

Portsmouth, Ohio, April 1, 1859.

Messrs. A. L. Stone & Co.

Gents:—I have been, for years, subject to attacks of Bilious Fever, and some times I have been laid up for months, and my system left in a feeble state by the use of strong medicines, which was given to be by my physician.

I have been using Dr. Mott's Liver Pills for some time. I find that I can break their attacks in a day or so, and escape entirely the fever. My daughter had an attack of Dysentery, which she treated with Mott's Liver Pills, and could not retain anything without immediately vomiting it out. Her stomach also could not retain anything without immediately vomiting it out. Some time since she got and has been using Dr. Mott's Liver Pills, and she says she will take another bottle. I have found also that they are the most valuable Pills for breaking up colds, headache, fever in the side and back, I would not be without them in our family.

THE SUBSCRIBER TAKES THIS METHOD to inform the citizens of Salem, and vicinity, that he has RESUMED HIS PRACTICE, and will be ready at all times to attend to calls in his profession. His office is over the store of Messrs. J. H. & I. R. Moores—and his residence is on the same block as those of I. R. Moores and W. S. Barker. He may be found either at his residence or office.

The subscriber would say that he has resided in this town since 1850, and with what success he has treated diseases he will leave to those to decide who have employed him. But one thing he will say, at the risk of being called egotistical, that he has not lost one patient with fever of any type since he has been on the Pacific coast, and proof is challenged to show the contrary. He can assure those who may employ him that his remedies are from the surface of the earth, where gives the staff of life, and whom is caused to grow by the beneficent Being. These remedies will remove disease when judiciously administered, as bread removes hunger. This has he spoken of his past, and of the course he will pursue in future.

LIFE! LIFE!! LIFE!!!

If Life and Health are Valuable, why not use the proper means to preserve them?

If the System is Diseased, [illegible] risk by using PILLS compos[illegible] mel or Mercury.

Once Use Dr. Mott'S Li[illegible] and you will USE NO O[illegible]

DR. MOTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS are composed entirely of chemical vegetable extracts, mostly from plants growing in our own country; some of these plants have a direct action on the Liver, others on the Skin, others on the Kidneys, and others upon the Bowels and Lungs. It is by a peculiar chemical combination of all these extracts that these pills are made, possessing the most extraordinary efficacy for curing the above named diseases.

In Chronic Diseases, or diseases of long standing, such as Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Constipation of the Bowels, Erysipelas, Scrofula, Goiter, Scald Head, Barber's Itch, Sore Eyes, Pimples on the Skin, and Old Sores, the treatment with these Pills should be continued for a longer time than with less stubborn diseases.

Remember that it will require perseverance in the use of the pills in chronic diseases. The humor or matter has been accumulating a long time in the system, even before the disease made its appearance; and the time it will take to cure the part that is diseased will be in proportion to the derangement of that portion of the body, and the amount of disease in the constitution. It will be little use to commence for a short time only. The Poisonous Humors must be carried, in small particles, through the blood, and removed from the system through the secretion of the bowels, kidneys, and skin, until all these morbid functions of the body and the health of the system are restored to their proper tone.
