A BRAVE SOLDIER MUSTERED OUT

George W. Crawford, One of the Famous Privates of the Civil War

Sergeant George W. Crawford, 73 years old, who is said to have taken part in more battles during the Civil war than any other individual soldier, is dead at the family home at 1503 Fremont street, north side. At the close of the war Sergeant Crawford was given honorable mention by President Abraham Lincoln for his conspicious bravery. He was born in Ohio township, Allegheny county, and lived with his parents until the outbreak of the Civil war. In September, 1861 he enlisted in this city under Captain S. B. M. Young, as a private in Company B, Fourth Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry. Sergeant Crawford distinguished himself for bravery in the following engagements:

Siege of Yorktown, Williamsburg, Fair Oaks, Seven Pines, Oak Grove, Mechanicsville, Gaines Mills, Savage Station, Peach Orchard, White Oak Swamp, Glendale, Malvern Hill, Harrison's Landing, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Kelley's Ford, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Warrenton Sulphur Springs, Catlett Station, Battle of the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, North Ann, Totopotomoy Station, St. Mary's Church, Petersburg, Weldon Railroad, Deep Bottom, Strawberry Plains, Boydton Road, Hatcher's Run, Dinwiddie, C. H., Sutherland Station, Sailor's Creek and Appomattox, and was present at General Lee's surrender.

For his bravery Mr. Crawford was made coroporal and later sergeant. He was made a prisoner of war and served five and one-half months in Libby prison, and was paroled December 29, 1863.

At the close of the war he returned to Pittsburg and May 30, 1867 was married to Miss Sarah Duff, who died November 12, 1872. He remarried two years later to Miss Kate Masonheimer, who with four sons, Harry D, William F, Albert M. and George W. Crawford, and two daughters, Mrs. Blanch Stolbert of Mr. Washington and Mrs. Anna Santimyen of Beachview, survive. He is also survived by seen borthers.

Robert Crawford of Wells Neada, Adam Crawford of Walterville, Ore., Hugh Crawford, Canton, Penn., Louis Crawford of North Side; John Crawford of Parnassus; and Chas. and Hiram Crawford of Emsworth. He was a member of J. B. Clark Post No. 162, G. A. R. and Union Veteran Legion No. 6, and the Allegheny County Prisoners of War Association.

ACCUSED WEZLER MAY PROVE ALIBI

Portland, Or., April 18.—Confirming the declaration of Charles J. Wezler, accused of the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Schulz, that he would be able to prove an alibi, two witnesses in this city yesterday said positively that they talked with Wezler on Monday, April 4. This is the day on which the crime on the road leading to Gig harbor is believed to have been committed.

Ernest Traxler, piano player in the Arcade Theater, and B. B. Vincent, employed as a singer in the same place, are certain that Wezler was in this city on the day that Mrs. Shulz was lured to her death by a decoy letter. Both men say that, beyond doubt, they talked with Wezler in front of Ralph C. Knight's cigar store on Washington street Monday morning between 10:45 and 12 o'clock.

DO IT NOW.

Eugene People Should not Wait Until it is Too Late.

The appealing death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headache, or dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage, and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home.

William A. Haskell, 272 W. Seventh street, Eugene, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills helped me greatly some three years ago and I am glad to make the fact known. This remedy has been used by other members of my family and in every case the best results have been receivde."

VICTOR BERGER, SOCIALIST LEADER, ISSUES ADDRESS

Milwaukee, April 18.—Victor E. Berger, alderman at large elect and spokesman of the Social Democratic party in Milwaukee, today issued a statement giving an outline of the principles that will guide the social democratic administration of Milwaukee during the next two years, beginning with tomorrow, when the inaugural ceremonies will take place.

In his slate Mr. Berger says:

"The present system of social production by individual ownership has produced two classes—the propertyless class and the capital class. The middle class once the backbone of this great nation, is fast disappearing in the mill of competition and the issue is now between the first two classes. All attempts to obscure the issue or to delay the settlement are futile, for all other issues will be speedily absorbed by it. Thus it develops that the battle for human rights has become a battle to determine which form of government we shall have in the future—plutocracy or democracy.

"Political liberty alone has become inadequate; we must have both political and economicl liberty. To secure this is the aim of social democracy.

"In city affairs we stand for the public ownership of municipal utilities. We are well aware, however, that Milwaukee does not enjoy self-government, and that as a rule, no steps can be taken in that direction without an appeal to the state legislature at Madison.

"In municipal affairs the social democracy stands also for radical changes that will bring the means of production into the hands of the people. It believes in self-government for the city, the initiative, the referendum and right of the recall; in a just and equitable taxation; in efficient sanitary inspection of workshops and houses, and in the public control of the food supply in the interests of public health, and in the highest development of a reasonable public service. At the proper time the social democracy will initiate these and other things.

"We call attention to the fact that the measures we urge are in no way a complete cure for existing evils, nor are they necessarily socialistic measures. They are to be viewed rather as palliatives, capable of being carried out even under present conditions. Under no circumstances should the working people rest content with municipal improvements which are merely temporary in their nature, and must be entirely inadequate. They should move onward to the conquest of all public powers, to an entire change from the present system for one which shall secure to the people collectively the means of production and distribution.

"The mainspring of corruption in municipal affairs is found to be in the fact that a few aldermen or officials have in their power to give away or sell franchises to capitalists who thereby make millions. The temptation thus offered our public officials to secure a share in the millions thus given away is too great for the average man to withstand. If the city should operate its public utilities the motives and the opportunity for bribery would be gone even if minor evils and breaches of trust might continue, owing to the corrupting influences of the capitalistic system, which makes money-getting the sole object of life. The social democracy, therefore, objects to more competition in public utilities—more competition means corruption.

"We stand for the public ownership of public utilities, but until we reach this we will enforce the utmost extension and possible service from these utilities, as far as the present laws will permit.

"We look upon the contract system also as a danger. It constantly induces contractors to bribe city officials on the one hand and to exploit their workmen on the other. Moreover, it is always in the interest of the city that citizens earn decent wages; therefore, instead of contractors, the labor unions ought to be encouraged The city should stand pledged, as far as the charter permits, to employ only union labor at eight hours a day, and should require the same of all contractors doing city work.

"The money made out of the city by contractors will better go toward the relief of the unemployed; First, by the improvement of the streets; second, by the establishment of public coal and wood years and public ice houses. In this climate ice is as necessary in summer as coal is in winter. These necessities should be sold at cost. The city could easily harvest an abundance of ice during the winter months, thus employing many citizens who would otherwise have to receive public aid. We realize that giving work to the unemployed can solve no industrial problems, but it is the least that can be done as a humane duty toward those in distress.

"Free education is essential to a higher civilization. Free books are as much of a part of a free education as free teachers and free schoolhouses. The social democracy demands that books and school utensils be furnished free to all pupils attending the public schools.

"This naturally leads us to the question of taxation. If corporations bore their share of taxes—figured at even present valuation—the taxes of all cities could be reduced 20 per cent and there would still be enough money in the city treasury which could be used for public improvements of all kinds."

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS STOLEN FROM RAILROAD

Chicago, April 17.—Five million dollars is declared today to be a not extravagant estimate of the sum that the Illinois Central has lost in a swindle that a detective agency is investigating.

Although the sum that the railroad is alleged to have lost early was set at $1,000,000, the revelations made by the inquiry of the detectives put upon the case by President J. T. Harahan, declared to have raised this figure until now it is nearer $5,000,000.

W. J. Burns, the San Francisco graft investigator, and 75 operatives under him are doing the work, which covers a period of four years' speculations and has reached to nearly every city upon the system of the Illinois Central railroad.

An interesting sidelight upon the affairs of the Illinois Central is that within the past year there has been almost an entire reorganization of the official family, the old officials having given away to new ones.

PENDLETON PLANS TO RISE WITH SUN AND SAVE AN HOUR

Pendleton, Or., April 17.—"Conservation of daylight" is being agitated in Pendleton, and if a plan outlined by the city council last night by Leon Cohen, a prominent merchant, is adopted, the people of this city may set their clocks one hour ahead, and thus make the day's activities begin with sunrise.

Cohen declares that civilized man is a slave to clocks, and that all his actions are governed by the hands of the dial rather than by the sun. Thus, he says, is one hour of daylight in the morning wasted. By the proposed plan, the citizens would be able to have the latter part of daylight for recreation.

The council has taken the proposal under advisement for a week, and in the meantime Cohen will take it up with the Commercial club and try to secure its endorsement. The attitude of the people at large is favorable. The plan is a new one in this state, but is in vogue in England and Cincinnati and several other cities of the United States.

FRAZER WILL BUILD FOUNDRY AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield will soon have a first-class foundry and iron works to be built by G. N. Frazer, of the Eugene Iron Work, the new plant to be a branch of his big plant in Eugene. He has employed John Hunzicker, the architect, to draw plans for the main building, which will be 40x80 feet in dimensions. A location has been secured and work on the building will begin in a short time.

The Eugene Iron Works does a big business in repair work for the mills of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Co., and to establish a branch at Springfield will greatly facilitate the work. This plant will also be closer to Marcola, where several mills are located, as well as being closer to other mills along the Mohawk, many of which have their work done by Mr. Frazer.

While the Springfield plant will do much of this repair work, the plant in Eugene will attend the heavier jobs. There is a field for both plants and both will doubtless be kept busy.

OLIVER'S MEETING AT ASHLAND NOT GREAT SUCCESS

Some of the Churches Withdrew After Meeting Began—A Practical Joke

Ashland, Or., April 17—The Oliver revivals reached an anti-climax last night, as a result of a practical joke played by some one, for the apprehension of whom the evangelist offered a reward of $150 before dismissing his congregation hurriedly.

The revivals were held in the Chautauqua tabernacle. In the midst of the service last night, the revivalist suddenly pressed his handkerchief to his nose, and seemed to be in distress. The congregation was not long in doubt what alled him. An undefinable, but not vague odor, permeated the building. Almost in no time it became oppressive. Oliver reviled the perpetrators for a time. At length he gave up and dismissed the meeting.

It was necessary to fumigate the building this morning before the regular Sunday services could be held.

There has been division of opinion in Ashland over the Oliver revivals. The ministers of the evangelical churches united in bringing Oliver here four weeks ago, but some of them formally withdrew after the meetings began and some of the others gave half-hearted support. Members of secret societies have not been friendly toward Oliver because of the violence of his language toward their orders. Oliver's methods were peculiar, and in many quarters met with frank disapproval.

MINISTER TELLS FLOCK TO STAY AWAY

Medford, Or., April 17.—The South Methodist minister of this place has requested his congregation not to attend the revival meeting of Evangelist Oliver, who begins a six-weeks' revival here tomorrow. Some of the people of Ashland recently took exception to remarks made by the eangelist, and demanded a public apology of the ministerial body of that place.

RAILROAD PROMOTERS LEAVE FOR COOS BAY

Messrs. Kidder, Ness and Svarverud Will Interview the People of That Section

F. B. Kidder, M. Svarverud and S. P. Ness, of the Lane County Asset Co., left yesterday on a trip to Coos Bay, to interest the people of that section of the state in the building of the proposed railroad from Eugene to that point via Florence. They are going by way of Drain and Gardiner and upon their return will come by way of the route of the proposed road. They expect to be gone two or three weeks.

At a previous visit of representatives of the company to Coos Bay they were given encouragement to build the road and promises were made of financial assistance to secure the survey and right-of-way. If the promises made then are redeemed there will be no trouble in securing the necessary funds.

FOREIGN PROPERTY HAS BEEN BURNT

Changshu, China, April 18.—All of the foreign owned buildings in Chang-shu have been destroyed by fire, except the British Consulate. All the buildings rented by foreigners have been looted.

All foreigners have left the city. So far as known no foreign resident lost his life.

The Governor of Hunan province, Wu Tehung Siu, and his son, were killed, and several other government officials fled. Even yet a section of the city is in flames. Six thousand foreign drilled soldiers are stationed here and a few of these protected the governor's house for a time, but soon all joined the rioters.

Famine Sufferers Loot.

The riots began April 13, when the famine sufferers looted the rice depots. A captain of police was wounded trying to restore order. Thousands crowded around him and his assistants and he was obliged to flee to the Yamen. The rioters followed and besieged the place all night.

The following day the disturbance became anti-foreign. The Chinese Inland Mission and the Norwegian and Catholic missions were burned. The other missions were destroyed April 15. The missionaries attached to the American Episcopal Missionary Alliance, the United Evangelical church and the Wesleyan and Yale Scientists, numbering 41 in all, took refuge in boats. They left all their effects.

Foreign Property Destroyed.

The destruction of all foreign property, including the Japanese consulate and the British warehouses, followed. The fate of the Standard Oil Company's newly erected tanks is unknown.
