AN ACCURATE ESTIMATE.

Oregonian, February 5: Should Bryan be the Democratic candidate the Populists of Oregon will cercertainly stay with him and vote for him. This cannot be said of any other man who could receive the Democratic nomination. Bryan occupies a unique position. He can get the Democratic vote and the Populist vote of the West and South, and no other man can. The difficulty of the situation for the Republicans lies in the apparent probability that many of the multitude of Democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896 may vote for Bryan this year. The causes are numerous and complex. They lie partly in the events of the time and partly in the general estimate of the character of McKinley and his administration. But there is no man who can unite the Democrats and Populists of this state and of the West as Bryan can, and it may prove to be as hard a task to keep him from carrying Oregon as it was four years.

The position Bryan occupies in Democratic and Populist ranks, and in the esteem of the public, could not be more fully and accurately stated than in the Oregonian editorial. The only inaccuracy lies in the use of the word "should," in the first of the article. Death, or disability through some unforeseen event, only may prevent the nomination of Bryan when the Populist and Democratic national conventions convene the coming summer. The Oregonian, as well it may, fears his election. The McKinley-gold standard promises of prosperity through maintenance of gold as basic money have not been fulfilled. President McKinley's term has witnessed very low prices for the fruits of the farmer's toil, while the necessaries of life have been advanced under the high protective system for which, more than any other man, the president is responsible.

Trusts have been organized on every hand without the least attempt at concealment of their purpose to thrive and grow rich off the necessities of the people. And President McKinley cannot escape the trusts; they elected him, and with them his lot is cast. The people will have their say next November.

NOT DAZZLED BY YOUTH.

"Yes," said an Oklahoma farmer to a promising young man, recently, "I am proud of my girls, and would like to see them comfortably married, and as I have made a little money they will not go to their husbands penniless. There's Mary, 25 years, and a real good girl. I shall give her $5,000 when she is married. Then comes Bet, who won't see 35 again, and I shall give her $10,000; and the man who takes Eliza, who is 40, will have $15,000 with her." The "promising young man," reflected a moment or so, then inquired: "You havent one about 50, have you?"

Roseburg Review: The Albany Democrat reports plenty of enthusiasm among the Union forces of Linn county and a firm determination to carry the county. Fusion government has kept that county out of debt the past four years, built a new court house and given the taxpayers the lowest levy in the state. No wonder they are enthusiastic!

Polk county has a reputation for hanging for murder. The Magers execution was the fifth. Lane county has had but one. Not a few perpetrators of foul murders escaped their just deserts through the leniency of juries. The judges did their duty. The blame rests with the people.

It Has Happened

More than once that a child has been carried off by an eagle. When such a thing does happen the press rings with the story. There's not a line given by the press to the babies carried off daily by disease. It isn't the fact of the child being taken away that is startling or interesting, it's only when the method of taking off is novel that it excites interest. How many children die who might have been saved if the mother who bore them had been able to give them strength and vitality. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes healthy mothers and healthy mothers have healthy children, strong enough to resist disease if they are attacked.

Mrs. Axel Kjer, of Gordonville, Cape Girardeau Co., Mo., writes: "When I look at my little boy I feel it my duty to write to you. This is my fifth child and the only one who came to maturity; the others having died from lack of nourishment—so the doctor said. This time I just thought I would try your 'Prescription.' I took nine bottles and to my surprise it carried me through and gave us as fine a little boy as ever was. Weighed ten and one-half pounds. He is now five months old, has never been sick a day, and is so strong that everybody who sees him wonders at him."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels healthy and regular.

Having a Great Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Manager Martin, of the Pierson drug store, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of la grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief within a very short time. The sales are growing, and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet. For sale by W. L. DeLano.

Call for Meeting of Union Central Committee.

The members of the Union Central Committee are hereby called to meet at the City Hall in Eugene, Oregon, on to-wit: Saturday, the 10th day of February, 1900, at 1 o'clock, p. m., for consultation concerning the coming campaign.

M. S. WALLIS, Secretary.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M V Fisher, of Liberty, W Va, only repeats what has been said around the globe when he writes: 'I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by W L DeLano.
