RIVER REACHES SIXTEEN FEET AND FALLING

No Freshet This Time—Guard's Prediction of 16 Feet Fulfilled Exactly

As predicted by The Guard last evening, the Willamette river reached a maximum height of sixteen feet above low water mark this morning and is now receding almost as rapidly as it came up. The 16-foot mark was reached perhaps before daylight this morning and it was at that mark when the reading was made at 8 o'clock by the local river observer, E. G. Briggs. At noon it had fallen six inches and late this afternoon it is reported to be about 14 feet. The water spread out over considerable territory in the bottom opposite this city, but as far as learned there was very little damage as a result. The farmers living in that territory were prepared for the rise and none of them lost any small stock and no property except, perhaps, some fences were damaged.

Reports from Saginaw state that the Coast Fork at that place had fallen two feet this morning. The McKenzie was not out of its banks at all. All streams are falling and they will soon be in their normal condition.

No rain has fallen since yesterday afternoon, but the atmosphere has been warm and what snow the rain left on the ground is being gradually melted. There will soon be no trace of it left.

THE DRS. ATWOOD ARE CONVICTED

Found Guilty at Portland of Maintaining a Nuisance

Drs. C. H. and C. H. T. Atwood, the proprietors of the Atwood Maternity hospital at Tremont, on the Mount Scott carline, were convicted of maintaining a nuisance, at 6:45 o'clock last night, by a jury in Judge Cleland's department of the circuit court. Attorney Haynes, representing the defendants was present in the courtroom when the verdict was read, District Attorney Cameron and Deputy Page representing the state. The Atwoods were not present, and at 7:30 o'clock last night the elder doctor accompanied by Attorney C. F. Lord, was inquiring as to what the verdict was. The defendants have been out on bail since shortly after they were apprehended.

The case went to the jury early yesterday afternoon, Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald making the closing argument for the state, and Attorney Lord closing for the defense. Testimony was introduced by the state to show that the two defendants were in the habit of performing criminal operations at their establishment. When he first arrived in this country he announced his intention to offer as much aid to the composers of the western world as possible. Carrying out this plan, he is now ready to offer a prize for the best opera by an American. Frederick S. Converse, the Boston composer, probably will be the first to have one of his productions tried at the Metropolitan.
