Man pulls gun on Keizer cop, gets cuffed

A Keizer man is in jail on charges including attempted murder after pointing a gun at a Keizer police officer while attempting to elude a traffic stop.

Around 2:30 a.m. Friday, Oct. 14, Sgt. Jeff Goodman attempted to conduct a traffic stop on a red 1997 Honda Civic after pacing the vehicle going 46 mph traveling north on River Road North. The posted speed is 35 mph, and a DMV check showed the vehicle’s insurance had been terminated.

Goodman activated his lights to conduct a traffic stop near the intersection of River Road North and James Street Northeast. Another vehicle, which was later determined to be associated with the suspect vehicle attempted to interfere with the stop, but Goodman was able to get around and pursue the Civic.

After activating his car’s siren, the Civic made a right turn on Chemawa Road Northeast and then another right into the parking lot at Safeway.

The driver of the Civic turned back toward the exit south of Oregon State Credit Union, before hopping out of the moving car as it approached cement barricades in the parking lot.

As the driver exited, he turned to Goodman’s vehicle and squared his shoulder in what Goodman described as a “pistol shooting stance” in a probable cause statement.

Goodman came to a stop about 35 yards from the suspect and the vehicle and was stepping out of his patrol car when the Civic driver ran to the rear of the vehicle. The suspect raised his hand again and Goodman saw a black object in the man’s hand – it was later determined to be a 1911 Colt handgun.

Goodman said it appeared as though the man was attempting to fire the gun, but it did not discharge and ended up flying out of the suspect’s hand.

The suspect grabbed the gun and began fleeing on foot with Goodman in pursuit. As the man attempted to flee across River Road North, he fell in some bushes where police later found the handgun.

The suspect ran across River Road and hid under a vehicle at 120 Chemawa Road North where he was found and then taken into custody without further incident.

Investigating officers retrieved the handgun from the bushes with a round in the chamber, rounds in the magazine and with the safety disengaged.

Jose A. Hernandez was arrested and charged with attempted aggravated murder, two counts of attempting to elude, unlawful use of a weapon and a parole violation. Because Hernandez was previously convicted of a felony, he was also charged with felon in possession of a firearm and felon in possession of a restricted weapon – the latter the result of an electronic stun gun found in the Civic. He is being held without bail.

Police are still looking for the owner of the Civic. The key was jammed in the ignition indicating a shaved key was used for its operation. The license plate on the vehicle at the time of arrest was 851GAC.

Winds take down tree

High winds sheared a large branch off a tree along the parking lot of Schoolhouse Square Monday, Oct. 17. It fell on a fence around the current construction site.

The same winds knocked down a handful of trees in Keizer parks according to Bill Lawyer, Keizer Public Works director.

“The mayor came, members of the Chamber of Commerce came and other local businesses, too. We were just received so well,” Ricker said.

The Schoolhouse Square building that currently houses Mr. Video will be razed to make room for a new building already under construction. A coffee shop and sandwich shop will share the new building at Schoolhouse Square.

Ricker considered locations along north Lancaster Drive, he negotiated with property owners at Creekside Shopping Center for months before the deal fell through, but he’s settled on a new location just down the street in Keizer Village Shopping Center, 3826 River Road N. – between Subway and Kolby’s Restaurant Bar & Billiards.

The current location will remain open until Oct. 30, and Ricker hopes to be set up in his new digs for an opening on Nov. 4. The new space is considerably smaller, and won’t fit his Limeberry business-in-a-business frozen yogurt shop, but he hasn’t shuttered it completely either.

Limeberry has already closed in the current location, but Ricker was salvaging as much of the “storefront” as possible earlier this week.

“We’re hoping to find some place else in town for Limeberry, but we have to wait and see what opens up,” Ricker said.

While pulling up stakes for any business is a chore, video stores’ bread-and-butter are their catalogues of older titles.

“Video stores are like a bookstore or a library, most of the books in the library won’t get checked out for years and years, but people go in and expect to find what they are looking for,” Ricker said.

Streaming services are great for some things, but if you want to binge watch the entire Bruce Willis oeuvre or marathon all of the Alien movies, you’re going to need them in your home collection, or you’re going to need a video store.

“I was kind of mapping things out and we’ll lose about four shelving units, but we’re going to have a lot more wall space,” Ricker said.

Other than Mr. Video, the closest dedicated video rental store in the mid-Willamette Valley is in Woodburn.

Ricker said the business benefits from being something like a destination store. One recent new member walked in after getting a job in Salem, the person lives in Independence, Ricker said.

“Maybe 15 to 20 percent of our business comes from further out, but most of it is right here in Keizer or very close to it,” he said.
