Accidental Shooting.

On Saturday morning while out with his shotgun hunting ducks near their home opposite Johnson's mill, Gilbert Pinkston, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pinkston accidentally shot himself in the arm, severely injuring that member, but it is hoped that no complications may arise making amputation necessary.

The accident happened while the boy was crossing a fence, the hammer of the weapon coming in contact with something while the magazine was pointed toward his arm. While it is only a flesh wound, it is very severe and near the elbow, and while the arm may be saved it is likely that it will be weak and probably stiffened in that joint.

When the accident occured W. P. Laird was notified and in an exceedingly short time he with his big dappled gray and buggy had the lad in Doctor Culin's, office where the arm was dressed. The boy is now resting easily and getting along as nicely as could be expected under the circumstances.

(The Sun.)

The government dredger was brought up the bay last week by the steamer Flyer and is now being put in readiness for work in the vicinity of Smith's mill.

What Would You Do

In case of a scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur in any family and every one should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

If the reports from London are correct, Great Britain will follow America's precedent in sending a battleship fleet in a cruise around the world. The enthusiastic reception given Admiral Sperry and his men by New Zealand and Australlia caused some astonishment in England, and it is hinted that the proposed cruise is for the purpose of gently reminding the antipodean colonies that Great Britian still keeps in leash the biggest navy that sails the seas.

How to Cure a Cold

Be as careful as you can you will occasionally take cold, and when you do, get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. During the many years in which it has been in general use we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.
