DEEPER WATERWAYS

What Is Done for Oregon by Congress.

FOR RIVER AND HARBOR WORK

Amounts Appropriated for the Continuance of Improvements on the Columbia, Willamette and Other Rivers.

FOR HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS.

PROJECTS.	Appropriation asked for by Major W. C. Langfitt.	Amounts appropriated by Congress.
Tillamook Bay and bar	$ 16,000	$ 10,000
Coquille River	65,000	65,000
Upper Columbia and Snake Rivers	15,000	25,000
Columbia River at Cascades	100,000	40,000
Willamette and Yamhill Rivers	67,800	50,000
Lower Willamette and Columbia Rivers	625,000	220,000
Mouth of the Columbia	1,820,000	700,000
Columbia River locks and canal at The Dalles	750,000	300,000
Columbia River bet. Vancouver and the mouth of the Willamette	70,000	60,000
Gauging waters of the Columbia	1,000	1,000

While all the Government projects for the improvement of Oregon rivers and harbors, provided for in the appropriation bill just passed, are important to the state, those which directly affect Portland's commerce are those covering the Columbia and Willamette Rivers. In this is included the completion of the jetty at the mouth of the Columbia, the construction of the Celilo Canal and the improvement by clearing and deepening the channel of the Upper Columbia and Snake Rivers, the Upper Willamette and Yamhill Rivers, the Lower Willamette and Columbia Rivers and the Columbia between Vancouver, Wash., and the mouth of the Willamette.

The improvement of the mouth of the Columbia River consists at present in the construction of a jetty, known as the south jetty, which, when completed, will extend seven miles seaward. There are now about five and one-half miles practically completed. The project for this improvement contemplates the securing of a 40-foot channel with at least a width of one-half mile over the bar. The intended work of the Government to provide this is summarized in the annual report of the Chief of Engineers for 1902. In speaking of the project, this report says:

Bar Depth of Forty Feet.

"To produce a bar depth of 40 feet and a channel of suitable width, not less than one-half mile, and to maintain it permanently will, in the opinion of the board, require a nearly complete control of the ebb flow across the bar. The beneficial results following from such control are seen at the present gorge, just within the end of the existing jetty, where great depths are found, and a depth of 40 feet is projected seaward one and one-half miles beyond the end of the controlling work. With the extension of the south jetty the north bank of the channel will undoubtedly grow seaward and increase in height. Should the growth of this bank in length and elevation be sufficient to give the necessary control of the ebb flow, no works in addition to the south jetty will be required. The board is, however, not satisfied that this will be the case. It therefore recommends the construction of a north jetty at such time as its necessity becomes apparent, and in case the south jetty alone fails to produce or maintain a permanent 40-foot channel."

The plan of improvement at this time, therefore, covers the full construction of the south jetty, but should that fail to give the desired results the north jetty will be undertaken. With the comparatively small appropriation for this year it will be impossible to complete the south jetty this season, but sufficient should be accomplished to insure its completion next year. The first work this Spring will be the repairing of the tramway and superstructure destroyed by the storms of this Winter, following which extension work will be taken up.

For the Dalles-Celilo Canal.

The appropriation for The Dalles-Celilo Canal was won only after a long and persistent fight, the details of which are still in the minds of the citizens. This improvement provides for the construction of a canal and locks to overcome the obstacles to free navigation of the Columbia above The Dalles. When completed this canal will open the Columbia to uninterrupted waterway commerce for a distance inland from the sea of more than 500 miles. It is regarded as one of the most important improvements undertaken by the Government and the realization of this importance will hasten its completion, now that its cost has been assured and provided for.

The other improvements of the Willamette and Columbia Rivers consist of their deepening by dredging and the clearance of such obstructions as snags and rocks.

While the amounts asked for by Major Langfitt, the Engineer in charge of this district, have been cut down to a considerable extent by Congress, the money received is sufficient to insure the continuance of the contemplated work.

Tried to Secure His Child.

James Osbourne came to Portland from Spokane to find his wife, from whom he was recently separated, and to secure proper care for their child. He went to the St. George Hotel, where he had left her six weeks ago to return to Spokane, but could not find her. He sought her on the streets, in the boarding-houses and the hotels, and was about to give her up for lost when he wandered down into the North End and caught a glimpse of her going into Fritz's saloon on Burnside street with a stranger. He did not care to follow her, so he sought the aid of the police. Sergeant Hogeboom was detailed by Captain Moore to go with Osbourne and arrange a conference. He found the woman without trouble and got her away from her companion temporarily to talk to her former husband. The latter attempted to secure his child, but the woman had hidden it away and would not voluntarily give it up.

Eva and Ventura in Collision.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The schooners Eva and San Buena Ventura collided off the coast Friday night and each came into port today placing the blame upon the other. The San Buena Ventura's bobstay and martingale and beadgear were carried away. The Eva lost considerable of her rigging.

The San Buena Ventura was bound for Tillamook and the Eva was on the way here from Eureka with a cargo of lumber.

SWINDELLS PASSES THROUGH

New Catcher on His Way to Join McCredie.

Charley Swindells, who is to be a Webfoot backstop this season, passed through Portland yesterday on his way to join Manager McCredie at Bakersfield. When not playing ball, Swindells follows the legal profession. He has hung his shingle out at Bellingham, Wash., and with his partner has built up a good practice.

Swindells mingled with the local fans for a couple of hours yesterday and made a very favorable impression. He likes the team that McCredie has signed and has a word of praise for Catcher McClean. Swindells says that McClean is a big, clean-cut fellow, with a great throwing arm and can play first base as well as he can catch.

NEGRO MURDERER IS LYNCHED

Half-Crazed Man Killed Prominent Mississippi Physician.

VICKSBURG, Miss., March 5.—The body of Dr. William B. Oliphant, who was shot to death by a half-crazy negro at Helma Station, arrived here today. From the same train the negro who was responsible for the death of Dr. Oliphant was taken from the deputy at the Elizabeth Station by a masked body of men, and reports that reach here are to the effect that he was promptly hanged.

R. C. Luther is Dying.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 5.—R. C. Luther, second vice-president of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company, is dying at his home here. Mr. Luther is the executive head of all the Philadelphia & Reading Company's coal interests and is a member of the Anthracite Board of Conciliation, created by the coal-strike commission of 1902.

FOR GERMAN TRADE

Overtures for Reciprocity Are Being Quietly Made.

PUBLIC OPINION IS TESTED

American Government Will Not Be Placed in a Position Where It Will Be Obliged to Refuse Should It See Fit.

BERLIN, March 5.—Relative to the German government's overtures for a reciprocal trade arrangement with the United States, it is stated that there is no disposition here to expose Germany to a refusal nor to place the United States in a position where it would be obliged to refuse, provided the American Government regards the time inopportune. Therefore, the German Ministry desires to learn, informally, privately, as it were, how such a proposal would be treated.

That the State Department has some idea that the commercial treaty may be discussed is indicated by its intention to retain Consul-General Mason here for some months or until it is seen whether a commercial treaty would be considered, instead of sending him to Paris.

The German government has been testing public opinion on the subject by unofficial publications, such as the Commercial Treaty Association's recent letter advocating a treaty with the United States, arguing that it is one of the natural consequences of Germany's arrangements with other countries. The editorial treatment of the association's letter was generally favorable.

PRESIDENT WILL NOT MOVE

Waits for Congress to Show Change of Heart in Matter.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Berlin advices through the Associated Press indicating a purpose on the part of the German Foreign Office to renew its efforts to secure something in the nature of a reciprocity treaty with the United States have attracted much attention in official circles here, as it has been known for some time past that this was in contemplation. In fact, this matter has taken shape semiofficially through the presentation to Secretary Hay of resolutions adopted by the American Board of Trade of Berlin favoring such an arrangement.

The negotiation by the German government of a set of new trade treaties with Austria, France and Russia, extending to those countries preferential tariff rates on many natural and manufactured products now imported in great quantities from America, has made it certain that our trade with Germany would be almost extinguished unless some compensating arrangement could be made. Emperor William himself has foreseen the growth of much ill-feeling between Germany and the United States as a result and has specially charged Baron Sternberg to do everything possible to avert this by negotiating a treaty with this Government that would place the American producers on all-fours with those of Europe.

The Ambassador already has cautiously broached the subject here, but he is so well acquainted with the state of feeling in the United States Senate towards reciprocity that he has not been able to report that the prospect is favorable for the consummation of a German-American reciprocity treaty. The present disposition of the Executive is to refrain from entering on further negotiations for trade treaties until the Senate has formally indicated its disposition towards the formidable array of reciprocity conventions which have for so many months awaited action by that body, and unless the special session which begins for business purposes tomorrow denotes a change of heart on the part of the Senators toward these pending treaties there will be no addition to the docket of executive business in the shape of a German-American reciprocity treaty.

PRAISE FOR MINISTER MEYER

Italian Foreign Minister Speaks at Farewell Banquet.

ROME, March 5.—At the farewell banquet to Ambassador Meyer, Foreign Minister Tittoni, in a speech, expressed his sorrow at the departure of Mr. Meyer and praised his diplomatic ability. Mr. Meyer, responding, said he was deeply moved at the honor shown him as the representative of the United States and hoped the feeling of friendship between the two nations would continue to increase.

Mr. Meyer announced that the American Academy, through the generosity of Henry Walters, J. P. Morgan, W. K. Vanderbilt and others, had just acquired the Villa Mirafiori as a permanent home. He closed by saying that the kindness and hospitality shown him in Italy would be most cherished in his recollections.

The Villa Mirafiori is well known as the home of the morganatic wife of the great Victor Emmanuel.

DODGING MILITARY SERVICE.

Young Hungarians Have Used System of False Records for Years.

VIENNA, March 5.—As a result of inquiries which were commenced in December last it has been discovoded that in Upper Hungary there has been a system of falsification of records, such as the changing of names, false entries, of deaths, etc., by which many thousands of young Hungarians have avoided obligatory military service.

These practices have been in vogue in certain localities for the past 12 or 15 years, and the authorities declare that those guilty of the falsifications will be severely punished.

Joseph Discusses Hungarian Crisis.

VIENNA, March 5.—Emperor Francis Joseph has received Count Czaky, president of the Upper House of the Hungarian Diet, in audience for an hour. Later His Majesty gave an audience to Baron Ernest de Daniel, ex-Hungarian Minister of Commerce, and Julius Just, president of the Lower House of the Hungarian Diet.

The semi-official, Fremendblatt, says His Majesty discussed the Hungarian situation fully and received the views of his visitors concerning the solution of the crisis in Hungary.

Earl Cawder in Admiralty.

LONDON, March 5.—It is officially announced that Earl Cawder will succeed Lord Selborne as First Lord of the Admiralty. The appointment is somewhat of a surprise, he having since his accession to the earldom taken no active part in politics and being absorbed in railway management. Earl Cawder will resign from the chairmanship of the Great Western Railway.

Not Originated by MacDonnell.

LONDON, March 6.—Lord Dunraven writes to the newspapers today to explain that his devolution scheme was not originated by Sir Anthony MacDonnell, Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, but by members of the land conference committee. "MacDonnell," Mr. Dunraven says, "was consulted after the movement started, because he was in possession of useful information, but his responsibility was limited to that advice, and we had no reason to believe that he favored devolution."

Government Denies Rumor.

BELGRADE, March 5.—Allegation made by M. Balongdics, ex-private secretary to King Peter, that the Servian government intended to present to King Peter $600,000, is authoritatively denied. The government last year secretly discussed the advisability of restoring to the crown all of the Karageorgevics domains confiscated by the Obrenovics dynasty and this gave rise to unfounded rumors.

King's ex-Secretary Sent to Jail.

BELGRADE, March 5.—M. Balongdics, former ex-private secretary to King Peter, who has been on trial for slandering Premier Pasics in the antigovernment press, testified that the object of his campaign was to prevent King Peter from being compelled to accept from the Premier $600,000 of the new loan. M. Balongdics was sentenced to three month's in the state prison.

Steamship Companies Agree on Rates

LONDON, March 5.—The conference of the trans-Atlantic steamship companies was concluded after rearranging the rate for all classes, which will be published soon. The Associated Press is informed that the increases in tariffs will be immaterial, but that an agreement has been arrived at between the companies to prevent a repetition of last year's rate war.

Expedition is at Argentina.

PARIS, March 5.—Dr. Charcot, the chief of the Antarctic expedition on board the steamer Francis, has cabled to this city announcing the arrival of the expedition at Puerto Madrina, Argentina. Dr. Charcot reports the members of the expedition in good condition.

Strikers Change Their Tactics.

ROME, March 5.—Owing to the Ministerial crisis, which postpones the presentation of the state railroad measures objected to by the government railroad employes, the latter have decided to end the obstruction tactics, and the roads will now be able to resume their normal service.

Princely Priest Gives Homage.

ROME, March 5.—Prince Max, brother of the King of Saxony, and who is a priest, has arrived here to present his homage to the Pope. The Prince denies that his presence in Rome is in any way connected with the trouble between his royal brother and the latter's former wife.

Victory for the Government.

ATHENS, March 5.—The elections today for members of the Chamber of Deputies resulted in a considerable government majority. All the Ministers were re-elected and almost all the Delyannist candidates were returned.

McCormick Goes to Paris.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 5.—Ambassador McCormick has gone to Paris to select his future residence there.
