REMARKABLE ACHIEVEME THE AGE OF SCIEN

The Ingenuity and Skill of O an Everlasting Benefit to H Men—An Instance in Point.

Herald, South Bend, Wash.]

It falls to our lot this wee readers, and especially those blessed with perfect health, of greatest and simplest remedi century. Personally we enjoy best of health year in and year among our friends is J. L. M prietor of the Broadway Pha man who knows his business th ly, is entirely wedded to chemi hygiene and often "talks shop evening the conversation turned discoveries in drugs.

He told us that one of our m friends, John Wyandt, a locomotive gineer, owed his health to a new med cine known as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and that Mrs. Lawler, the wife of Patrick Lawler, cooper at the Tannin Extract Works, and well-known in this city, has been raised by them from what her friends thought was her death bed.

Having had our attention called to the matter so particularly we have since found that everybody has a good word for Pink Pills, and especially were we interested in the case of Mrs. Lawler. Finally we called at her home and asked her to tell us if Pink Pills had really done as much for her as had been told. She said they had, and she would repeat the facts to me.

Mrs. Lawler said: "Two years and a half ago I was taken sick. I then lived in Tacoma, and for five weeks was not able to turn myself in bed. My husband and boys lifted me around and cared for me, and they scarcely hoped for my recovery. I could eat nothing, was simply worn out.

"I sent for the Pink Pills and I began taking them. It said in the directions that they should be taken immediately after eating, so I ate lightly, then took the pills and in two days was able to sit up. In two weeks I was up and around, and was able to make the trip of 125 miles by cars to South Bend, where my husband had gone to work.

"Since that time I have been well and have done my own work, and now when I feel worn out or ill I always take Pink Pills and they help me at once. I have in the two years and a half used twenty-one boxes of them, and we all use them when we are feeling out of sorts. I have recommended them to many of my friends, and they always helped them, and I can say to all mothers that they will find them a good medicine to build them up, cure headaches, dizziness and the ills which so often beset them."

Mr. Lawler also stated that he had often taken Pink Pills. That he used to be troubled with sick headache and dizziness in the morning, but that Pink Pills had cured him.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are for sale by all druggists or may be had by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., for 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

"Where's Nellie?"

"Down stairs in her wedding dress, looking sweet as a peach, waiting for you."

When Bob entered the parlor, he looked like anything but a happy bridegroom. He was shamefaced and worried, but when he saw Nellie, as fair and lovely as she had looked at their nuptials, he braced up, and in a few minutes was listening to the "I charge ye" of the minister and feeling very much as if it were solemn as a funeral.

Then came congratulations and presents and social merrymaking, and when the company left Bob told them that he would begin a new honeymoon that should last as long as he lived.

And he kept his word. He says that if young married people could keep their anniversaries in that manner they would not forget the obligations binding upon them, and he gives his Nellie credit for having a long head as well as a loyal heart.—Detroit Free Press.

Equal to the Occasion.

A Yorkshire farmer, having a horse to sell at a fair, sold it to an army contractor. Meeting him at the same fair the following year, the army buyer walked up to the farmer and said indignantly: "The horse I bought of you was a thorough fraud. It was no use for the army." The dealer was nowise abashed, but replied, "Well, try 'im for t' navy!"—Philadelphia Record.

Concrete Piers For Bridges.

Concrete has been used by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway for the piers of a bridge five spans across the Red river. These piers were made by first sinking at the site of each a caisson or box of wood 32 by 13 feet in size through the sandy bottom to rock, which was easily done by weighting the caisson and then pumping out the sand and gravel previously loosened by means of water. These caissons were filled with concrete made of one part Louisville cement, two parts of sand and five parts of stone broken to pass through a ring 2½ inches in diameter.

After the caisson was filled a mold of two inches was made of the form of the pier. At the bottom it was 29 feet 10 inches by 11½ feet wide, at the top it was 8 feet wide and 23½ feet long, with a semicircular ends. Inside these molds concrete was placed composed of 400 pounds of German portland cement, 10 cubic feet of sand and a cubic foot of broken stone, which was allowed to harden thoroughly. The plank mold was then removed and the surface covered with a mortar of equal parts of portland cement and sharp sand. The river could be forded nearly all the time the work was in progress and was sometimes almost dry, although occasionally the water would rise to a depth of 20 feet, and the bottom lands in the neighborhood would be flooded for a distance of two miles.—Exchange.

The Lines In One's Palm.

Square or spatulated fingers, in the science of palmistry, denote the philosophical and practical temperament, taper fingers signify an artistic temperament, and very pointed digits are a sure sign of the dreamy, psychical nature. Much is learned by the general quality and configuration of the lines which cross the latter. The life line running around the base of the thumb denotes long or short life, good or ill health, according as it is long or short, clear and unbroken or otherwise. The "heart line," running across the palm nearest the base of the fingers, signifies the quality of the possessor's emotional nature, also the kind of love she will give and receive. This will be enduring or temporary according to whether the line be long and clear, forked or crossed and chained. Below this is the head line, which indicates the mental and moral qualities and achievements and deficiencies.

The line of fate runs perpendicularly across the middle of the palm and is a very important factor in the happiness or unhappiness of its owner. It should be clear and narrow, unchained and uncrossed by the fine wrinkles which score so many palms, and it should never come to an end on the line of the heart, since this signifies disappointment in love. A cross on the "Mount of Mercury," which is just at the base of the fore or index finger is an unfailing sign of a happy marriage.—Philadelphia Press.

We Are the People.

In many ways the United States have educated the world in politics, and I, for one, do not hesitate to say that their scheme of government is the best that has ever been established by a nation. But in nothing do we owe more to the Americans than for their having afforded us the great object lesson of a state pursuing the even current of its way without that meddling in the affairs of other states which has been the bane of European powers. Here we have a country rich, powerful, industrial and commercial, yet never troubling itself with what happens outside its frontiers, or annexing foreign lands on the plea of philanthropy, or on the ground that in some centuries its area will be too small for its population, or in order to create markets for its goods. And what is the result? No one dreams of attacking the United States, or of picking a quarrel with or any other of THE STANDARD.

NO SUCH THING.

The quality of endurance of or indifference to what in other men produces shock or repulsion is said to belong to men without nerves. There is no such thing and cannot be. The finer the physical development the keener perhaps is the sensibility to pain. Let neuralgia put on its harness for a raid and get after such men, the nerves will be found all quivering at once. And so this malady works, a creeping, ugly foe to health, bent on torture and misery, until it meets its antipathy, St. Jacob's Oil, which cures and conquers, quickly, surely.

Handsomest Ruby In Chicago.

To Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr., belongs the distinction of wearing the handsomest ruby in all Chicago. It is an enormous single stone of a deep red color and is hung from a narrow string of diamonds. In addition to this unique ornament Mrs. Field also has some beautiful pins and combs for the hair.—Chicago Herald.

The Crucial Test For Girls.

"The crucial test of a girl's attractiveness is the way she is shod," says a man of society. "Nine men out of ten look first at the face and then at the feet of a woman." How many of our young women, we wonder, can successfully pass through the ordeal of such an inspection?—New York Tribune.

An Eager and a Nipping Wind.

A continuous down pour of rain, inclement weather, generally in winter and spring, are unfavorable to all classes of invalids. But warmth and activity infused into the circulation counteracts these influences and interpose a defense against them. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most thorough and effective of stomachics and tonics, not only enriches the blood, but accelerates its circulation. For a chill, or premonitory symptoms of rheumatism and kidney complaint, particularly prevalent at these seasons, it is the best possible remedy. It is also invaluable for dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation and nervousness. Never set out on a winter or spring journey without it. Elderly persons and the delicate and convalescent are greatly aided by it.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Pure Blood

Is absolutely necessary in order to have good health. The greatest affliction of the human race is impure blood.

There are about 2400 disorders incident to the human frame, the large majority arising from the impure or poisonous condition of the blood.

The best remedy for all blood diseases is found in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Its remarkable cures are its loudest praise. It is not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story.

No remedy has ever had so marked success, or won such enormous sales.

Scrofula in its severest forms yields to its potent powers, blood poisoning and salt rheum and many other diseases are permanently cured by it. For a general Spring Medicine to remove those impurities which have accumulated during the winter, or to overcome That Tired Feeling, nothing equals

"I wish to say that 3 years ago we had a beautiful boy born to us. At the age of 11 months he breathed his last, a victim to impure blood. On Aug. 4, 1891, another boy was born, who, at the age of two months, became afflicted with the same disease. We believed the trouble was constitutional, and not common sore mouth. I procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and commenced to give it regularly to both mother and baby. Improvement began at once. We have succeeded in eradicating the scrofulous blood from the system, and to-day we are blessed with a nice, fat baby boy, 18 months old—the very all life and full of mischief—thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am a minister in the Methodist Protestant Church, and it affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all as a safe, sure remedy. Even my wife, after taking Hood's, became healthy and fleshy, and has the bloom of girlhood again."—REV. J. M. PATE, Brookline Station, Missouri.

WOMEN'S FACES—like flowers, fade and wither with time; the bloom of the rose is only known to the healthy woman's cheeks. The nervous strain caused by the ailments and pains peculiar to the sex, and the labor and worry of rearing a family, can often be traced by the lines in the woman's face. Dull eyes, the sallow or wrinkled face and those "feelings of weakness" have their rise in the derangements and irregularities peculiar to women. The functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses of women, can be cured with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. For the young girl just entering womanhood, for the mother and those about to become mothers, and later in "the change of life," the "Prescription" is just what they need; it aids nature in preparing the system for the change. It's a medicine prescribed for thirty years, in the diseases of women, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure the chronic inflammation of the lining membranes which cause such exhausting drains upon the system. It cures nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faintness, nervous debility and all disorders arising from derangement of the female organs and functions.

MRS. JENNIE WILLIAMS, of Mohawk, Lane Co., Oregon, writes: "I was sick for over three years with blind dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back and head, and at times would have such a weak tired feeling when I first got up in the morning, and at times nervous chills.

"The physicians differed as to what my disease was, but none of them did me any good. As soon as I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I began to get better; could sleep well nights, and that bad nervous feeling and the pain in my back soon left me. I can walk several miles without getting tired. I took in all three bottles of 'Prescription' and two of 'Discovery.'"
