Miss Mollie Dunlap received a telegram Monday evening conveying the sad intelligence of the death of her grandfather, Mr. F R Smith, of Salem Mr Smith was 79 years of age, and was one of the old pioneers of Oregon, having lived at Salem continuously for over 50 years. His widow and three children survive him, Mrs. Vleda Ohmart, Hamlin F. Smith and Miss Clara Smith, all of Salem.

The speech of Father Abraham in the last number of Poor Richard's Almanac, published by Benjamin Franklin in 1757 "contains the wisdom of many ages and nations assembled and formed into one connected discourse." When first published it attracted world-wide attention and was copied in all of the newspapers in America and England and translated into many foreign languages Would you not like to read it? Get a copy free of charge at Marsh & Medler's.

Joe Marsh has an awful kick coming against the Moro Leader. He is reported by that paper as being a farmer, at least so in the jury list. Just what the Leader has against Mr. Marsh by placing him in such a plight is not clear, and it needs an explanation to avoid a libel suit. To intimate that such a man as Mr. Marsh would work even the slightest bit, let alone enough to be called a farmer, is the worst insult to both the farmers and him; and it is principally on the farmers.

Peacock Flour
