ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

J. W. Booth and family came up on Sunday evening's train.

Mrs. Jory returned from her Portland visit Sunday evening.

Wm. MacNab was a visitor to the city from Rufus on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lilly Brock returned Thursday evening from her visit to Portland.

Splendid line of Tam O'Shanters at Mrs. Affie Murchie's. Going at a bargain.

Hudyan cures sleeplessness, bad dreams and night sweats. Fifty cents all druggists.

Don't forget, ladies, that if your hat needs retrimming or remodeling Mrs. Affie Murchie is here for that purpose; and you can find her at her millinery store this week or any other time from now on.

"When our boys were almost dead from whooping cough, our doctor gave One Minute Cough Cure. They recovered rapidly," writes P. B. Belles, Argyle, Pa. It cures coughs, colds, grip, and all throat and lung troubles. Marsh & Medler.

Mrs. Lilly Brock was elected grand senior for the ensuing year by the grand lodge, Oregon jurisdiction of Rathbone Sisters, and it is stated by unquestioned authority that she will next year be elected grand chief. We congratulate both the grand lodge and Mrs. Brock.

A special meeting of the Epworth League will be held at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 6:45, instead of 7, as usual. It is the annual missionary meeting of the Epworth League, and a cordial invitation is extended to all to come and bring their plethoric purses.

"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Fackler, of the Micanopy, Florida, "Hustler." It cured his family of la grippe, and saves thousands from pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles, Marsh & Medler.

The Oregon Native Son, a copy of which is on our table, is an illustrated monthly magazine of history published in Portland, and deserves the support of every patriotic resident of the Pacific Northwest. It is devoted to the history of the original Oregon, is well printed on glazed paper, is beautifully illustrated, and the subscription price is the popular one of $1 per year.

All indications point to rather a dull winter for Sherman county, although the mill is running and considerable wheat is changing hands. The cause is easy to understand—an indifferent crop coupled with the ridiculously low price. Out near the center of the county times will be a little better, owing to the construction of the Columbia Southern railway to Grass Valley. Trade activity from that section will be but remotely felt here. We are not calamity howling nor kicking about the hard times, however, but—just telling.

Appropriate Music.

Wife (angrily)—You are the most provoking man I ever saw, John Smith. You annoy me beyond endurance, and just when I am doing everything I can to get our daughter well established in life. Now, what kind of music ought we to have at the wedding ceremony?

Husband (mildly)—As Clara resembles you in so many respects, my dear, I think we ought to have martial music. —N. Y. World.

In the Same Direction.

"I see," said the opposing council to the late Emory A. Storrs, "you hate to meet the truth in this matter."

"I never do meet it," was the prompt reply. "The truth and I always travel in the same direction."—Boston Journal.

The Brute.

"Ah, well," she sighed, "I'll die some day, and then you will begin to appreciate how I helped you along in life."

"Mary," he said, "if you knew how anxious I am to give you credit, you wouldn't wait a day longer."—Chicago Times-Herald.

In Everybody's Mouth.

Hoax—See that little chap over there? He doesn't look like a celebrity, and yet his name is in everyone's mouth.

Joax—So? Who is he?

Hoax—Why, his name's Mohler.—Tit-Bits.

A Unique Experience.

Biggs—What was the occasion for all those fireworks over at your house last night?

Boggs—Our cook had been with us just two months, and we were celebrating.—N. Y. Journal.

Well-Founded Fear.

Dealer—This is a prayer rug, and the cost of it is only $2,000.

Lady Customer—A prayer rug? I am afraid if I bought it at that price my husband would use it for purposes of profanity.—Town Topics.

Considerate Husband.

"No," soliloquized Mr. Tyte-Phist, "I shall not buy a birthday present for my wife this year. It would seem like cruelty to remind her that she lacks only one year of being 50."—Chicago Tribune.

A Mean Remark.

"I was presented to the queen," said little Mr. Sappy.

"Did you wear a low-necked dress?" asked the satirical Miss Wittie.—Harlem Life.

Not for Him.

Handout Harry—Dat's a fool motto.

Tiepass Teddy—Wot is?

Handout Harry—"Say nuttin' but saw wood." I'd rather talk all day dan saw wood fer a minute.—N. Y. Journal.

NOT MUCH TO WORK WITH.

Husband—Well, can't you decide? It never takes me more than a minute to make up my mind.

Wife—I'm not surprised, my dear; it shouldn't take anyone more than a minute to make up your mind.—St. Louis Republic.

Accounted For.

Girls who 'gainst men mean things have said
Have never in love's sunshine basked;
The girl who says she'll never wed
Is she who never has been asked.
—Judge.

A Rural Ignoramus.

Pretty Girl (at hotel)—Who is that handsome stranger at the next table?

Favorite Waiter—I don't know, miss; some country gawk, I s'pose. He don't know nothin' 'bout fash'n'ble life.

"Indeed! Why do you think so?"

"He's sittin' there starvin' instead of feein' a waiter an' gettin' somethin' to eat."—N. Y. Weekly.

Obviously Incorrect.

"Do you believe one can find the initials of one's future husband in the tea dregs?"

"No; I've tried it and tried it, and I never could find anything but the initials of my present husband."—Detroit Journal.

He Tried a Sample Bottle

Nearly every day people come into drug stores and ask the Druggists to recommend some medicine for their trouble. Very often they refuse to do so, because, as a rule, they do not believe it proper to advise anyone to take a patent medicine of which they do not know the ingredients. It is the physician's business to prescribe. Some make an exception, however, when anyone has a cough, cold or throat and lung trouble. "I always recommend Acker's English Remedy, because I know just what it will do. It has cured every case where I have seen it tried. It is the best expectorant and tonic I ever handled in my 11 years' experience. I will give just one instance of a gentleman who had been troubled for years with a nasty, hacking cough. I advised Acker's English Remedy. He tried a sample bottle, and was cured before he had taken half of it, at no cost whatever. This is an exceptional case, however, as it usually takes two or three bottles."

(Signed) A. B. COOK, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Sold at 25c., 50c., and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 2d., 2s. 3d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist, and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee.
