BY W. J. PETRAIN.

"Pop" Van Haltren and his Oakland ball-tossers, fresh from a victorious series with Charley Graham's Senators, hooked up with McCredie's braves yesterday afternoon, and Portland won a 2 to 0 decision in a pitchers' battle between Harkness and Tonneson.

It was a cold, raw day, with threatening rain clouds hovering over the park, yet the players managed to ginger up and play a fast game. The dearth of base hits and the few passes contributed to reducing the time limit of the contest, which came near being played in record time for contests on the Vaughn-street lot. Umpire Jimmy Toman, a diminutive chap, with a voice like John L. Sullivan, has succeeded the erratic McCarthy, and Jimmy pulled the game through in good style.

Both pitchers allowed but three hits each, but Tonneson was touched up for two by Portland in the fourth inning, and these bingles, together with Duffy Lewis' error, counted for two runs. After that inning not a Portland player got to first base, but the brace of runs was more than plenty when "Speck" Harkness was pitching shut-out ball.

Speas, who played right field because Manager McCredie wanted a rest, opened the fourth with a neat single to center. Ote Johnson put him to second and Breen was out at first without advancing the new man. Then came Ed Kennedy, who promptly hit the first ball towards right field.

Wild Throw Gets Run.

Duffy Lewis, the clever youngster who is playing first base for Van Haltren, because of an injury to Cameron, knocked the drive down, and then threw wildly to Tonneson, who covered the bag, and Speas scored the first run while Kennedy brought up at third. Armbruster smashed a pretty drive to left field, on which Kennedy rode home with run number two, and this total proved to be all that was doing in the scoring line for the home guard, while the visitors could not break the string of ciphers on the score board.

Aside from the fatal error of young Lewis, who is one of the most promising ball-tossers that ever played on the Portland lot, the game was practically free from miscues, and both pitchers were in great form. Tonneson is a clever southpaw, and was a member of the champion Aberdeen team of the Northwestern League in 1907, while Harkness was with Butte last season, virtually making it a contest between former twirlers of President Lucas' organization.

The Oakland team appears ta have a better bunch of players than visited here last season, and while the team is crippled by the absence of Cameron, the regular first baseman, and Big Jimmy Wiggs, who was left behind because of illness, the Athenians should win more games than they have in the past. In Van Haltren and Bernie McCay, Oakland possesses two clever players who are fighting all the time, and the rest of the team seems to imbibe some of this spirit. Yesterday, though, Harkness had them faded and try as they might, he prevented them from successfully solving his delivery when a hit would have counted for a run or two.

Field Not in Good Shape.

The field was hardly fit for a championship game, but placing the canvas covering over the diamond during the rains Monday night, made it possible to play the full nine innings. The infielders were not able to do themselves justice, and had the field been dry it is likely that Harkness would have scored a no-hit-no-run game, for the first two hits secured by the Oaklanders were decidedly scratchy.

Buddy Ryan pulled off two good catches in the outer garden, while Van Haltren also shone in this line. Ryan's catch of La Longe's drive in the eighth took most of the ginger out of the Oakland bunch.

The same teams will play again this afternoon, and Jesse Garrett or Al Carson will pitch for Portland, while Van Haltren will use either "Tub" Maire or "Slim" Nelson. Trainer Cornell has taken Jack Graney in hand, and has informed Manager McCredie that he cannot have the services of his crack southpaw until Saturday or Sunday.

The official score of the game is as follows:

SPOKANE, Wash., April 27.—(Special.)—Casey's band caught the Indians off guard today, took advantage of every twist of the ball and by an exhibition of the speediest and headiest base-running for many moons, sneaked just enough runs over the plate for victory, 6 to 5.

The Indians woke up in two innings, getting three runs early in the game by four solid swats and making a bid for victory in the ninth by savagely hitting the ball, whilst Casey and others were booting it. Stevens managed to introduce a three-bagger into the proceedings, which made Portland nervous, but Jensen, who batted for Gregg, rolled an easy one to short and the rally stopped there.

Gregg, a big left-hander from semi-professional ranks, pitched a nice game for Spokane, but was given poor support, Altman being the chief offender, although the errors of omission were as bad as those of commission. On the other hand, with exception of the ninth inning, Portland's pitcher was accorded gilt-edge assistance by his teammates. They got hard flies on the run, nailed runners at the plate, showed defensive work far superior to that of the locals and interpellated a few hits at times when there were runners on bases. Altogether, it was Casey's day to shine.

Judging from yesterday's and today's contests, Portland is speedier than Aberdeen, and will make the Indians travel to capture the series. Score:

H. M. A. TRACK SQUAD LEAVES

Will Compete in Big Meet With California Schools.

A crack team of six stalwart young athletes, picked from the track squad of Hill Military Academy, left Portland last night for Palo Alto, where they will represent Oregon and their alma mater at the big track meet of the California high schools and academies to be held under the auspices of Leland Stanford, Jr. University, Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1.

The cadets compose the first track team of the Pacific Northwest ever sent to California and it is therefore almost impossible to foretell what effect the sudden change of climatic conditions will have upon the Oregon athletes.

Hill Military Academy is putting a small team of but six men in the field against the full teams of the big California high schools, which are exceptionally strong in track athletics and will prove most formidable opponents.

While at Stanford the cadets will be made welcome and be entertained by the Hill Military Academy graduates, of whom the following are at Stanford at the present time. Robert D. Brooke, of Spokane; John Raymond Holman, of Portland; Augustus E. MacDonald, of Seattle; Malcolm Robert MacEwan, of Portland; Charles H. Robbins, of Los Angeles; Frederick L. Stanton, of Spokane, and Ernest Cecil Woodcock of Portland.

The cadets composing the team are: W. E. Graham, captain; H. E. McGuire, manager; B. W. Hill, C. T. Prehn, H. A. Meier and G. D. Burns.

Class Relay on Saturday.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., April 27.—(Special.)—Next Saturday an inter-class relay race will be run at the university. The freshmen took the inter-class cross-country run early in the Winter and have good prospects in the coming contest. There will be four men on a team, each man running a mile on Kincaid Field.

Harvard Takes Game.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 27.—Harvard defeated Bates College at baseball on Soldier's Field today, the score being 12 to 0.

Irvington 11; North Central 7.

Irvington played the North Central team yesterday to an advantage, managing to get in 11 runs to the latter's 7. In the fifth inning the victorious team scored seven runs, or as many as the other got in the whole game. This was Irvington's first victory out of four games this season. Maguis pitched for Irvington, made four runs in the game, or every time he went to bat.
