Elwood Draper, a pupil of the VI grade has the distinction of not having missed a word in the daily recitation in spelling during the term just closed. He has also been perfect in all the written tests in the same study.

***
The written tests for November are ended. The work has been very satisfactory this month and, with a few exceptions, the grades made in the examinations were excellent. More especially the geography and language work. We hope to still continue improving. In school it is quality that tells, not quantity.
