MASSACHUSETTS AND THE WEST.

The Massachusetts state report on manufacturers for 1891 shows that there are 20,000 persons employed in Massachusetts cotton factories at "under $5 a week," while the United States census shows that in the ten years since 1880 the wealth of the state has increased $569,000,000.

The only way to understand the meaning of such figures is by comparison, and this increase in the wealth of the wealthy class of Massachusetts can be understood better by comparing the figures for Mass. with those for Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and Wisconsin, which give a total increase in assessed property of $591,000,000 as against the increase of $569,000,000 for Massachusetts alone.

When we seek to find who has the money accumulated by Massachusetts, we find that the factory operatives are living "from hand to mouth," and that Massachusetts farmers, becoming too poor to own their farms, are obliged to abandon them. The immense sums Massachusetts darws from the Western states are not distributed among the people of the state. They go to the beneficiaries of the Massachusetts tariff.

It is not hard to trace the process by which Massachusetts forces money from the west. Take the case of an Iowa farmer in a good crop year when there is no famine in Europe. He has bought his supplies from Massachusetts during the year, and he will have to settle for them when he sells his crop. In selling to him Massachusetts is protected by a tariff averaging over 50 cents on the dollar's worth. When he comes to sell his crop Massachusetts is still protected against him, for the same tariff prevents him exchanging it for European goods, in which he could get 50 per cent. more than Massachusetts will pay. So, whether he buys or sells, Massachusets is protected at his expense.

With the price of farm products cut down by the laws preventing their exchange with Europe and robbing them in so much of their exchange value, and with the price of Massachusetts goods increased by the same law, the western producer is robbed when he sells and when he buys. At this rate he is soon obliged to borrow money, and Massachusetts lends him at high interest what it has taken from him under the operations of the tariff. So the western states go deeper into dept, and so the immense wealth they produce every year enriches the northeast, while all the west gets out of it is a bare living for its producers.

Shaken Out of Gear.

By malarial disease, the human machinery cannot perform its office. Digestion, secretion, evacuation are disordered, the blood becomes watery, the nerves feeble, the countenance ghastly, sleep disturbed and appetite capricious. Terrible is this disease, fell its consequences. There is, however, a known antidote to the miasmatic poison, and a certain safeguard against it. In malarious regions of our South and West, in South America, Guatemala and on the Isthmus of Panama, as well as in transmarine countries where the scourge exists, this incomparable preventive and remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has, during the last thirty-five years, been constantly widening the area of its usefulness, and demonstrating its sovereign value. Liver complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney trouble, rheumatism and debility are all remedied by it.

While Deer Hunting.

ASTORIA, Or, Sept, 30.—Another hunting accident happened yesterday at Mishwauka, on the lower Nehalem, by which John Gronnell lost his life. His brother came in today and gave the particulars. The unfortunate man was going on a visit to his father's house a short distance from his own, and while on his way thither, saw two deer loitering on the outside of some slashing. He hurried to the house and procured his father's Winchester and returned to the spot where he had seen the deer Harty Olsen saw him making for the brush, and asked him what he was after. Gronnell told him there were two deer close by He disappeared in the thicket and Olsen, waiting for him to return, heard two shots some moments after. Gronnell did not return as soon as Olsed thought he should. He shouted for him, but received no answer. Fearing some accident had happened, Olsen went in search of him. He proceeded to the spot where he saw the smoke rise last, and found Gronnell lying dead in the brush, with a bullet hole in his forehead, he having shot himself accidently.

Right in N. Y. State.

UTICA, N Y, Sept 30.—The special American express train due at 3.10 A M today, was robbed between here and Little Falls. The robber brought the train to a standstill, one mile east of this city, by applying the airbrakes by means of a valve in the car. He then escaped in the darknets. The express agent in charge of the car was D A Moore, who lives in Buffalo. The train only stopped here a short time, but a part of his story was secured. It seems the robber bored the front door of the car and got the fastenings open, surprising Moore, whom he covered with a revolver. He then sorted over the packages, taking such as he supposed were valuable. It is not known how much was taken, but one package of $5000 in currency was concealed by Moore, and was saved. The robber was masked. Moore has been in the emyloy of the company ten or twelve years, and there is no probability that his story is other than a true one.

Boulanger Dead.

BRUSSELS, Sept 30.—A little before noon today, General Boulange, accompanied by an attendant, visited the last resting place of Madam de Bonnemain, his late mistress. Sending the attendant to a respectful distance to await him, Boulanger stood alone for some time by the grave of Madam de Bonnemain, appearing to be affected by the most sorrowful reflections. About noon the attendant was startled by a shary report, and filled with grave apprehensions, hurried to the spot from whence the report had emanated. The man was shocked to find Boulanger lying dead upon the ground with a revolver clenched in his right hand,

A Train Wreck.

AKRON, O, Sept 30.—Early this morning a collision ocourred a few miles east of Kent, on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, between a freight and a passenger train. Three were killed and twenty injured, several fatally. The passenger train was the Michigan section, which contained the Olin Family excursion, the members of which and many friends were going to a national reunion of their kindred at Bennington Vt.

Boss Buckley in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Sept 30,—Christopher Buckley the well known San Francisco politician, arrived here today and is stopping at the St Lawrence hotel. He delined to discuss politics, but said he intended to visit Quebec, Toronto and New York and then return to San Francisco

TO TEA DRINKERS.— Probably three fourths of the teas consumed are "Green Teas" Unpleasant as the fact may be, the bright, shiny green so familiar to us all is not the natural color, but is due to the facing or glazing of the tea with Prussian blue, Indigo and other mineral colors.

That coloring hides the effects of poor teas is undoubted; but is it healthful, and does it not call loudly for the importation of a brand of pure, uncolored, unmanipulated tea?

It was this condition of affairs that prompted the placing of Beech's Tea before the public Being the absolutely pure, uncolored leaf it is different in color from any you ever used. It draws a canary color of a delightful fragrance that is a revelation to tea drinkers, and its purity makes it more economical than the artificial teas, less of it being required per cup. Sold only in packages. 60 cents per pound. Ask for Beech's Tea, pure as childhood, for sale by Allen Bros., Flinn block, Albany.

Important to Housekeepers.

It gives Julius Gradwohl great satisfaction in selling his fine Golden Rule teas and baking powder, with elegant prizes or without them, that his customers who have purchased invariably return and say they are well pleased, that the tea is No. 1 and the baking powder is as good as the best. All his teas and baking powder bears the name of Julius Gradwohl's Golden Rule Bazaar, and are expressly put up for his business, and he still continues to give with each pound of tea or baking powder an elegant piece of glassware.
