Following a car crash on the Pacific highway near the Lane and Benton county lines at 10 p. m. July 14 last, Marion Taylor filed suit in circuit court Friday to recover $2750 for personal injuries and also damages to his car.

The plaintiff states that his lights failed and that he parked off on the side of the road and that defendant crashed into him.

FIRM ASKS PLANS FOR NEW LANE COUNTY JAIL

Somehow the information that Lane county is about to erect a new jail has leaked out and a firm of prison builders at San Antonio, Texas, has sent a letter to the county court asking that plans and specifications be sent them.

This was news to the county court as present indications are that the old bastile will have to be used for some long time yet. With a big demand for tax slashing now on the building of a new jail here would undoubtedly prove quite an unpopular movement.

EDUCATION FOR RADIO AVAILABLE AT O. S. C.

For the First time in Oregon opportunity is to be afforded at Oregon State college this fall for comprehensive training of students interested in any branch of the radio industry. This is accomplished, according to the announcement, by grouping of courses which already exist in five schools and departments of the college and by making use of the facilities afforded by the state-owned broadcasting station, KOAC.

By majoring in the department of electrical engineering and taking specialied radio subjects in the department of physics, a student may fit himself for research work in the technical end of radio, or for taking the federal examination as a radio operator. Students interested in the business side of radio or in program handling and announcing may get adequate training in the schools of commerce, home economics and agriculture and the departments of public speaking and industrial journalism.

Opportunity is also afforded for competent students to gain actual experience in handling material for the broadcast programs arranged by the extension service.

FIFTY-FOUR SWIMMERS IN LEABURG CLASSES

Fifty-four was the number of swimmers taught by Miss Evelyn Hamilton while in Leaburg. On Thursday the last day of the classes, a water carnival of racing, diving, stunts and life saving was had. Following was a picnic supper and later the swimmers received their buttons. Just before leaving for their homes a marshmallow roast was a feature with the singing of many familiar songs.

On Sunday the examiners were present. Kelly and Jane Swafford and Buzz Ayres juniors passed successfully, seniors passing were Harry Moore and Harold Frazee.
