BY THE EDITOR

THE statement by some of the press in this state that the only objection that has been raised to the selection of H. W. Corbett as United States senator was that he was wealthy, is erroneous. Several of the leading republican papers of the state, outside of Portland, are opposed to his election, not because he is rich but because he is the representative of a ring, and, if elected, would work for the interests of that ring; therefore he is not the best man to represent the whole people of the state of Oregon in the United States senate. Another statement, which is not true, is that the objection to Corbett is a silly mania, emanating from populism, etc. There are surely a few men in this state beside Mr. Corbett who are successful men, and who are as competent and capable as he, and who are not owned or controlled by a certain political faction. True, we want a capable and successful man to represent us, but let us have one who is free to work for the interests of the United States, and the state of Oregon; not one who is bound hand and foot to work for a very small portion of the State.—Antelope Republican.

WE wish all our readers a happy and prosperous new year, and trust that they may prosper in the future as they never have in the past. The new century will present many new ideas and methods, some of which will certainly be beneficial to a great number of us, and some perhaps will not. The century just closed was one of the most wonderful during the history of modern times, and no one can foretell the numerous discoveries and wonders that may be brought to light during the coming hundred years. Let all, however, try to do what they can to better their own condition, and at the same do a kindly act and speak a cheering word to their less fortunate neighbor.

SPEAKING of the proposition to have a secret ballot for senator in party caucus, the Oregonian says: "It is easy to see where an advantage might through it accrue to the Corbett side, and a disadvantage to the McBride side." If ever gospel truth was spoken here it is. Of course, it is easy to see where such advantage would accrue. With the gang Mr. Corbett has retained to further his candidacy, and their well known methods of operating, the secret ballot is an absolute essential. The defeat of this proposition means Corbett's defeat. No wonder he contends for secrecy.—Eugene Register.

THE 20th century will have 24 leap years, the greatest number possible. February will have five Sundays three times—1920, 1948 and 1976. The earliest possible date on which Easter can occur is March 22. The last time it occurred on that date was 1818. The earliest date on which it will occur is April 25. It will occur but once in the coming century on that date—1943. The middle day of the century will be January 1, 1951. There will be 380 eclipses during the coming century.

THE United States Treasury has more gold coin in its vaults than at any time in the history of the government—$474,108,336, an increase of $79,000,000 since the first of last January. Only about half of this gold is the property of the government, $235,755,869 being held against outstanding gold certificates. The total gold supply of the country is now estimated at $1,100,000,000, while four years ago the estimate was $692,947,212.

A PORTLAND paper in making a fight against Senator McBride, fails to see why a senator who has served one term is any more likely to get good committee positions than a newly elected member. The argument put up by this same metropolitan paper was just the reverse when Senator Dolph was a candidate for re-election. But the editor has often been known to wear leather spectacles.—Newberg Graphic.

THE Portland organ of Mr. Corbett, when it copies from the Baker City Republican, should not claim the views of that paper as the sentiment of the people of Eastern Oregon. Col. Alley is too well known for his opinion to have much weight, and it is well understood that he is more interested in his own mouth than in the mouth of the Columbia.—The Dalles Chronicle.

THE press of the state are almost a unit in opposition to Mr. Corbett for United States senator, and we cannot see just why anyone should desire to force themselves upon the people of the state when their services are so bitterly opposed.

A Prominent Chicago Woman Speaks.

Prof. Roxa Tyler, of Chicago, vice-president Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to run into pneumonia. I tried different remedies but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it was pleasant to take and it relieved me at once. I am now entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without this splendid medicine again." For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

HORSES AND ELECTRICITY.

The Animals' Iron Shoes Make Them Especially Susceptible.

The horse is easily killed by electricity. It is popularly supposed that the current, on entering the body, meets with some physiological susceptibility that makes this animal more vulnerable than others to the action of such a current. The London Lancet holds that there is no good ground for this assumption. The explanation lies elsewhere. The hoof, and more particularly its crust and sole, is a good insulator, but the shoe presents to the ground a large metallic contact, and this contact is in connection with metallic conductors in the shape of nails which pierce the strongest part of the insulation, and afford an easy electrical path into the body. The contact with earth is further improved by the great superincumbent weight of the animal, and it may often happen that in passing over wet ground the external surface of the hoof and the wet fetlock, especially in the case of untrimmed horses, may become sufficiently wet to form a good surface conductor, and so carry a current directly from the earth to the upper part of the body. In this way the safety of the natural "resistance" of the hoofs is neutralized. A horse, too, covers more ground than a man and runs greater risk from being in contact with points of ground further apart. Farriers ought to consider the above well, so as to induce them to bestow extra care upon the driving of the nail, to see that it does not penetrate to the "quick."

DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED.

By using Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. One little Tablet will give immediate relief or money refunded. Sold in handsome tin boxes at 25 cts. Peery & Peery, druggist.

—"You ain't forgot that maximum I tole you yestiday, is you, Sammie?" "No, grand-dad. 'A bird in the han' is wuff two on de roost.'"—Life.

—"Uncle Simon, what is a phenomenon?" "A phenomenon is a man who gets so rich that he won't accept a pass on a railroad."—Chicago Record.

—Stikker—"I dreamt last night that you gave me ten pounds." Stryker—"Good! that makes us square. I owed you a tenner, you know."—Tit-Bits.

—The Baby—"Gobble, hobble. Gobble, hobble." The Wife—"John, I do believe the baby is trying to say he loves me." The Brute—"Very likely. He hasn't known you long."—London Figaro.

—Doctor (to Irish patient)—"Do you sleep with your mouth open?" Irish Patient—"Shure, Oi don't know, doctor. Oi've never seen myself when Oi've been aslape, but Oi'll have a look tonight!"—Tit-Bits.

—Benedict—"I tell you, my boy, it is impossible for me to find my wife's pocket!" Batcheller—"You shouldn't be discouraged. Look at me; I haven't been able to find even a wife yet."

—Insufficient Data.—"You are an expert, are you not?" said the caller. "Yes, sir." "Well, I wish you would take these two papers and tell me whether they were written by the same person." "Is it a matter of litigation?" "Very possibly." "Then it would be really impossible for me to comply with your request; not until I have learned upon which side I have been retained."

Southern California.

Notable among the pleasures afforded by the Shasta Route is the winter trip to Southern California and Arizona. Renewed acquaintance with this section will ever develop fresh points of interest and added sources of enjoyment, under its sunny skies, in the variety of its industries, in its prolific vegetation and among its numberless resorts of mountains, shore, valley and plain.

The two daily Shasta trains from Portland to California have been recently equipped with the most approved pattern of standard and tourists sleeping cars, but the low rates of fare will still continue in effect.

Illustrated guides to the winter resorts of California and Arizona may be had on application to

CORRESPONDENCE.

SHELBURN AND VICINITY.

Will Miller attended the State institute at Albany last week.

Henry Fisher, who has been in Eastern Oregon for some time past, came home Saturday last and has engaged with his father in the poultry business. Henry comes among us as a stranger, but we welcome him, and hope that he may reap success here in the future as he has elsewhere in the past.

J. J. Fitzgerald received word from Independence Friday morning that his father was very ill and not expected to live. Mr. Fitzgerald left the same evening for that place.

Mrs. Wm. Hull returned home from Brownsville Saturday, after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. N. B. Washburn.

Misses Hannah and Selona Devine went to Albany Tuesday for a week's visit with friends and relatives in that city.

Several Shelburnites attended the mask ball at Scio Christmas night and all reported a jolly time.

The dance that was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mack Wednesday evening was a grand success.

A number of our young folks attended the Christmas dinner at Munkers Christmas Day and all report of having some fine turkey.

Mrs. John Devine went to Albany Wednesday to visit with friends.

A. F. Goche's saw mill shut down for the winter Saturday.

Frank Grimes, of Jordan, spent Christmas in this section.

SANTIAM AND VICINITY.

Prof. G. W. Stricklin, of Maxburg, was in our midst Saturday last on a flying call on old friends.

Gene Pomeroy and Lee Chapman attended to ball at John Cunningham's Friday night, and report a large crowd and a good time.

There was a fine social singing at Uncle Jim Crabtree's Thursday night a large crowd was present and a pleasant time was spent. After the singing, the young folks arranged the kitchen and had a few social games.

Miss Flora Poindexter went on a visit Saturday last to see her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gaines of Crabtree.

There is a new man in our section visiting the farmers along Crabtree creek, contracting for the ash and maple timber for saw logs, for which he is offering $1.00 per m. feet on the stump, intending to build a mill at the old Cameron mill site near Crabtree station.

J. Calavan is doing some slashing and clearing up on his farm on the creek. He is quite a hustler and is trying to lay up something for a rainy day.

Mrs. Mary Poindexter, or better known as Grandma Poindexter, of Larwood, was down visiting her son, J. H. Poindexter and family over New Year's. She is quite spry for a lady of her age.

The ladies of our neighborhood gave Grandma Fleener a birthday surprise last Wednesday, it being her 70th birthday, and reported a lovely time among the old ladies in general.

Aunt Hannah Bilyeu is quite poorly, and has been confined to her bed the past few days.

Miss Lizzie Young died Monday morning. She was one of our most highly appreciated young ladies, one who had the love and affection of all who knew her. The family has the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in their sad bereavement.

The still night was aroused by the report of Newton Crabtree's old favorite cannon to bid farewell to the old year and salute the New Year's coming, with its blustering snow storm and cool and chilly winds of January, which gather around my cabin door.

Our school teacher send over word there will be no school this week, owing to his illness and not being able to teach.

Stops the Cough and Works off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, no Pay. Price 25 cents.

Recent statistics of the street railroads in the United States show that they number 976, with 30,588 miles of track and 44,745 cars. Electricity is used on 10,353 miles, which shows how rapidly all other methods of propulsion are being displaced. The capitalization of these roads, including stock and bonds, reaches the remarkable sum of $95,000 per mile of track, whereas the capitalization of the steam railroads of the country is only $59,632 per mile, which signifies that there is a good deal of water in street railroad securities.

From a Pastor

"I am the pastor of the Baptist Church at Port Jervis, N. Y., and sometimes am called upon to take part in evangelistic work away from home. Not long ago I went to Sandy Creek, N. Y., which is swept by the damp winds from Lake Ontario. Here I contracted a bad cough, and became so hoarse that I could hardly preach to my congregation. It was not only distressing in a bodily sense, but extremely embarrassing to enter the pulpit in this condition. I had heard of Acker's English Remedy and, after service, I bought a bottle and began taking it. The next night my throat was nearly well, and I delivered my sermon without difficulty. In a few days I was thoroughly cured. I conceive it to be my duty to benefit mankind physically as well as spiritually whenever I can, and am glad to write these words in praise of this grand old medicine. Those with sensitive throats and those who catch cold easily should certainly take Acker's English Remedy."

(Signed) REV. EZRA TERRY SANFORD.

Sold at 25c., 50c. and $1 a bottle, throughout the United States and Canada; and in England, at 1s. 9d., 2s. 6d., 4s. 6d. If you are not satisfied after he trial, return the bottle to your druggist and get your money back.

We authorize the above guarantee.

SHEARED

The place of the daughter in the home is as large or as small a place as she is able to make it. It is really a creative place, one in which she can be the brightest, happiest, most helpful influence in the home, or simply a partaker of the comforts and protection of the home, with no thought of any return on her part.—January Ladies' Home Journal.

An exchange tells of the wife of a Methodist minister in an Iowa town who had been married three times. Her maiden name was Partridge, her first husband was named Robins, the second Sparrow, and the present one is named Quayle. There are two young Robins, one Sparrow and two little Quayles, and the family live on Jay street. One almost might be forgiven for suggesting that the lady was a "bird."

Every woman will appreciate a little article which makes it possible to remove dirt from her gloves as easily as she would erase the marks of a lead pencil from a sheet of paper. This little convenience is a composition of rubber. It comes in the form of a block, is free from odor, and so small that it can be carried in the pocket. It is also useful for removing soiled spots from woolen or silk garments.—Maria Parlon, in the January Ladies' Home Journal.

The Mother's Favorite.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the mother's favorite. It is pleasant and safe for children to take and always cures. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the best medicine made for these diseases. There is not the least danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

If the state of Oregon is ever divided what will we call the segregated state? Where will be located the state capital? Call it Tum-a-lum and give Milton the capital, Western the university, Athena the insane asylum, Pendleton the pen, Helix the reform school, Adams the blind school, Umatilla the deaf and dumb school, Ukiah the soldiers' home and Freewater the orphan's home. Echo, Pilot Rock and Vansycle can pay the taxes. Let's have a state for each county. The way to reform the United States senate is to make senatorships so numerous that it will not be considered an honor to be chosen to represent states. Then wicked, wealthy men like Clark and Corbett and Hanna will not be tempted to seduce the legislatures of states with corrupting gold and purity undefiled will reign! There are so many glorious possibilities in division that we haven't time to enumerate them all.—Milton Eagle.

Beat Out of an Increase of His Pension.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48, I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for on every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Peery & Peery, druggists.

A glimpse of the luxury with which rich Americans surround themselves is given in the January issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, under the title, "Housekeeping in a Millionaire's Family." If this issue of the Journal is a fair sample of what that popular magazine intends to give its readers in the new century its already wide field of usefulness will be greatly enhanced. One of the striking features of the January Journal. "The Baltimore Belle Who Made the Most Brilliant Match of Any Girl in America," recalls the fact that a Yankee "Queen" once sat on a Vice Regal throne in Ireland. There is a little play for amateurs, "The 'Little Women' Play," adapted from Miss Alcott's story. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps brings more humor into the domestic complications of "The Successes of Mary the First," Charles Major tells a thrilling "Blue River Bear Story," and Clifford Howard contributes another chapter of "The Story of a Young Man." "A Winter Service at Church," by W. L. Taylor, and A. B. Frost's "Town Meeting" are page pictorial features that will be received with great favor. Edward Bok has an article on "The Two Centuries and This Magazine," giving a short review of the history of the Journal. There are also many other features that will prove useful and helpful to homemakers. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year, ten cents a copy.

—Viper's blood it is that contains the poisonous substance which makes the animal's bite fatal, according to the researches of MM. Bertrand and Phisalix. It contains also an anti-toxic element that stands heat longer than the venom, so that blood heated to 58 degrees centigrade proved not only innocuous when injected into guinea pigs, but rendered immune against injections of blood that had not been heated.

—In Germany 6,626 cases of diphtheria have been treated by serum inoculation, 2,460 of them in hospitals, according to a report of the government's medical department. Of these 86.5 per cent. recovered, 12.9 per cent. died, and the rest were still under treatment. In the hospitals alone the cures were 80.5 and the deaths 19.5 per cent. The remarks attached to the reports of the cases were highly favorable to the treatment in 4,871 and unfavorable in 60.
