For Mercy's Sake.

A movement to establish a retreat in this city for homeless consumptives is, it is said, about to be inaugurated. Such a project is well worthy the consideration of a generous and humane people.

The object, so far as it has been defined, is not to treat consumptives in the incipient stages with the hope of restoring them to health, but to furnish the pitable victims of this wasting malady who are homeless and who have reached the incurable stage with a cheerful, quiet, comfortable home, in which to spend the short allotment of time that is left to them.

The number of sufferers who need a retreat of this kind in this community is not large. A small home would be sufficient to accommodate them, and at present there is literally no place where they can go and receive the care that their condition demands. Bacteriology, in discovering and disclosing the nature of consumption, has made consumptives unwelcome everywhere; whether as patients in hospitals and sanitariums or visitors at health resorts they are undesirable if not forbidden guests.

Sensitive, weak, fading, without hope of recovery, sufferers from this disease have a strong claim upon human sympathy, and especially so when they must find shelter where they can, unaided, and are deprived by circumstances of the care and nourishment upon which such comfort as may still attend them depends.

The time will come when no community can call itself civilized and allow the victims of this pitifully lingering disease to drag out their last days in dark, unsuitable, perhaps noisome, lodgings, because, either for pecuniary reasons or from the fact that they are shunned as infectious, they must take any room that they can get.

If this matter is properly brought before the public, with a feasible plan upon which to work, there is no doubt but the financial aid necessary to establish and maintain a suitable retreat of a few rooms for this class of sufferers can be secured. It may be hoped, in the name of common humanity, which includes public safety, that the movement will take practical shape and be pushed to a successful issue.—Oregonian.

The eyes of Eastern people are fixed on our state more than is generally supposed. If Oregon will continue to maintain the reputation already established, her future is assured. Sylvester Johnson, for eleven years president of the Indiana State Horticultural Society, at a meeting of that society held at Indianapolis said: "I regard Oregon as pre-eminently the fruit state of the Union, and its fruits better than those of California. This exhibit forever dispels the opinion that California possesses superior advantages for fruit-growing to that of every other region on the Pacific slope. The Oregon exhibit of apples pears and plums was not only unequalled, but it excelled that of every other state. The fact may be footed that the largest apple, the largest pear, and the largest cherries exhibited at the Columbian exposition were grown in Oregon."

People who are sticklers for personal liberty will be pleased to learn that the supreme court of North Carolina has rendered a very important decision that they may find useful, when they get in a "tight" place. It is that an officer has no right to arrest a man who may be quietly drunk on the street. If you can only control yourself and refrain from ballooing or making an unusual noise, you are just as safe on the street as if you were at a "lodge" banquet, and if you can gain a friendly lamp post and hold on and keep quiet, no policeman has any legal right to make you move on.

What is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly readjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at Peery's drug store.

SECOND LECTURE ON ELECTRICITY.

DR. DARRIN WILL REMAIN IN ALBANY UNTIL DEC. 1, ONLY.

Did not time prevent we could talk for hours on the many wonderful things that electricity has accomplished, but it is not necessary at this time, for electricity is now only in its infancy. Electricity contains all the elementary principles, and therefore all the healing properties of all things in being. All the balms, oils and minerals in existence are contained in electricity, and in their most skilful combined proportions. No medicine does as much for the system as electricity properly used by a physician thoroughly versed in its application. The leading physicians recognize electricity as one of the great panaceas for all chronic diseases.

Dr. Darrin is one of the foremost practicenors in the use of this subtle fluid, as the following permanent cures will show:

TO THE PUBLIC.

This is to certify that Dr. Darrin has cured me of a loathsome chronic catarrh, dyspepsia and kidney trouble of 15 years standing and I most emphatically commend him to the public and will confer with anyone at Plainview, Or., where I reside.

D. F. WEST.

TO THE OREGON PUBLIC.

Prior to visiting Dr. Darrin, I took the precaution to investigate his cures and found them permanent and as stated in the press. I had been afflicted with deafness and a loathsome discharge of the ears for ten years. My delight was great when told by the doctor I could be cured. True to his word, I have been cured of both afflictions. I consider it one of the most remarkable cures on record and more than I expected could be done. I claim it a duty to inform the public where they can be cured. I am connected with the Reform School two miles from Turner, My post office address is Turner, Oregon.

HENRY BRUKE.

Happy After Years of Misery.

Mr. Editor: I can reccomend Dr. Darrin's treatment. For eight or ten years I have been troubled with rheumatism in the hip and back, also diabetes. Through Dr. Darrin's electrical and medical treatment I am cured. Refer to me at Jefferson, Ore. J. W. PATE.

Dr. Darrin's Place of Business.

Dr. Darrin can be consulted free at the Hotel Revere, Albany, from 10 to 5 o'clock daily; evening 7 to 8, Sunday, 10 to 3. The poor free except medicine, 10 to 11 daily, and those able to pay at the rate of $5 a week or in that proportion of time the case may require. All curable chronic diseases of men and women a specialty.

For a bilious attack take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and a quick cure is certain. For sale by all dealers.

You Know What You Are Taking

When you are taking Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic because the formula is plainly printed on every bottle showing that it is simply Iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure no pay. Price 50c.

Owes His Life to a Neighbor's Kindness.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea; was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any, relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diaarhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours. For sale by all dealers.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name or J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies. "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel Complaints. Only 25c. Guaranteed by E. C. Peery, druggist.

RACE HORSES AT SEA

Precautions Are Taken in Shipping Thoroughbreds Across Ocean.

Stalls Padded and Floors Covered with Peat Moss—A Clean Bill of Health Necessary for Each Horse.

Few persons have an idea of the details attendant upon the shipping of a thoroughbred from this country to England on one of the Atlantic Transport line steamers which handle most of this line of business. A thoroughbred is not handled like a dray horse. The race is as much entitled to comfort and consideration as a first-class cabin passenger. His owner is solicitous as to his welfare and is willing to pay well for it. The slightest jolt due to the rolling of the ship in a heavy sea might disable a thoroughbred so that his trip to the other side would all be in vain, therefore the greatest care must be taken that the quarters on board ship are provided with precautions against such accidents, says the New York Sun.

The railroads have gradually met the demand for the traffic in race horses and now run whole trains of specially constructed horse cars for the accommodation of thoroughbreds. According to the laws of the United States a horse brought over a railroad to a seaport town preparatory to an ocean voyage must have 18 hours of rest in a stable after leaving the cars before he is led up to the gang plank to his stall on shipboard. The New York Central road has a specially constructed stable for this purpose at Thirty-sixth street and the North river, and other trunk lines are making preparations to provide similar quarters. These stables and the quarters for the horses aboard ship are under the direct jurisdiction of the United States bureau of animal industry, of which the chief executive for the port of New York is Dr. William H. Rose.

The inspectors employed by this bureau have many duties to perform, among them close scrutiny of each ship before horses are allowed to go aboard. According to the requirements of the law, each stall must be eight feet in length and two feet six inches in width. These are the accommodations for ordinary horses, but the box stalls for thoroughbreds are generally ten by eight feet, with the walls and roof thickly padded. The floor of one of these stalls is covered with six inches of peat moss, over which at night a heavy mattress of straw is thrown so that the racehorse can enjoy a comfortable sleep. But the same mattress is not used two nights in succession, for the law says that the racehorse must have a clean bed every night.

The inspectors disinfect everything before a ship sails, including stalls, blankets, feed troughs, water pails, pitchforks and currycombs. A horse cannot go aboard until he has received a clean bill of health from a veterinary surgeon who represents the bureau, while the attendants who sail with the animals must make affidavit that they are all practical horsemen. Uncle Sam also sees to it that the horses, whether they are poor beasts of burden or rich racers, receive proper rations. They get all the hay they want, the thoroughbreds receiving extras in the shape of bran mash mixed with oats, flaxseed meal and oatmeal, with corn in cold weather.

Some of the box stalls are built on the main deck with powerful fans to produce ventilation. The old plan of "slinging" a horse aboard a steamer has been done away with, big gangplanks having been substituted. A thousand horses can now walk aboard in the same time it used to take to get an animal onto the deck by means of a sling. When one of the Atlantic Transport liners lands a load of horses on the other side they are put into the company's stables on the dock and cannot leave until more veterinaries have gotten in their work. Horses shipped to this country must pass through what is known as "horse quarantine" under the watchful eye of a veterinary attached to the department of agriculture. So much care is exercised that it is estimated that not more than one horse in a hundred dies from the effects of an ocean voyage. The attendants on these "horse ships" say that they have never seen a thoroughbred suffer from seasickness.

A Boy's Wild Ride for Life.

Like marvelous cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Grip prove its matchless merit for all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Peery's drug store.

This enables the system to assimilate supplies, strengthening every organ and restoring health.

Mrs. Fred Unrath.
President Country Club, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It prevents miscarriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.
