FALL FROM BUGGY INJURES WOMAN.—Mrs. Emma Hendor lost four false teeth and suffered a broken nose early yesterday morning when a single buggy, driven by Barney Haffrey, a saloonman of Third street, North, and occupied by Haffrey, James Haggerty, owner of a saloon at 84 Third street North and Mrs. Hendor, crashed into a pile of wood corded beside the road in front of the Stein Bakery, at 325 Sixteenth street North. The horse, Haffrey told the police, shied at a streetcar when the two men were taking Mrs. Hendor home and swerved around until the buggy struck the woodpile, throwing Mrs. Hendor out. They complained that the wood was over the boulevard line of the street but Patrolmen Cameron and Klingel, who were sent to investigate, decided that the wood was piled properly inside the curb line and fixed the blame on the two men.

IRVINGTON CLUB MEETS TONIGHT.—For the purpose of formulating some plan for the proper maintenance of the playground in Irvington, a meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Irvington Club. Those interested in the project are urged to be present. The playgrounds were equipped by the club at a cost of $2000 and are considered the best in the city. It has heretofore been cared for by the neighbors in the vicinity of the club, but the board of directors believe the time has come when a trained playground director should be employed to teach the children games and to generally make the playgrounds more effectual in the lives of the children of that district.

MANY ACCEPT INVITATIONS. — Two hundred acceptances had already been received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday for the "Dollar Dinner" it will hold tonight in conjunction with the Portland Commercial Club. H. M. Haller, president of the Chamber will be toastmaster, and J. N. Teal will give the chief address of the evening. Other prominent business men will be called upon by the toastmaster to give brief extempore speeches on subjects of interest to the industrial and commercial bodies of the city. The dinner will be served at 5:30 o'clock, and the first address will be announced at 7:30. The plan is to have the meeting closed by 9 oclock at the latest.

PARENTS, mothers particularly, are earnestly requested to assemble at the Irvington clubhouse, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing the future and immediate needs and possibilities of the children's playground, recently opened. Money will not be solicited, the object of the meeting being to enlarge to the fullest degree the possibilities of this community asset. The trustees and club members hope sincerely that every parent, whether a member of the club or not, will be present at this meeting.

JURY MAY MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Linnton rockpile, its management and suggestions concerning future changes in its ownership and handling was the principal topic taken up by the grand jury yesterday after disposing of a number of criminal and other indictments. Commissioner Hart was called before the jury to tell what he knew about the conditions there. No recommendations were officially issued, but it is believed that with another day of discussion the grand jury will have something to recommend.

Buckwalter, of 829 East Washington street, whose eye was seriously injured by accidentally touching it with a curling iron while curling her hair, will not lose the eye, is the belief of physicians attending her at Pendleton. Her condition is regarded as favorable, and although she has suffered considerably with the injured eye, she has not been brought to Portland for treatment, as it was not thought necessary.

FIRE-BRICK FAMINE RELIEVED.—There has been a great scarcity of fire brick and fire clay in this vicinity for some weeks, which is now relieved by the arrival of the French bark Duguay Trouin, from Glasgow, Scotland, consigned to Nottingham & Co., 102 Front street. Orders for square, end wedge, or side arch fire brick, or fire clay, can now be filled promptly. Telephones Main 381, A 1281. *

Hunter were sued for by Bowman in Justice Court yesterday, damages to the extent of $13.50 being asked. Judge Bell decided Mrs. Hunter guilty and held over the case to pronounce judgment today.

True bills were found against Charles Milan and James Kelly, accused of stealing $25 from Frank Rosumny; William Frazier, charged with the theft of gold rings, cuff buttons, watch hangers and shirt buttons from A. E. Whiteside, and D. J. Mott, accused of assault on T. A. Ketchum. Not true bills were returned in the cases of William T. Reise, accused of the theft of an Elks' charm and a gold watch from E. C. Munk; Albert Daniels, accused of appropriating $49.03 held in trust for D. W. Hunter; Arthur Weston, alias Edward Wissendanger, charged with passing a fraudulent check for $87 drawn on the Peninsula bank of St. Johns, and Harry Kane, charged with the theft of a horse valued at $100 from A. W. Wills and J. M. Maloney, proprietors of the Montgomery stables. All four were held from the Municipal or Justice Court for action by the grand jury.

TRIPP FUNERAL HELD.—The funeral services of the late Emley C. Tripp were held yesterday at the funeral parlors of J. P. Finley & Son, burial taking place at Riverview Cemetery. Mrs. Tripp was born in Vermont, January 18, 1835, and passed away at Courtney Station, near Milwaukie, Or., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. G. Jones. Deceased has been a resident of Oregon for the last eight years, and leaves four children to mourn her loss; namely: Mrs. G. G. Jones, Courtney Station; Mrs. M. A. Boardman, Oakes, N. D.; F. O. Tripp, Spokane, Wash., and S. A. Tripp residing in this city. All members of the family were present upon the occasion.

JURIES REFUSE TO AGREE.—Juries in Judge Bell's department of the Justice Court refused to agree upon a decision yesterday in two cases affecting the Meier & Frank Company and Lipman, Wolfe & Co., in which both were charged with making and selling drugs without a license. Minor offenders, charged with the same misdemeanor, pleaded guilty and their cases were set over a day for affixing the penalty. C. Yunger, J. J. Hogan, James Burns, S. S. Lamont and H. Duffield, practising druggists, all entered pleas of guilty. Prosecutions were made at the instance of the State Pharmacy Board.

SUPPORT TO BE GIVEN

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION TO STAND BY ADMINISTRATION.

John F. Logan Says Police Dismissals Will Be Upheld if Political Reasons Do Not Prompt.

John F. Logan, one of the members of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, declares it will be the policy of the commission to uphold Mayor Rushlight and the police committee of the Executive Board in all the dismissals of police officers they have made, provided it is not shown the men were discharged for political or religious reasons.

"The Civil Service Commission was established not so much to correct abuses of the power to discharge public officers as it was to prevent abuses of the appointing power. It is not the policy of this commission to see that men are retained in office, but to see that every citizen who wants an office has a fair chance, irrespective of political pull or the lack of it.

"I am not saying whether or not we shall uphold the discharge of Sergeant Cole or other police officers, should appeal be taken to us from the action of the police committee. But I do say that no man ought to be discharged for political reasons. If a man is discharged because he did not support Mayor Rushlight or any other public official, I shall see that he is reinstated, so far as it is in my power.

"On the other hand, if a policeman has allowed certain forms of vice to exist on his beat and has failed to take notice of it when he could have known of it if he would—if he was discharged for that reason, I say, the discharge was proper. Because members of the police committee cannot name the exact date and place of a police officer's offense and bring evidence enough to prove the charge to the satisfaction of a jury is no reason why they may not discharge an officer. When the Government can stamp out counterfeiting, which is a secret crime, I cannot be led to believe that police officers cannot stamp out gambling, for instance, if they wish to do so. This is necessarily an offense of a public nature. It is possible for the police to know of it and if there are infractions of the law in this regard on their beats, they should know about it and take action against the offenders."

NEW SKYSCRAPER IN VIEW

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company Seeks Suitable Site.

According to local officials of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, a building will be erected in Portland within the next two or three years to be used exclusively by the several departments of the company. It is probable that the building will be 10 or 12 stories high.

It has been known that a representative of the plant department of San Francisco has been in Portland the past two weeks looking over the field for the selection of a site. Verbal options have been taken on several sites, one being the S. Benson property at the southeast corner of Oak and Park streets. It was declared last night that no deal had yet been closed for the purchase of a building site.

The Postal Telegraph-Cable Company has also been planning to purchase a site here to erect a big building. The company took an option on the Unitarian Church property at the corner of Seventh and Yamhill streets a few weeks ago, but failed to close a deal for the property. The price asked for the quarter block is understood to be $250,000.

Man Thought Insane Casts Self Into River, Jumps Out Window.

Twice trying to kill himself in one night, once early in the evening by drowning in the Willamette River and once by throwing himself from the second-story window of his rooming-house at 71½ Sixth street, North, Walter Hull, thought demented by the police, was locked up early yesterday morning.

Motorcycle Policeman Royle made a hurry-up trip to the rooming-house, where frantic roomers thought Hull had succeeded in jumping from the window.

WAR ON FIRM VAIN

International Mercantile & Bond Company Wins.

LAW PRACTICE IS UPHELD

Attorney Benjamin Hayman Loses Suit Filed to Oust Company From State as California Collection Agency.

Attorney Benjamin Hayman has lost as far as the Circuit Court is concerned in his effort to oust the International Mercantile & Bond Company, a California corporation, from the State of Oregon on the ground that it is a corporation practising law. Judge McGinn yesterday sustained the demurrer to his complaint against the company which was brought in the name of the state with Hayman as relator.

When the decision was announced Attorney Hayman said that he will appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision. He was formerly an attorney in the employ of the company and as such entered into control of the Standard cafeteria as assignee. The fee in this case was $2500. Attorney Hayman quit the service of the corporation and there is now a suit pending against him in the Circuit Court in which the company is plaintiff asking judgment against him for the $2500, the allegation being that he is entitled only to his salary of $75 a month.

"This corporation is primarily a collection agency and the giving of legal advice is merely an incidental part of its business," said Judge McGinn. "It is a corporation practicing law only in that it furnishes the legal services necessary to its collection business."

Attorneys for the company urged when the demurrer was up for argument that the person bringing the suit should come into court with clean hands and quoted decision after decision in support of the contention. Attorney Hayman's mainstay was a decision in a New York case much in point. Judge McGinn complimented him on his presentation of the case, but declared that the preponderance of legal opinion was against his contentions.

ATTORNEY'S FEE CUT DOWN

Charges in Beard Estate Controversy Deemed Exorbitant.

The fee of Wallace McCamant, attorney for Mary Beard Gray, who was removed from the position of executrix of the will of S. M. Beard some time ago by the County Court, was cut from $1000 to $250 by County Judge Cleeton yesterday. Mrs. Gray filed her expense account and included $1000 as compensation for Mr. McCamant. Judge Cleeton declared the amount exorbitant. Her bill was also cut in some other particulars.

The controversy over the estate is now in the Circuit Court, Mary Beard Gray and A. Edgar Beard having appealed from Judge Cleeton's decision removing them. Their removal was accomplished on the showing that they were creditors of the estate. Judge McGinn will renew the hearing of the appeal this afternoon.

A large part of the estate bids fair to be consumed in court costs and attorneys' fees in the legal fight between the heirs.

WOMAN BOLTSERS DEED

STENOGRAPHER SAYS SHE SAW WINTERS SIGN IT.

Court Orders Filing of Instrument Transferring $65,000 Property to W. E. Purdy.

Responding to an order to show cause why his client, Will E. Purdy, should not be enjoined from taking possession of Grand avenue property worth $65,000, formerly a part of the estate of H. D. Winter, who died June 20, Attorney Thomas O'Day yesterday morning in Judge McGinn's court put on the witness stand Miss M. L. Pratt, a stenographer and notary, who testified that she saw Winters sign the deed conveying the property to Purdy May 1, 1910, and that she had acknowledged the instrument. Miss Pratt recalled practically every circumstance of the transaction. Judge McGinn issued instructions that Clerk Fields proceed to record the deed.

Mr. Purdy recounted in brief the history of his business and social relations with Winters. About 10 years ago Mrs. Purdy and he, he testified, came to Portland from Southern Oregon, where they had been doing evangelical work. They took quarters in one of Winters' buildings on the East Side. One night, he testified, Winters asked him if he "was not tired of working for the Lord and willing to engage in the service of a better paymaster." Subsequent to that conversation, he said, he entered Winters' service as manager and part proprietor of a store. For many years the two, the witness testified, continued doing business together, Winters acting as financial backer of Purdy, who declares that he deeded to Winters various equities in property obtained jointly.

Mr. Purdy also filed yesterday morning his answer to the suit of Agnes Butts, administrator of the estate of H. D. Winters, praying the court to set aside the deed on the ground of fraud. Purdy admits that he intends to take possession of the property and brands as "wrongfully, maliciously and outrageously false" the allegation that he used improper methods in obtaining the deed. He declares that the deed was given in return for a valuable and substantial consideration.

PHYSICIAN HURT BY AUTO

Dr. Otis E. Hollister Run Down in Washington Street.

Dr. Otis C. Hollister, a physician having offices in The Oregonian building, was run down at the corner of King and Washington streets early yesterday by an automobile driven by Arnold E. Neate, of Neate & McCarthy, automobile dealers, and was seriously bruised and shaken up. He was immediately taken to his home by Neate in the automobile, and is reported as resting easy.

The automobile, Oregon 703, is the same that ran down and seriously injured the five-year-old son of Mrs. Helen Tully, 178 Ella street, at Washington and Twenty-first streets last Tuesday.

Neate says that he was going at a fair rate of speed along Washington street when he saw Dr. Hollister advance into the street to get a passing streetcar. "When I saw the doctor I at first slowed down," said Neate, "then he stopped and I started up again. As I started he advanced and the automobile struck him. I stopped in less than the length of the car and raised him from where he was lying just in front of the rear wheels, and took him home."

B. K. Knapp, a witness of the accident, appeared at the police station in the afternoon and swore out a warrant charging Neate with driving faster than the speed limit. The warrant was served and Neate was brought to the police station and put under heavy bail to appear in Municipal Court today.

CONFEDERATE BILLS PASSED ON UNWARY WOMEN.

Portland Youth, Caught by Secret Service Men, May Join Others of Gang in Prison.

Deputy United States Marshal Hammersley returned yesterday from Riddles, Or., bringing with him Virgil Catching, a youth of 19, who is wanted for counterfeiting. Young Catching is a Portland boy who is said to have been a member of a gang that has been circulating obsolete currency in various cities in the Northwest.

The older members of the gang have already been captured and are now in a Federal prison. Their method was to buy old issues of currency from curio stores and pass it on lodging-house keepers, getting legal coin in change. For the most part the trick was played on women, they being much less wary than men.

Several of the bills recovered by the local Secret Service bureau are of issues of Virginia state currency, payable at the Monticello Bank, of Charlottesville, V. These Confederate bills had no marking on the back, and two bills had been pasted together to give them a closer resemblance to legal currency. In various parts of the Northwest persons unfamiliar with paper money have been imposed upon, some of the bills of denominations as high as $50 having been successfully circulated.

Secret Service Agent Connell and his assistants have been on the trail of the gang for some time. Catching was indicted in Tacoma and will be taken there today. Pending his removal he is held in the Multnomah County jail.

The appointment of committees was discussed but no action will be taken on this subject until a joint meeting of the Centralia and Chehalis committees is held early next week.
