ROYAL STEAMSHIP REACHES PORTLAND

Flintshire Arrives From London via the Orient and Puget Sound.

FLAGS ARE AT HALF-MAST

Second Vessel of British Line That Will Make Columbia Harbor Regularly for Passengers and Freight to Sail June 7.

The Royal Mail steamship Flintshire, Captain G. C. Cundry, master, arrived at the North Bank dock Thursday night from London via the Orient and Puget Sound. The Flintshire will clear for Japan June 7 en route to London via Suez Canal.

The Flintshire is the second steamer of a regular Portland-European line via the Orient and the first line to carry passengers direct to London. However, the Flintshire will carry no passengers for the reason that she is built for carrying freight with a license for a few passengers. The Flintshire will not return to Portland, as larger steamers are needed for the long run and these will be fitted with fine passenger accommodations.

Flags at Half Mast.

The Flintshire displayed four flags at half mast yesterday in observance of the holiday, one of these being an American flag of generous proportions. All the ships in Portland harbor had their flags at half mast, but the Royal Mail boat displayed more colors.

The direct connection with Europe is of marked significance especially through the Royal Mail Company, the largest in the world, operating many ships, owning ships totaling 1,200,000 gross tons register, and charting about 75 other vessels. Some of the Royal Mail liners running to South America are more than 20,000 tons and make a speed of more than 20 knots. Their passenger accommodations are equal to the best to be found. These boats carry guns for self defense and their officers belong to the Royal Naval Reserves.

A number of ships are being built for the Royal Mail line for the Pacific Coast via the Panama Canal. They are of the latest and largest pattern. Possibly they will run through to Japan and connect with the same line steamers from London.

Officers Are Naval Reserves.

The Flintshire carries a crew of 54 coolies and 12 white men and a stewardess. The last mentioned has had nothing to do but care for a large Angora cat since leaving Japan for the reason that no passengers, excepting one man, were carried beyond that point.

The officers are Englishmen who have traveled much on many vessels. Captain Cundry carries photographs of his wife and three fine fully-grown young women who are his daughters. He says that he is a "home man" with an occupation which compels him to travel. He is an officer in the Royal Naval Reserves, an honor shared also by G. H. Openshaw, second officer, and J. C. Vernoh-Morgan, third officer. A. Williams, first officer, being the only exception.

Mr. Openshaw inquired all about Portland. He said that he and the other officers liked to see the cities which they visit.

Marine Notes.

Owing to Memorial day the American ships did not work yesterday, and all flags were displayed at half mast.

The Navajo was at Crown Mills yesterday.

The Norwegian steamer Bangor, which loaded lumber for Shanghai at Portland Lumber Company's dock, left down last night.

The steam schooner Northland moved to Rainier last night.

The Royal Mail Line steamer Falls of Orchy is due in Portland June 24.

The British tramp steamer Ecclesia moved from Westport to Eastern and Western Lumber Company's dock last night.

The steam schooner Norwood is due from San Francisco this morning laden with lime and cement for Henry Cowell Lime & Cement Company.

Barge No. 93 in tow of the El Segundo was landed at Astoria yesterday and will be towed to Portland by the Cascade.

The Beasle Dollar arrived yesterday from San Francisco and the Orient. The Bessle Dollar loaded lumber at Hoquiam. She will discharge 30,000 feet of hardwood at Portland and will finish loading lumber at Kalama for Hankow.

The British steamer Iverkip arrived yesterday from Honolulu after a quick passage of nine days and went to Linnton under charter to Balfour-Guthrie Company to load lumber for China.

Captain G. C. Cundry, Master of Flintshire.
