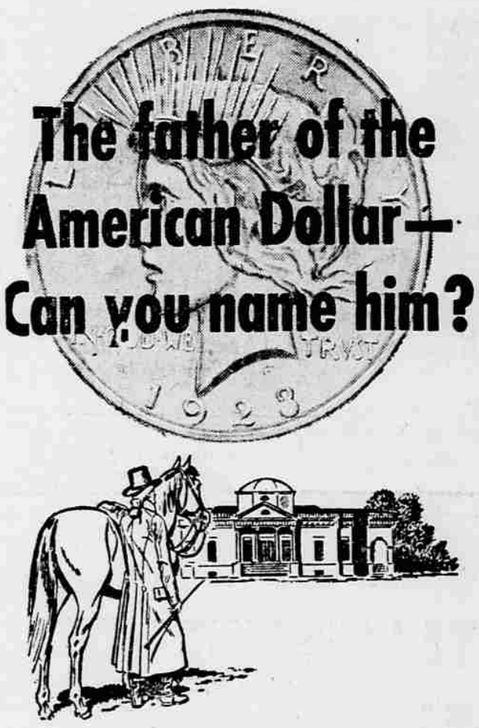
The father of the American Dollar—Can you name him?



YOU KNOW HIS NAME as well as your own.

He invented the swivel chair, a plow, the shooting stick, and an indoor weather vane.

As a Congressman, he wrote a suggestion for a decimal monetary system which gave us the penny, the dime, and the dollar—yet strangely enough, his face appears on the two money units he did not suggest. They are the nickle and the two-dollar bill. And now you know him—Thomas Jefferson, born 212 years ago.

You might think it strange that this busy man whose mind was engaged with so many practical things should also have written the most inspiring words in American history—our Declaration of Independence. But Thomas Jefferson knew that independence is a practical thing.

You know it, too. And you are acting in the spirit of Jefferson every time you invest another dollar in our nation's Series E Savings Bonds. For Savings Bonds can be your personal Declaration of Independence. They offer you one of the world's surest ways to save. And they pay good interest—3% compounded semiannually when held to maturity.

Don't let all of Thomas Jefferson's good dollars you receive slip through your fingers! Take the first step toward security and financial independence today by joining the Payroll Savings Plan at your company. Or invest in Savings Bonds regularly where you bank!

Want your interest paid as current income? Invest in 3% Series H

United States Government Series H Bonds are new current income Bonds in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Redeemable at par after 6 months and on one month's notice. Mature in 9 years, 8 months and pay an average of 3% per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semi-annually by Treasury check. Series H may be purchased through any bank. Annual limit: $20,000.
