Mr. Wright has many friends in Clackamas county, who are highly pleased to learn that the unfortunate man will not be obliged to lose his limb. Mr. Wright is one of the best horsemen in Clackamas county, and had he lost his limb his usefulness in his chosen profession would have been ruined.

Broke Three Ribs.

Mrs. Mary Waack, who lives at Highland, met with quite a serious accident last week. She was hurrying along over a slippery path when she slipped and was thrown violently over the sharp corners of a sawbuck. The fall was so severe that the poor woman's three ribs were broken and her right arm considerably bruised. She was confined to her room for a few days and is now just able to be out—Moral—Don't leave saw bucks lying around.

The Courier enjoyed a very pleasant call on Monday night from Mayor Grant B. Dimick, Mr. Ernest Mass of Willamette, Secretary of the Democratic county committee and Hon. J. J. Cook. Come again gentlemen we are glad to have you around. It does us good and we hope it does you no harm.

Several carloads of steel girders arrived from the East last week for the steel railroad bridge over the Clackamas river to take the place of the present wooden structure. It is not probable that the steel bridge will be built until next summer, as a high stage of water would be fatal to the stability of the necessary false work.

We had the pleasure Sunday a week ago to run down to the farm of G. B. Dimick on the Pudding river and take dinner with Mayor Dimick's father and mother on the old Dimick donation land claim. It had been nearly eighteen years since we taught school at Hubbard, and the place and the "boys and girls" who once went to school to us had changed quite a good deal. Mr. Dimick has raised and stored this year 20,000 pounds of onions sets, 300 tons of hay and other things in proportion. He has lived in Oregon all of his life, raised his family here, and is a "Webfoot" to the core. He subscribed for the Courier and wished us well in our new undertaking.

INTERESTING LETTER

From a Student of the State Normal.

Monmouth, Oregon,
Nov. 4, 1902.

Editor: I have thought a letter from one of the students of a state institution of Oregon would be of interest to the readers of the Courier.

I entered the State Normal School, located at Monmouth, at the opening of the first semester. All the students assembled in the chapel located on the second floor, at 9 a. m.

All the members of the faculty met the students at this hour. There are several new members of the faculty this year. All are more than satisfied with the new President, Mr. Resnier, and feel confident of the success of the school during the ensuing year and the years to come.

It was ten o'clock when we were dismissed from the assembly, and the rest of the forenoon was spent in enrolling, getting our study cards made out and securing the signature of the instructors to whom we were to recite. Those of us who were fortunate enough to get this done during the forenoon had the afternoon to devote to buying our books, getting located and becoming acquainted with the town of Monmouth.

The course of study is so arranged that the student may enter as graduate of the eighth grade and finish in three years, in that time completing all the subjects required for a state certificate, eighteen in number and several others. The additional subjects are: Two courses in Methods, History and Philosophy of Education, Chemistry, Astronomy, Zoology, drawing, vocal music, physical training and manual training.

Beside the regular work of the school, there are a number of educational factors in the school, organized and supported by the students with some assistance from the school, authorities and the town people. These include athletic clubs, such as gymnastics, hand ball, basket ball, foot ball, tennis, golf, three literary societies; two for girls and one for the boys; a Y. W. C. A. and a Y. M. C. A., and musical organizations. Membership in these student societies is voluntary, but one ought to belong to one or more of them.

I have intended to include in this letter a brief description of the town, but in my first letter must content myself in saying that it is a beautiful little town, located in the heart of the Willamette valley. The Cascade Range on one side and the Coast Range on the other. It is a village of about 800 inhabitants, devoted principally to the work of education.

There are no saloons or gambling houses in Monmouth. In fact one could not find a more favorable surrounding for such a school as the Normal.

I must say in conclusion, that I am delighted with my school and all its instructors.

Yours Respectfully,
A Student from Clackamas County.

WAS GIVEN AWAY.

The stove which was advertised to be given away by J. J. Cooke, the real estate dealer, was awarded to W. H. Vaughn of Molalla. Following is a list of those who competed, also the weight of the potatoes exhibited: W. H. Vaughn, Molalla, 18 1/2 pounds; Mrs. Tho's Waack, Logan, 9 1/2 pounds; James Church, Oregon City, 15 1/2 pounds; Jacob Schmidt, Schubel, 7 1/2 pounds; F. E. Parmer, Macksburg, 8 1/2 pounds; Ferguson, New Era, 7 1/2 pounds; T. L. Turner, Stafford, 7 1/2 pounds; Grant Mumpower, Stone, 10 1/2 pounds; August Hubert, Viola, 10 1/2 pounds; John Aden, Stafford, 7 1/2 pounds; Warren Greenwell, Barton, 13 pounds. The potatoes will be placed on exhibition in the union depot Portland Oregon. I wish to say furthermore that I will give $10 in cash, on December 1st, to the one placing on exhibition with Wilson & Cooke, 100 pounds of potatoes with the least number of potatoes in 100 pounds.

County Court Meets.

The regular monthly session of the county court met Wednesday morning and a crowd of busy people appeared as soon as the doors were open, to make known their individual grievances. The most interesting feature before the court was the contest over the Jacob Sager fence at New Era. George Randall and August Staley, who is the road supervisor of the New Era precinct, appeared before the court and entered complaint that Mr. Sager had built a fence almost across the county road, obstructing the traveling public and affording great inconvenience to the general public. Mr. Sager is greatly agitated about the matter and declares that he will have to have some redress.
