NORTH BANK JOINS IN LETTER WRITING

Railway President Urges All Employes of System to Enter Oregon Campaign.

MAILING TO BE FEATURED

Desirability of State for Tourist Visits and Not Employment-Seekers Is Emphasized in Instruction Order.

PRESIDENT COLT ASKS FACTORIES TO BLOW WHISTLES AT NOON.

To the People of Portland:

Next week is Letter-Writing week in Oregon, and the Chamber of Commerce hopes that everyone in Portland will choose this time to impress upon their connections in other parts of the country the advantages of Oregon as a tourist center.

It is planned to make noon of each day the special occasion for posting letters in the giant mailbox that will be erected for the purpose in Sixth street, opposite the Postoffice.

To remind the public of this daily ceremony the Chamber of Commerce requests that every mill, every factory and every steamship in the harbor be caused to blow its whistle for a brief period at least at 12 o'clock noon each day next week, beginning Monday. C. C. COLT, President Portland Chamber of Commerce.

L. C. Gilman, president of the North Bank Railroad system, got actively into the letter-writing campaign yesterday.

Mr. Gilman returned only a few days ago from a trip to the East and the letter-writing plan of the Chamber of Commerce was one of the first subjects that engaged his attention upon his return. After studying the situation, he gave the movement his most hearty approval.

"I hope all our employes will join in the campaign," was the substance of the order issued by Mr. Gilman last night.

"But," he added significantly, "I hope the letters will be so worded that they will invite only the tourist traveler. This campaign should not be made the means of attracting people looking for employment or persons who may be made victims of unscrupulous real estate dealers. Oregon is a tourist state and we should do all we can to develop it along that line."

Employes Are Listed.

As a result of Mr. Gilman's indorsement of the plan, every employe of the North Bank system will be urged to write letters to Eastern friends and relatives next week. Agents in the territory outside of Portland will be supplied with stationery and instructed to send the letters in to Portland for mailing. The company will pay the postage.

Mr. Gilman passed the suggestion direct to the head of every department of every line controlled from Portland headquarters in this state, and every chief of a department in the company's employ that the co-operation of every employe be procured.

Ticket agents, traveling passenger and freight agents and all representatives doing business in Oregon for the North Bank, the Oregon Trunk, the Oregon Electric, the Pacific & Eastern, the United Railways and the Great Northern Steamship Company are enlisted in the cause.

The first result of the activity yesterday afternoon at North Bank headquarters in the Pittock block was the sending out of more than 2000 letters and envelopes to various agencies with a letter from Traffic Manager Skinner asking every agent to prepare from two to 25 letters to persons who, in the agent's judgment, might be interested in a pleasure trip to and through Oregon, the dedication of the Columbia River Highway, the beach resorts nearest Portland and the Rose Festival.

Official Stationery Used.

North Bank people are using a form letter along original lines, and many hundreds of letters are being written by employes in a personal vein on the official stationery and will be added to the multitude of letters going out next week.

"The United States first—in scenery, as well as sentiment," is one of the slogans of the letters going from the railroad officials.

Not only will the company thus co-operate through its agencies, but the headquarters force will join in the demonstration on Monday, when railroad men generally will turn out to inaugurate letter-writing week.

The mailing of the employes' letters will take place next Friday. The railway employes' band will be sent over from the shops at Vancouver to enliven the posting hour, and there will be a short parade and other demonstrations.

CHINESE DRAMA LICENSED

Plays Will Be Given for 30 Days at Eleventh-Street Theater.

Portland is to see the genuine article in old-time Chinese drama, such as has made the Chinese theater of San Francisco famous. A troupe of 30 from the Chinese Institute of Modern Acting of San Francisco obtained a license yesterday from the city to stage dramas for 30 days at the Eleventh-Street Theater.

The plays will commence tonight with "Ba Tao Ja Bing." A different drama will be staged each night. All performances will be in Chinese and in native costume. The plays will be historic in nature. The troupe is in charge of Thomas F. Wee, of San Francisco, and Lee See Nom, editor of the Chinese newspaper in San Francisco. This is said to be the only Chinese troupe in the United States.
