WINNIPEG'S POLICE FORCE IS DISMISSED

Refusal to Sign Oath Not to Join in Strike Cause.

LABOR RANKS WEAKENING

Many Employes Seek Reinstatement, Though Leaders Plead for Continued Solidarity.

WINNIPEG, June 9.—Delegations of press and commercial telegraphers visited the Canadian Press office and commercial telegraph offices late today and formally asked information regarding the terms upon which they might return to work.

The Winnipeg police force was discharged by the city commission late today. The policemen refused to accept the city ultimatum to sign a pledge to not participate in sympathetic strikes. The city refused to accept a compromise offer.

The breach in the union forces seemed widening tonight. It was announced at the board of trade that spokesmen for various union crafts had made overtures regarding settlement, without permission from the central strike committee.

Police Seek Compromise.

Desperate efforts to avoid a complete showdown on the police situation were made by friends of the patrolmen. The city stood firm, however, taking the position that the police had not only gone on record as indorsing the sympathetic strike, but that the actions of some individual policemen, while on duty, had caused doubts as to whether they were doing everything in their power to maintain law and order.

Earlier in the day representatives of the policemen's union announced that the men were willing to sign pledges not to participate in sympathetic strikes in the future. The city was asked, however, to withdraw its ultimatum making such action compulsory.

The police commission immediately announced that all regular policemen who are willing to sign the new pledge could apply for positions. Applications from a number of returned soldiers for jobs on the force have been received, it was announced.

Soldiers Do Guard Duty.

Returned soldier constables have been on duty for several days as a supplementary force. Mayor Gray organized the constable force after complaints had been received that the regular policemen were discriminating in favor of the strikers.

Strike leaders sent out an appeal to all union men this morning "to not do anything about returning to work until Tuesday." The leaders intimated that the railway brotherhoods might do something within the next 24 hours that would have a bearing on the strike. A number of brotherhood executives are here for a conference.

Several Winnipeg concerns affected by the strike notified their employes this morning that their jobs would be held open until tomorrow. Advertisements for help, returned soldiers preferred, were printed in a local newspaper.

Labor Vote Expected.

It was reported that several of the local unions involved in the strike have decided to take a vote relative to returning to work immediately despite the argument by the leaders of the strike that to return to work without a settlement being reported with the employers is to admit defeat.

Harold Riley, president of the Returned Soldiers' Loyalist association, announced that literature indorsing Russian bolshevik principles and approving a soviet government plan for Winnipeg has been obtained by members of the association. Some of the literature turned over to local newspapers carries the statement that it was printed by the Western Labor News, the official publication of the strikers.

PORTLAND IN GAY GARB

quaint ceremony of the orientals will feature the programme.

The Lane o' Laughter in the South park blocks was crowd last night with throngs of merry-makers, who were not inclined to await formal opening of the festival. The various concessions did a big business, and the entertainment enjoyed by the many present indicated that the Lane o' Laughter was, indeed, well named.

The arrival of the goddess of Liberty tomorrow on the flagship Minneapolis is the event scheduled as formally opening the festival. She is scheduled to land at Stark street municipal dock at 11:30 o'clock, accompanied by Rear Admiral William F. Fullam and the royal party, and from the dock will be taken to West Park street, where the enthroning ceremony and dedication of the festival will take place.

Members of the committees, following the meeting yesterday, issued the following official instructions relative to the arrival of the goddess, and for the Victory Industrial parade on Wednesday; the military parade at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and the floral parade at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The goddess of victory and attendants will arrive aboard the flagship Minneapolis Wednesday morning, and, with Admiral William F. Fullam, will disembark and land at the municipal dock at the foot of Stark street at 11:30 o'clock. The distinguished visitors will be welcomed at the dock by the officers of the Rose Festival association, the Royal Rosarians and the naval reception committee.

A procession will be formed, headed by the Royal Rosarian band and Royal Rosarians marching as an ecort to the goddess, with the Rose Festival officials in automobiles, the admiral and his aide and Senator Fred W. Mulkey, chairman of the naval reception committee; the overseas maids, the goddess, attended by a soldier, a sailor and a marine; the Rosebud maids and patronesses, all in autos. This procession will proceed west on Stark stret to Fourth, thence to Washington street, thence west on Washington street to Tenth street, thence south on Tenth street to Madison, thence east on Madison to West Park and turn into West Park, stopping before the grandstand. This procession is to start just at noon, and at 12:00 o'clock will take place the enthroning of the goddess and the dedication ceremony.

VETERANS ARE INVITED.

Soldiers, sailors and marines, veterans of the world war, are requested by parade committee of the American Legion to march on Thursday in victory parade. The committee wants the service men to demonstrate to the people of Portland their appreciation of the work done at home. Portland will decorate with medals all attending. Veterans will assemble on Market street between Eleventh and Fourteenth streets, at 2 o'clock Thursday.

CAPTAIN E. J. EIVERS,
Chairman Parade Committee.

Statue to Be Unveiled.

Following this ceremony the royal party will re-enter their machines and proceed north on West Park street to the middle of the block between Salmon and Main, where the goddess will unveil a statue of victory erected in this block. Following the unveiling, the royal party will proceed to the Hotel Portland, where luncheon will be served.

The victory industrial parade will be held, starting at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Eric V. Hauser, grand marshal. This parade will be in three divisions, the first, or victory division, including the goddess of victory, attendants and distinguished guests, Royal Rosarians, Rose Festival officials, city and county officials and others, and the war work and victory floats entered by cities and towns of the northwest. Colonel Lewis P. Campbell will be marshal of the division. This division will form on Montgomery street, between Eleventh and Fourteenth streets, facing west, head resting on Fourteenth street.

The second division, of which G. W. Stubblebine will be marshall, will be headed by the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's association officials. This division will be divided into three classes. Class A including animated trademarks and class B including display of community advertising and enterprise by outside Ad clubs and chambers of commerce, will form on Market street, between Eleventh and Fourteenth streets, facing west, resting on Fourteenth street. Class C, including industrial floats and displays, will form on Clay street, between Eleventh and Fourteenth streets, facing west and resting on Fourteenth street.

The third division, John Dougal marshal, including victory, patriotic and other displays of civic and fraternal organizations and floats not under any of the other classifications, will form on Columbia street, between Eleventh and Fourteenth streets, facing west and resting on Fourteenth street.

All cars and floats in all divisions in entering the district set aside for the parade formation will report not later than 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Eleventh and Jefferson streets for assignment to their respective positions and will proceed south on Eleventh street to take those positions.

Military Parade Thursday.

The military parade will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Governor Ben W. Olcott grand marshall. The parade will form in the district bounded by Hall and Columbia, Eleventh and Fourteenth streets. The entrants will report not later than 1:30 o'clock P. M. at Eleventh and Jefferson streets to marshals of the parade stationed at that point for proper direction to their respective stations. The parade will move out on Fourteenth street.

Grand Floral Parade Friday.

Parade to move promptly at 2 P. M. All entries to report to marshals of divisions at 1:30 P. M.

William H. Woolridge Killed.

ALBANY, Or., June 9.—(Special.)—William H. Wooldridge, 52, was killed in an accident Saturday on the Skelton farm in the northwestern corner of Linn county. He was assisting in unloading hay from a wagon and when the team became frightened he stepped in front of them to stop them. The plunging horses knocked him down and when the heavy wagon passed over his chest he was instantly killed.

Thirty "Dear Sirs"

There is a man in New York who has specialized in writing circular letters for fifteen years.

Last spring he faced a new client's problem.

It was determined to mail, in the fall, five million circular letters.

So, in the spring, six months in advance, this expert prepared thirty experimental or test letters. Notwithstanding fifteen years' experience, he prayed over and petted every sentence in every letter till he had the thirty. Then, each of these thirty "straw vote" letters was mailed to five thousand people and at the end of sixty days the "keyed" results were tabulated.

From the answers of these one hundred and fifty thousand people the prize letter determined itself; and later, in the fall, was mailed to the whole list of five million.
