A Serious Purchase, Mothers Say Highest Musical Authorities

Educators high in the musical world now caution the importance of phonographic music that achieves true renditions, in homes where there are children.

They point out the danger of spoiling a child's "ear" for music by false tones and incorrect interpretations. And they say that "musical sense" in after life—the unmistakable mark of a cultured person—is largely dependent upon the quality of music, heard in the home during the impressionistic years of childhood.

Hence, that in phonographic reproduction, the tones of the piano, the violin and other musical instruments must be distinctly true and those of the voice given fullest expression without mechanical discord.

So all were tested

For that reason, all phonographs, all records, have been weighed on the delicately balanced scales of musical knowledge. Have been tested and compared.

And in the homes of greatest musicians, both in Europe and America, you will find Brunswick—the musical world's accepted ideal in phonographic expression.

The Brunswick plays all makes of records, and Brunswick Records can be played on any phonograph. Hear, compare—then judge for yourself.

Pie Social Great Success

The entertainment and pie social, given by the ladies of the Maple Lane Improvement club for the benefit of the Orphan Home was quite a success. The sale of tickets for the drawing of the quilt netted about seventy-five dollars. Mrs. Cook of Oregon City having the lucky ticket won the quilt.

The entertainment began with dancing, the music being donated by Mr. Frank, Mr. Robbins and Mrs. A. B. Taylor, after which came the auction of the pies, A. B. Taylor acting as auctioneer. The amount received for the pies was twenty-eight dollars and sixty-five cents.
