

Gifts for the Bride and the Graduate

Too much thought cannot be given to careful selection of gifts for the bride or graduate.

Oftentimes a gift is judged by the name of the store it bears. Our reputation for high quality goods is a positive proof of the gift's worth.

If you make a selection here, you are not only assured that your gift will be appreciated, but you are certain that the style and quality are right.

This year's assortment of gifts is just a little bit larger and better selected than ever before.

When may we show you?

Two-Cycle Auto Engine Thrives on Castor Oil; More Power, Less Fuel

Operating on any combustible animal, vegetable, or mineral oil, a two-cycle, direct injection auto engine, recently perfected by M. Tartrais, a French engineer, has been performing so successfully as to forecast revolutionary advances in motor vehicle propulsion.

Although the newcomer has no carburetor nor high tension ignition system, it develops 50 horsepower at 1200 revolutions a minute, says Harold F. Blanchard, describing the engine in the June issue of Popular Science Monthly. "It weighs 10 pounds to the horsepower—the same as the average standard automobile of space; yet it is said to be twice as economical in fuel."

How the Engine Operates There are two vertical cylinders, in which the operation is as follows: When the piston is at top dead center, liquid fuel is injected into the combustion chamber, which is filled with pure air so hot that the fuel immediately takes fire. As the piston proceeds on its down stroke after the fuel is injected and ignited, it uncovers the exhaust ports toward the end of its travel and most of the burned gases stream out through the openings.

Then the piston uncovers the intake openings and pure air shoots in from all sides. Striking the conical piston head, the air streams combine to form a column of pure air that rises to the top of the cylinder head, where it spreads out and flows down the cylinder walls and thus forces out the exhaust residue.

The combustion chamber is also swept clear of gases by this action. Then the piston proceeds up on the compression stroke. As soon as its progress closes intake and exhaust ports, compression begins. When the piston reaches top dead center, another explosion ensues.

There is a separate fuel pump for each cylinder and the amount of fuel it delivers may be varied by a hand or foot throttle.

The Tartrais engine will operate not only on gasoline, kerosene, and alcohol, but on various crude oils and coal-tar oils, cod liver oil, sperm oil, castor oil, cottonseed oil, coconut oil, cocoa oil, and others without any change in engine adjustment.
