EMERGENCY CALL TO EMPLOYERS.
Phone, Write or Call Captain Conville,
AT LIBERTY TEMPLE.
Main 313.

Ex-soldiers and sailors are still out of work. The organization of faithful workers at Liberty Temple has been figuring, scheming, toiling for many months the state commission has appropriated funds to pay the expense, the Chamber of Commerce has devoted much effort and money, the city has done all it can, various large firms and corporations have gone the limit, civic clubs have done much, many public spirited citizens have contributed—all in the effort to successfully solve this problem—a problem that is vital to the interests of the public in general, to every individual and especially to the interests of employers.
Put yourself in the shoes of these ex-service men. Try and imagine what they are up against; many of them with dependent families to support. What would you think of Portland and Portland employers if you were in their shoes? What would you do if you had enlisted to sacrifice all if need be and then had to sweat blood waiting for somebody with heart enough and spirit enough to "come across" and do the right thing?
Hundreds of Oregon employers have already done the right thing. They have gone over their payroll and sifted and adjusted here and there to give preference to an ex-service man—and many have done more—they have added one, two and sometimes a dozen more to their payroll than were really needed in order to be quite sure of doing their full share in helping to absorb the surplus and provide employment for worthy men.
What have YOU done? Take this matter home to your inner conscientiousness. Think it over seriously. Try and look at it in a big, public spirited way. Try and imagine what kind of an industrial situation will naturally develop if hundreds of these men who know they did their duty when duty called, are allowed to continue idle. Make a special superhuman effort to grasp the full portent—the true inwardness of the situation—remember
