OREGON GETS BIG SUMS FOR RIVER AND HARBOR AID

Farmers Aided Indirectly By Government Advance To Loan Centers

BENEFITS IRRIGATION

Provisions For Road Construction Thru Federal Highway Laws Greatly Increased

The Sixty-seventh Congress has treated Oregon munificently in appropriations for rivers and harbors. In fact, these appropriations, added to others for highways and reclamation projects, make the amount received for public improvements the greatest ever received at any time from the federal government. Nor is this good fortune the only one to come to this state.

Banks And Farmers Aided

By reason of aid for farmers and for banks, which are financing agricultural interests, thru the revival of the war finance corporation, the state is benefited to an amount in excess of $6,000,000. The effect of these loans to the farmers relieved them from financial strain and made it possible for them to carry over the accounts of the farmers to the sale of their crops. Livestock loan companies received $2,738,539. Banks and kindred financial institutions received an advance of $3,324,000.

Rivers And Harbors Benefit

In the army appropriation bill are allotted to—Lower Willamette and Columbia rivers, below Vancouver, $850,000; Willamette, above Portland and Yamhill, $27,300; Coos Bay, $150,000; Coos river, $30,000; Yaquina Bay and harbor $300,000; Columbia, Celilo falls to Snake river, $12,500; Snake river, $10,000; Clatskanie river $6,200—a total of $1,359,000.

Highways Awarded Big Sums

Highways of the state have been allocated, thru the general highway law, $3,058,329. Of this amount forest roads will require $1,250,443 in 1923. In the general postoffice appropriations for good roads, Oregon's share for 1923 is $788,442.

Irrigation Funds Increased

In 1922, the amount available for irrigation projects was $500,000. The amount available for these projects for 1923 is three times as much as for this year, or $15,000,000.

RECORDS RIDICULE RECALL ALLEGATION

Accusation Of Extravagance Is Propaganda—Increase Of County Indebtedness Accounted For.

The charge first emphasized in the attempt to recall the county judge is: "That the county's indebtedness during his incumbency has increased from $359,836.62 on December 31, 1920, to $426,197.72 on September 1, 1922, although his campaign was based on economy." The Banner-Courier has been unable, thru inquiry, to obtain a copy of the petitions now in circulation, but reads in the recall organ that this quotation is a part of said petitions.

The attempt of the recall crowd which holds its "OPEN" meetings in CLANDESTINE places and at SUNDAY times, of which the general public has no knowledge, is here to give the impression that the judge is and has been careless, extravagant and unbusinesslike in his official work. And the purpose of this statement further is to arouse antagonism of the taxpayers toward the judge, by showing an increase in taxes. And in this procedure they hope to increase the number who will sign the recall petition.

The statement, taken alone—and this is the way it is intended—is an underhanded injustice. It amounts to a half-truth, and a half-truth used to deceive is no better than a downright falsehood.

The following records, on file at the court house, and open to every citizen of Clackamas county, show WHY the warranted indebtedness of the county has increased since the present Judge took office. These figures, taken from the official records, show facts which every voter in Clackamas should consider before he signs his name to this petition.

January 1, 1920, the warrant indebtedness of the county was $167,706.85. This was one year before Judge Cross took office as judge. On January 1, 1921, the warrant indebtedness was $325,236.72. Here then, was an increase of $157,529.87 in one year. Judge Cross had nothing to do with county affairs THEN. But two of the same commissioners now in office were in office then and there was no recall. And the probability is that the increase was justified. The present recallers, by their silence regarding it,

MOVEMENT ON FOOT FOR REPEAL ANIMAL BOUNTY LAW

Mohair growers of Oregon, according to R. G. Scott, secretary of their state association, will urge the repeal of the predatory animal bounty law at the next session of the legislature. They will base their efforts on a better way to encourage the herdsmen than by paying so large an amount for the present method of destruction of the animals which make havoc among their young stock. Oregon now pays out $118,000 yearly in this way.

It is proposed by the association, according to Mr. Scott, to appropriate, for the next two years, $75,000 for professional hunters and trappers for the various sections of the state, instead of giving to the United States biological survey $15,000, as is now done. Stockmen believe that by this method the state will soon be rid of its predatory animals.

ALBRIGHT SPONSORS FRANCHISE PETITION

John F. Albright is attempting to secure a municipal bus franchise by the submitting of an initiative ordinance to the people and a series of petitions for the accomplishment of this purpose have been placed in circulation. The projected ordinance provides for the granting of a franchise to Albright for the operation of a bus-line between Mt. Pleasant and Main street, with a guaranteed schedule of twelve busses every four hours, for which privilege Albright is to pay an annual tax of $25 per bus.

Other terms of the proposed ordinance make it practically blanket in its provisions and would give the holder of the franchise the right to run a bus-line from Oregon City to Portland, which concession would infringe upon the present franchise agreement existing between the city and the P. R. L. & P. Co.

Due to lack of sufficient time the measure cannot be placed upon the November ballot, but if sufficient names are secured, can be put to a vote at some subsequent election.

JUSTICE COURT'S AUTHORITY TO BE TESTED

Mat Waldkirch has filed application for habeas corpus writ in order to obtain release from the county jail. In his application he sets forth that he was convicted of a violation of the prohibition laws and sentenced to serve 90 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $400. After a parole he was re-arrested upon orders from the justice's court that he be required to serve the remainder of his time, 166 days, pending against the unpaid portion of his fine.

Waldkirch seeks release on the ground that the total jail term has expired since he was first committed and also that the justice has no power to revoke paroles once granted. J. E. Hodges is his attorney.

SEEM SATISFIED THAT INCREASE.

January 1, 1921, the warrant indebtedness was $325,236.70. At this time Judge Cross took office as one of three comprising the county court. The indebtedness September 1, 1922, or one year and eight months later, was $426,197.72, an increase in one and two-thirds years of $100,960.50. During the eight months from January 1, 1922, to September 1, 1922, the warrant indebtedness has increased $20,750.06.

These are facts and ALL THREE MEMBERS of the court, no doubt, incurred this indebtedness only because of the needs of Clackamas county demanded it.

But the WHOLE truth of the matter is THIS: This increase is due to the unusually large costs connected with the settlement that had to be made with the State of Oregon on account of the construction of the Pacific Highway and the Mount Hood Loop thru this county. A large number of bridges, too, including the one across the Clackamas River, which alone cost $50,000, had to be built during this period of increased indebtedness and, of course, added to the debt.

But to grant these causes for the increase, which is only fair to the court, is not complete justice to them, nor does the increase stated show the whole truth.

The fact is, that the second half of the taxes levied for this year have not been collected yet and that the road construction costs for the summer have been paid by warrants. This has been necessary in order to finish work undertaken before the rains of the fall set in.

The prospects are that when the second half of the taxes are paid in, which will be done before next January, there will be very small, if any, increase in the warrant indebtedness of the county during this year.

Every voter who demands fair play and whole facts, will resent this camouflage claim that Judge Cross is either careless, extravagant or even unbusinesslike in the county's affairs. The Judge of the court is only ONE of THREE.

THIS WHOLE CHARGE FALLS FLAT.

GREAT GATHERING OF EPISCOPALIANS IN PORTLAND ENDS

Church Laws Regarding Divorce Evils Made Even More Severe

"OBEY" TO BE OMITTED

Meeting Leaves Fine Record Achievements For Christian Social And Civic Work And Progress

Characterized by genuine fervor and devotion to efforts in behalf of Christian development and progress, the Episcopal convention, which has been in session for the past fifteen days in Portland, adjourned on Saturday last. Its influence upon the membership and laymen throughout the city of Portland and the state itself has been inspiring and beneficial.

Among its many accomplishments, the convention adopted a canon based on the concordat between its own and the Congregational churches, thus taking a long stride toward church unity. Thus, the great program of church unity, upon which it has been at work for the past decade, is encouraged by initial results.

Divorce Hit

Upon the evil of divorce, definite, courageous and progressive action was taken. Instead of relaxing its laws against divorces, it made them more exacting. In addition to forbidding its ministers to marry divorced persons, it now forbids even members of the church from contracting marriage with divorced persons.

Many Revisions Made

In the marriage ceremony, henceforth, the word "obey" will not be used and the groom's vow to endow the bride with all his earthly goods will be omitted.

A prayer for the fruitfulness of marriage is incorporated. This is regarded as an expression of the attitude of the church in opposition to the teachings of birth control.

The rule forbidding use of the burial service over suicides was stricken out, which indicates a changed attitude toward those unfortunate creatures.

The resolution calling for unfermented grape juice for communion service was laid upon the table; and in its place the use of both bread and wine was adopted.

A new version of the Ten Commandments, omitting some of the non-essential clauses, was made optional in use by the clergy.

Wider spheres for women in the church were discouraged generally. A $21,000,000 budget for the work of the church during the next three years was adopted.

FARM BUREAU AWARDS PRIZES TO BOYS AND GIRLS

To encourage the younger element on the farm bureau holds of Clackamas County, the bureau awarded special prizes at the county fair for exhibits by the boys and girls whose parents are paid-up members. The prizes were contributed by individual members of the bureau and were won as follows:

Herbert Kanne, R. F. D. 3, Portland, was awarded the full-blooded Jersey calf; Kenneth Baker of Oswego, the Lincoln sheep; Ruth Kelland, Oregon City, R. F. D. 1, the White Leghorn, and Harriette Freese, Oregon City, the Barred Plymouth Rock.

BIG SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY SCHEDULED

All Sunday school workers, teachers, officers and class members are urged to come to the Congregational church, Tuesday evening, October 3rd.

A banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m., at 35c per plate. Tickets on sale at the churches next Sunday.

During the dinner hour the Community Training School for church school workers will be discussed by the superintendents and pastors.

Evening session at 7:30 p. m., will be given over to music. A general report of the International Sunday school convention and a special talk on the adult work, by Rev. A. J. Ware, who represented the Clackamas county Sunday schools at Kansas City, will be given.

Johnny Walzak.

Johnny Walzak, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walzak of Logan, passed away Monday, September 18th, after an illness of only twenty-four hours, of acute indigestion. The funeral was held at the home and interment was made in Lower Logan cemetery. The deceased was fifteen years old and attended the Logan school.

Warner Grange Changes Dates.

Warner Grange, No. 117, at New Era, has discontinued its night meetings and will hold meetings every fourth Saturday of the month at 10:30 a. m. The first meeting under the new schedule was held Sept. 23d.

STATE UNIVERSITY IS ENJOYING BRIGHT PROSPECTS

With the opening of the fall term of the University of Oregon a week away, executive officers and faculty are completing preparations for the registration of new and old students. These days in school life are precious.

Credentials of 940 students, who are entering the university for the first time, have been received and approved. At this time a year ago, 879 students had presented their credentials for approval.

Registration days are next Monday and Tuesday. All university work begins Wednesday, October 4. The prospects for a larger attendance than ever before are bright. Of the 940 new students whose credentials have been approved, 577 are recent graduates of schools in the state. One hundred and fifty-seven prospective freshmen are from communities outside of Oregon.

Oregon students with advanced standing, who will enter the university for the first time next week number ninety-three, according to Registrar Carlton E. Spencer.

In the 1921-22 college year, 2,241 students were enrolled during the year at Eugene. One hundred and fifty-four were students in the School of Medicine at Portland; 1,234 took extension courses in Portland; 1,320 availed themselves of work in the correspondence study departments; 110 were special in the School of Music, and 860 enrolled in the summer school and 860 enrolled in the summer schools at Eugene and Portland. The total enrollment was 5,969 in all.

TAX REFORM PLANK IN G.O.P PLATFORM

Keynote Of Convention Is Party Unity—Administration Pledged To Rigid Economy.

The conference of Republican leaders, held in the Central Library in Portland yesterday, passed off without discord of any kind.

There were 135 members of the party present, representing every section of the state. It was the first statewide gathering of the party representatives in twelve years.

Platform Is Purpose

The purpose of the conference was to formulate and adopt a platform of party principles for the guidance of party representatives and to revive party spirit.

As an outgrowth of meetings, held at Pendleton and Eugene, a committee of forty members, appointed by the state chairman, W. L. Toole, Jr., and headed by Senator Bruce Dennis of La Grande, had prepared a set of resolutions embodying the principles to be the guide of the party and its leaders in the present campaign. These resolutions, adopted without opposition, are recognized as a party platform.

Appeals Made For Unity

Excellent addresses were delivered on partisan spirit and necessity by Senators B. L. Eddy of Roseburg and Gus Moser of Portland. Senator Polindexter of Tacoma lauded the conference and discussed the accomplishments of the party in a splendid and eloquent address. Others, including the state chairman, aroused enthusiasm by eloquent appeals for party loyalty and cohesion.

There was entire absence of criticism of the Democratic party, although the shortcomings of its candidate for governor were given some prominence.

State Problems Considered

The resolutions deal with state problems and suggest what are deemed constructive solutions for them. On the measures to appear on the ballot there was silence, the attitude being that these problems are now passed on direct to the people themselves. The conference, however, pledged the Republican party representatives elected to strict economy; to legislate to bring under assessment real and personal property now escaping taxation; and to decrease the burden of taxation upon those now carrying it. Taxation on water power was favored.

Exclusion of Orientals from land ownership or control; the early completion of the Roosevelt highway and aid for farmers and stockmen were urged. Useless commissions were taboed and the budget system for counties recommended.

"The conference will have a vital influence in stimulating partisan interest and cohesion in the present campaign is certain.

Canby Residence Burned.

Friday night last fire completely destroyed the house of J. M. Jones of Canby. The family was away from the house at the time of the misfortune. The building was owned by the Lottie Samson estate. The loss is estimated at about $800.

Rev. Hillebrand Home

St. John's Catholic congregation welcomes home Monsignor Hillebrand, their pastor, who has been in Europe during the past six months. During his absence, the Rev. Father Jonas of Canby has had charge of the local parish.

HALL QUILTS RACE AS INDEPENDENT AGAINST OLCOTT

Clarifies The Situation With Respect To Candidacies Olcott And Pierce

STATEMENT ISSUED

Democratic Nominee's Endorsement of Compulsory Education Bill Features Withdrawal

For several days rumors have been afloat that Senator Hall, independent candidate for gubernatorial honors, would withdraw from the race. Declarations from close friends of the senator corroborated the reports. The withdrawal is hailed with delight by both the followers of Pierce and the enemies of Olcott, for reasons entirely obvious.

Situation Is Clarified

This action on the part of Mr. Hall clarifies the political situation wonderfully. He having been nominated by a gathering dominated by Klan leaders, while the Federated societies were backing the Democratic nominee, who recently came out with an endorsement of the compulsory education bill. With Hall in the race as an independent and supported by the Klan, the wise ones prophesied a split in the vote that would go to Pierce if Hall were out of the race, and that this meant the election of Ben W. Olcott. So it is reported that Hall was prevailed upon to lessen the Hon. Ben's chances by stepping aside with a polite bow to his loyal supporters to follow the Democratic candidate.

Mr. Hall's attitude political is set forth in his letter of withdrawal:

"The duty of the hour for all patriotic Americans is courageous adherence to fundamental American ideals and principles. It was because of the apparent necessity of presenting vital issues to the people of the state of Oregon that I became a candidate for governor in the Republican primaries and not because of my personal ambition. My support in the primaries came from those who believe in the principles of the proposed compulsory school bill and other measures affecting the public educational system and who also approve my views on economic and administrative policies.

"The court contest made after the primaries brought out distinctly, and were it not for the decision of the courts that Democrats could invade the Republican primaries on election day, solely upon religious grounds, I would have received the certificate of nomination as the regular Republican candidate, and that I actually was nominated by the Republican voters of the state.

"Until the past week there was no candidate for governor, other than myself, who openly and boldly espoused the principles which originally caused me to become a candidate. However, during the past week, public statements of other candidates have been printed which will have the effect of making those issues clear-cut before the people of Oregon.

"For these reasons, and because principle is above my personal ambition, I shall take steps to have my name withdrawn from the ballot.

"Upon all my friends, and especially those who so splendidly upheld our principles during the contests this year, I urge energetic, earnest support and advocacy of the compulsory school bill this fall.

In order to withdraw legally from the position as candidate Hall will be required to file with the secretary of state a certificate stating reasons for the act.

CITY SUED FOR FEES RE CITY HALL PLANS

Suit was filed in the circuit court this morning by Edmund Bergholz, Portland architect, against the city of Oregon City, to enforce the payment of $750, claimed as the balance due for services in connection with the proposed city hall, construction of which was abandoned the past month.

Bergholz charges in his complaint, that he was engaged under a contract to draw the plans and also to superintend the construction of the building. He sets forth that one of the provisions of the contract was that in case work was abandoned before completion, the architect was to be paid three per cent of the estimated cost, which was placed at $35,000. Under this provision of the contract suit for $750 has been brought, a payment of $300 having been previously made.

The council, at their last regular meeting, received a communication from Bergholz demanding payment, and the question was referred to the city attorney for an opinion touching the validity of the claim. This report will be forthcoming at the coming regular meeting of the council to be held Wednesday evening, October 4th.

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL COUNTY FAIR IS RECORD BREAKER

Community Competition Keen—Rosemont Scores Highest

ATTENDANCE FAIR

Grant B. Dimick Led In Number Individual Awards—Juvenile Exhibits Special Attraction

The sixteenth session of the Clackamas County Fair has passed into history as one of the most successful since the organization of the association. Livestock, poultry and grain exhibits were unsurpassed. Competition among the various community clubs was keen. In the juvenile department the exhibits ranked higher than those of previous years.

In the community club awards, Rosemont was awarded first prize, receiving $75, scoring 84 points. The Damascus Farm Bureau, representing Damascus neighborhood, scored 83 points, securing second place, and a prize of $50; Canby was third with 78 points, winning $25. Carver was awarded honorable mention, scoring 57 points.

In the poultry department, C. R. Quinn, superintendent, with 75 exhibitors, more than 375 birds were on exhibition. Among the exhibitors in this department were several from Washington and Multnomah counties.

To George De Bok of Willamette went the first prize for the best general exhibit of livestock. E. W. Gribble of Aurora was awarded second. In the awards in the sheep department the prize winners were: St. A. Doerfler, E. W. Gribble, Grant B. Dimick, Herman Harms, Gust Jaeger and J. W. Smith and son.

In the swine department the awards went to George De Bok, Grant B. Dimick, E. W. Gribble, H. Werner, Herman Harms, Theodore Resch, R. Baly and George G. Randall.

In the dairy cattle division the awards for Jerseys were made to the following: N. H. Smith, J. L. Whites and son, V. H. Berkeley, D. B. Yoder, A. D. Gribble and Dan Hepler.

For Guernseys the prize winner was Fred Johann of Aurora.

For Ayrshires all awards went to Dr. O. A. Welsh.

For Holsteins the awards went to George De Bok and Nels Christensen.

The prize for the best individual garden exhibit was divided between T. C. Kaupisch of Canby and J. J. Bigger of Oregon City, who were tied for honors in this exhibit.

In the commercial florists' exhibition, Carl Starker of Jennings Lodge was awarded first honors for collection and five firsts and four seconds in individual exhibits. H. J. Bigger won five firsts and eight seconds in individual floral displays.

In the amateur division, honors were won by Mrs. R. Kell of New Era, Mrs. H. C. Hartman of Canby, Mrs. E. E. Blackman of Canby.

Of the exhibitors, Grant B. Dimick was doubtless the winner of more individual awards than any other exhibitor, having to his credit in the livestock and poultry departments, 14 firsts, 14 seconds and one third prize.

Warner Grange, following its custom of many years standing, maintaining an attractive booth artistically arranged by the women of the Grange. An attractive exhibit in the juvenile department was the model room shown in comparison with the room improperly arranged.

In the booths maintained by the mercantile establishments, creditable exhibits were made by C. G. Miller Co., Burmeister & Aderson, Oregon City Shoe Store, Huntley-Draper Drug Co., Oregon City merchants, and Carlton & Rosencrans of Canby.

With ideal weather prevailing throughout the entire four days, the attendance was such as to warrant the belief that when the accounts have been audited the right side of the ledger.

PENALTIES WILL BE CHARGED UNPAID TAXES AFTER OCT. 5

October 5 is the last day on which taxes can be paid without additional interest at one per cent per month. After November 5, a further addition of a penalty of five per cent will be added to the tax and interest.

Jay Walking Taboo.

An ordinance to prohibit jay walking in Oregon City, will be presented to the city council in the near future. The matter was considered at the last special meeting of the council and sufficient sentiment being found to exist in favor of such an ordinance, the council requested that the matter be put before them for formal consideration.

Smith's "Junior" Winner

N. H. Smith, Logan Jersey breeder, is the proud possessor of a coveted blue ribbon, won at the state fair by his "Junior" yearling bull.
