CHECKING THE HEARING of Charles Ponsegrow, a sixth grade student at Mount Shasta, is Mrs. Claire Casner, Siskiyou County school nurse. Mrs. Casner is using the new audiometer purchased by the Mount Shasta Elementary School Parents and Teachers Association as their 1957 project for use in both the elementary and high schools. The audiometer has uncovered several cases of incipient deafness among the students. Nola Crispi, one of Charles' classmates, is fascinated with the procedure.

FRITZ ANTHES Jr., 23, Tulelake, will be the first passenger from the Klamath Basin to fly aboard one of Pan American Airline's new jet planes to Europe. Fritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Anthes Sr., of Tulelake, arrived in this country in December 1952, and has since been homesick for his native land. He flew to Paris to visit a sister, Mrs. Duane (Martha) Schilling, stationed with her U.S. Air Force husband near Paris. He will then go to Bavaria to visit a grandmother and other relatives, then to Kosstjeorau, his former home. Mrs. Kay Phillips, Tulelake, is the senior Anthes' sister. Shown with Anthes, is Walt McIntyre, McIntyre Travel Service, who arranged for the pre-holiday flight. Anthes will be gone three months.

Women Still Not Accepted By Public As Ministers

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Women have cracked the prejudice barriers in engineering, medicine and law. They have been accepted as plumbers, bus drivers and U.S. senators, bank presidents, brokers and paper hangers. But there is one major field they can not seem to conquer—the ministry.

In the course of 2,000 years, women have managed to chip away at some of the prejudices against them in the pulpit, but they still have a long way to go to be accepted as preachers to the degree they are encouraged to stand over hot stoves preparing church suppers.

The National Council of Churches reports in its 1958 yearbook that there are fewer than 7,000 women ministers in the United States, out of a total 168,419 clergymen.

Of these, 5,791 women are ordained or licensed. Only 2,896 actually have pulpits — and these are mainly in small towns.

There are several women circuit riders. They travel from church to church. One drives a station wagon on her circuit. Another paddles a rowboat from island to island off the coast of Maine. Still another jogs through the northwoods of Michigan on horseback.

But the closest a woman minister has come to official status in a big New York City church is to marry the pastor and serve as his assistant on a strictly non-preaching basis. She is Mrs. Donald Harrington, wife of the minister of the Community Church in midtown Manhattan.

The Rev. Ellen B. Shaw, of Mazomanie, Wis., president of the American Assn. of Women Ministers, says there is a need for more ministers and that women can fill this need very well.

"So why should they not be used more than they are?" she asked. "Every person has their place to fill in life, whether male or female, and women can fill the ministry efficiently. Therefore, she should be used more than she is."

She added that the prejudice against women ministers is decreasing, however, more in some parts of the country than in others.

"I think that perhaps in the field of counseling, women have an unusual function," she told United Press International.

"It is an increasingly important part of the ministry. Perhaps it is because it is easier for people to tell their problems to a woman than to a man."

Mrs. Shaw has been licensed to preach since 1939, but did not have a church of her own until 1942. She has been preaching every Sunday since that time, and her husband also is a preacher. They trade pulpits every Sunday.

Race Winner Found Dead

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — John Puterbaugh, 58, who won $70,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes last March, was found dead in his new, luxury model car in his garage Tuesday.

Police said Puterbaugh, a boiler operator and bridegroom of four months, left a note indicating suicide but giving no explanation.

Friends said he had been ill.

Homicide Detective William Clinton said that Puterbaugh's wife Dixie, 45, told of finding him in the car in the garage at 5 a.m. with the motor running.

She turned off the ignition and left the garage, Clinton said the woman told him. He said that when he talked to her she was intoxicated. She said both she and Puterbaugh had been drinking beforehand in their home.

Puterbaugh was found dead about 1:30 p.m. by a brother-in-law, Albert Dixon, 59. Dixon said Puterbaugh had called him the day before and threatened suicide.

Bureau Issues Mineral Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mineral leases on Indian tribal lands cannot be issued in the future unless they have been advertised for bids, the Interior Department reported Monday.

The only exception is where the Indian commissioner grants permission in writing that a lease may be negotiated. Before this such leases could be negotiated without advertising.

Under Secretary of the Interior Elmer F. Bennett said the new regulation is designed to insure that Indian tribes receive adequate offers for their mineral leases. The change places tribal mineral leasing to conform with those governing oil and gas leases.

Dogfish Mart Being Planned

OLYMPIA (AP) — It may be dogfish cakes and saki for the Japanese soon if a plan worked out by State Fisheries Director Milo Moore goes into effect.

Moore, who recently attended an International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission meeting in Tokyo, said his trip convinced him that up to 10 million pounds of frozen dogfish fillets could be marketed there annually.

The Japanese currently are working on a process for producing canned fish balls and fish cakes from dogfish for human consumption.

Development of a dogfish market would be a big factor in controlling the predators in Washington waters, Moore said.

It would also help offset the large amount of money spent by this country in Japan for purchases of crab, oysters and other sea products, he said.

Moore said his inquiry about a possible Japanese market was suggested by the commercial fishing industry which is concerned over the rapid increase of dogfish in Puget Sound and adjacent waters.

A plan initiated by Moore several years ago to have commercial fishermen catch the predators for fertilizers failed. The failure, Moore said, was due to insufficient domestic markets.
