Haircuts High In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This sounds like an awful trimming — but Jerry Lewis will pay dole for a haircut Thursday.

Lewis is in Miami, Fla., and he is importing his own barber, Arthur Fredman, who operates a shop here.

Fredman, barber's kit in hand, boarded a jet plane for Miami to keep an appointment with the crew-cut comedian. Fredman said he has traveled to New York, Chicago, Houston and Las Vegas—all at Lewis' expense—to cut Lewis' locks.

"I'm the only man who has cut his hair for the past 10 years," the barber explained. "He is a busy man and I do the job without disturbing his work."

Male mosquitoes are perfectly harmless; the females do all the biting.

Westminster Kennel Show Won By Tough Pekingese

NEW YORK (AP) — Ch. Chik (Sun of Caversham), a pee wee who has flattened more tough hombres than any dog in history, headed home today for a life of ease.

Chik has earned it. He is a Pekingese, who weighs in at just 9½ pounds. He culminated three years of traveling from one end of the country to the other Tuesday night when he won the Westminster Kennel Club dog show in Madison Square Garden.

This was Chik's fourth try at the Westminster, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Venable of Atlanta, Ga., wanted to win it badly. It was easier than they thought. Judge George H. Hartman deliberated about a half hour—a ridiculously short time—before sending Chik to the top.

He now has 127 best in shows. The former mark of 121 was set by the great Boxer, Ch. Bang Away of Sirrah Crest. The Venables decided to let him go for 125. When he reached that figure, Westminster was so close, they decided to let him try for Westminster.

"And are we glad," said Mrs. Venable. "We thought this would be a fine farewell for him. Now he is going home to be a house pet.

"We have had him for three years, and he has traveled 75,000 miles a year, if not more.

"I'll admit he got tired once in a while, especially when he was moving around a lot. But he was always willing to show."

He is the first Pekingese ever to win Westminster. For Clara Allord, his handler, the victory represented something she has been seeking for a long time.

"He'll be a wonderful pet," said Mrs. Allord, a half-Cherokee from Oklahoma. "He has been my life for three years and I think he'll adjust to his new life faster than I."

Chik, of course, got in the final by winning the toy group.

The other finalists included:

Ch. Vardon's Frosty Snowman, a bulldog, owned by Dr. Edward Vardon of Detroit, the non-sporting victor; Ch. The Ring's Banshee, a bassett hound, entered by Chris G. Teeter of Birmingham, Mich., the hound winner; Ch. Pinetop's Fancy Parade, an Aacob cocker spaniel, sent in by William J. Lafoon Jr. and Mrs. Rose Robbins of Petersburg, Va., the sporting champ; Ch. Cole de Neige Sundew, a Pembroke Welsh corgi, entered by Mrs. William B. Long of Concord, Mass., who won the working group, and Ch. Balnart Bewitching, a Scottish terrier, belonging to Mrs. Blanche Reeg of Wantagh, N.Y., the terrier victor.

Negotiators Meet Today; Plan Front

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West's top disarmament negotiators gathered in Washington today to shape Allied proposals for mid-March disarmament talks in Geneva with the Soviet bloc.

Britain, France, Italy, Canada and the United States were represented at the secret sessions getting under way amid doubts here over the prospects of any speedy agreement with the Reds on key issues.

Disarmament and Germany are the two main problems slated for the summit discussions in May among President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the British and French chiefs.

On the German question, belief that the summit parley will yield little has mounted because of Khrushchev's renewed tough talk. The Allies are still dead set against yielding isolated West Berlin to the Reds.

But even if little is accomplished at the summit sessions, Eisenhower's trip to the Soviet Union the following month could serve to stave off any serious outbreak in the cold war.

On disarmament, there remain sharp differences between East and West over how much control is needed to make disarmament work. But there was some optimism that Moscow really does want disarmament despite continued opposition to control and inspection systems the Western powers are asking.

The five top Western disarmament negotiators, who will head their delegations at Geneva, were meeting for the first time today to consider staff studies made to date.

Representing the United States is Frederick J. Eaton, a New York lawyer specially appointed by Eisenhower for the Geneva assignment.

The others are David Ormsby-Gore, British minister of state for foreign affairs; Jules Moch, former French interior minister; Gaetano de Martino, former Italian foreign minister, and Lt. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, the Canadian military man who headed the U.N. force in Egypt after the Suez invasion.

The Washington sessions are expected to last into next week.

Owner Dies In Explosion

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP) —A heap of smoldering rubble lay over a 10-acre site today—the aftermath of a fireworks company explosion that claimed the owner's life.

Fortunately, 63 employes had ample warning and fled from the series of blasts Tuesday at the Havre de Grace Fireworks Co., and only two were injured. Three housewives on the street or in their homes also were hurt. The injured were treated at a hospital and released.

The charred body of James A. Fabrizio, 35, was found in the ruins of one building. He was so badly burned identification had to be made through dentures, a belt buckle and ring.

Another death was blamed on the explosions, which shook this northeastern Maryland town and did extensive damage to nearby homes.

Nellie Stansbury, 62-year-old Negro, died at the hospital. Doctors said the woman, who had a history of hypertension, died from shock or a heart attack.
