AUTO'S HIT BY TRAIN, DRIVER SLIGHTLY HURT

George Sinn, of Maple Lane,
Injured and Car Is Wrecked
In Crash on S. P. Crossing.

George Sinn, Maple Lane farmer, narrowly escaped death beneath the wheels of a Southern Pacific passenger locomotive at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Pinned beneath the wreckage of his automobile, parts of which were thrown over the entire crossing at 11th and Railroad avenue by the impact of the collision with the train, Sinn himself was only slightly bruised.

The man was driving down 11th street and failed to notice the semaphore signal or hear the train, which was going south. Due to the grade at that point, the train was going at a considerable rate of speed. The force of the impact turned the auto completely up side down, hurled the radiator across the street against the Buckles building, and completely demolished the machine, burying the driver beneath it at the side of the track.

F. E. and Orph Parker, who were at work in the Lucke warehouse at the corner, rushed to the aid of the man, who was dragged out. Blood oozed from his nose and cuts on his neck and back. He was taken to the offices of Dr. Meissner and Hausler, where it was found that he was only bruised and that the injuries were not serious.

This is the first accident on record at this point. Years ago, when the sidewalk extended over the property where the warehouse now stands, Mrs. Sam Roake was struck and killed by a passenger train. At the railroad crossing on 10th street a farmer and his two horses were ground beneath the wheels of a passenger train. This accident occurred some time ago before a watchman was placed at the crossing.

Civil War Veteran Is Hale and Hearty Despite Age of 81

Although he was struck in the shoulder by a bullet from the enemy camp during a skirmish of the Civil war, which severed the strap of his canister, William Mazingo, prominent pioneer resident of the Willhoit country, is still hale and hearty. He will celebrate his 81st birthday anniversary next April. Mazingo, whose 160-acre farm is located one and one-half miles from Willhoit, is in Oregon City for a week's visit with relatives and comrades of the Civil war who are members of Meade post No. 2, G. A. R., of which Mazingo is a member.

Mazingo served under Sherman and Grant. Among the engagements he participated in were the battles of Shiloh, Gettysburg, Siege of Vicksburg. He was also in engagements at Jackson, Miss., Matchie river and other places. When answering his country's call he was not quite 20 years of age. Following the war he married Mary Elizabeth Inman, in 1866.

Mazingo says: "During our married life (and I have lived to over 80 years), my wife and I have never had to call a doctor. The only time a doctor was in the home was when the babies arrived, and my wife has lived to enjoy her 75th birthday. There is no doubt but that a doctor would starve to death if they depended upon people like us." The veteran is proud of his family, which consists of his wife and children—William Henry Mazingo, of Sand Point, Idaho; Andy Mazingo, who resides on the old home land, North Dakota—today expressed strong approval of Senator Borah's proposal for a world economic and disarmament conference and announced their intention of voting for it as an amendment to the pending naval bill.

Senator McNary said: "I believe that such a conference as Senator Borah proposed would be of great benefit. I intend to support it as it is. I see no necessity for any amendments, reservations or modifications. It is clear to me that unless something is done soon to stabilize economic conditions in Europe the American people are going to suffer therefrom." McNary said he had received a number of telegrams in support of the Borah proposal from farmers and small bankers.

Meldrum Notes

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kimball and children, of McMinnville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Meyers. Sidney Brown, of Willamette, spent Wednesday with his aunt, Mrs. Murray Bunn.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Meyers and son were Saturday dinner guests at the D. W. Davis home in Westmoreland.

Miss Alva Eads arrived home on Friday to spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. Ellen R. Eads.

The humane society has been busy since the snow picking up the poor stock left out in the cold around Jennings Lodge.

A. Rush arrived home on Friday to spend the holidays with his family. A number of Meldrum people enjoyed the minstrel given at the Jennings Lodge schoolhouse on Saturday evening.

IN SOCIETY

Miss Violet Pearce, who is teaching her first school at Maple Lane had charge of a Christmas program given at the school house Friday afternoon. The pupils did exceptionally well, and the visitors enjoyed the following program:

Address of welcome, Beth Fraser; "Christmas Chimes," 7th and 8th grades; "Mother's Pumpkin Pies," Donald Frank; "What Did Santa Do?" Lola May; "Little Lads a Wishing," Don, Jimmie Gage, Raymond Gage, Donald Frank, Edward Smith; "Holy Night," Maribelle Quinn, Susie Schamborn; "That Night!" Grace Wessenberg; "Jest Fore Christmas," Jimmie Gage; "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing," school; "Little Jack Horner," Irvin Dugan; "Christmas Births," Alice Fraser; "Christmas Angels," Grace Wessenberg; Freda Waldow; Fidele Fenton, Louise Quinn, Louise Zenger; "Oh! That Wonderful Stocking," Hilda Dugan; "The Spirit," Georgia Sinn; "Christmas Bells," Georgia Sinn, Helen Sinn, Hilda Dugan, Marjorie Quinn, Alice Fraser; "An Old Fashioned Christmas," Freda Waldow; "Our Christmas Tree," Marjorie Quinn; "Return of Letty," playlet by the school girls.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Catto's first wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Roake entertained at a dinner party. The home was very prettily decorated in keeping with the holiday season. The evening was spent in games, cards and music.

Mrs. Roake was assisted in entertaining by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Albert Roake.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Catto, Mrs. W. I. Rowan, William Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Catto, Alfred Rowan and Everett Catto, of Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roake, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Roake, of Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Paddock entertained in honor of the former's sister, Miss Jessie Paddock, at their home in Gladstone Tuesday evening. The occasion was her birthday anniversary.

The affair was a complete surprise to the guest of honor. She received a number of pretty gifts.

The Paddock home was artistically decorated with holly, evergreens and Christmas bells.

Mrs. Paddock was assisted by her sister-in-law, Miss Lura Paddock. Those enjoying the evening were, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Gault, Rev. and Mrs. George E. Williams, Misses Jessie and Lura Paddock and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Paddock.

Miss Jessie Paddock was a charming hostess at her home at Gladstone last Saturday evening when she entertained a number of her friends from Oregon City and Jennings Lodge. The affair was one of the most unique of the season, and was in the form of a fancy dress party.

Shortly after the arrival of the guests, each was given a card with instructions to write a story of the first coasting and to illustrate the same. This to be done with the left hand. A number of the guests proved to be artists, and the prizes were awarded to Miss Mattie Burkhalter and Miss Gertrude Wilson. In another contest the prizes were awarded to Miss Nan Cochran and Miss Gertrude Wilson.

Enjoying the affair were Mrs. Margaret Dion, of Jennings Lodge; Mrs. Melvin Priebe, of Gladstone; Mrs. Arthur Paddock, of Gladstone; Miss Gertrude Willson and Miss Veda Andrus, of Willamette; Miss Eloise Alldredge, Mrs. Lillian McCormack, Miss Mary Confer and Miss Nan Cochran, of this city; Miss Lura Paddock and the hostess, of Gladstone.

At the joint social meeting of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary Monday evening, a special meeting of the Auxiliary was held for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Mary R. Cafield, president; Mrs. Grace M. Eby, secretary; Mrs. Catherine E. Hammond, treasurer.

During the evening refreshments were served by J. C. Spagel and Richard Montgomery. A musical program was enjoyed and several of the Legion members gave interesting talks. John Ray, an Oregon City young man, who has recently returned from the government hospital at Walla Walla, where he was treated for the effects of being gassed during the World War, told of the work being done at the hospital and of the Legion at Walla Walla.

Mrs. Dave Cafield told of the plans of the Auxiliary for the coming year.

Mrs. Beal, wife of Dr. H. W. Beal, of Sellwood, entertained in a delightful manner at a pretty luncheon at her home Wednesday afternoon, when a number of Oregon City women were her guests.

The rooms of the Beal home were prettily decorated, which were appropriate for the Christmas season. The table was centered with poinsettias.

Places were laid for Mrs. F. E. Albright, Mrs. Edward Jarrett, Mrs. Arthur Lambert, of this city; Mrs. Charles McCormack, Mrs. Beal, of Sellwood.

A Christmas entertainment was given by the pupils of the Jennings Lodge school Friday afternoon, which proved one that will long be remembered by those having the pleasure of attending.

Each teacher prepared her share of the program, and a Christmas tree enjoyed. Filled with candles and nuts and gifts these were distributed by a Santa Claus to each child.

The rooms of the school were prettily decorated with evergreens. An excellent program was given. Having charge of the affair were Mrs. Minnie Altman, principal; Mrs. Samuel McDonald, fifth and sixth grades; Miss Ruth Truscott, third and fourth grades; Mrs. Florence Moore, first and second grades.

School will begin January 2nd.

The children of Canemah school gave a Christmas program at the school house Friday afternoon, proving to be a most enjoyable one. The rooms were appropriately decorated for the occasion, and among the features was Santa Claus, who was impersonated by Ray Lewis. He made a decided "hit" with the children, and was invited to call again next Christmas, when a similar program was promised him.

The following numbers were given: "Long Ago," (song), fourth and fifth grades; "Christmas," and the children, Arpana Ross; "Santa Claus Comes Tonight," first, second and third grades; "Just Before Christmas," Kenneth McCormack; violin duet, "Berceuse," Bernice and Ruth Rake; "Christmas Day Has Come At Last," Idella Searle; "Christmas Eve Dream," (playlet), primary grade; "Ting A Ling, Ling," first, second and third grades; "Just For Christmas," William Frames; "Christmas Day," Aletha Limbocker; "Christmas Spirit," (playlet), fourth and fifth grades; "Sleep, Baby, Sleep," girls of first, second and third grades; "Baby Stocking," Richard Webb; "Holy Night," (playlet), fourth and fifth grades. The coming of Santa Claus closed the program.

Having charge of the program were Miss Velma Chamberlain, primary teacher; Miss Ruth Limbocker, intermediate teacher. The principal, Robert Ginther, and his pupils of the higher grades, were guests of honor on the occasion.

The auditorium was filled with an appreciative audience.

THE BOOK CORNER

Illustrated departments, The Watch Tower, a review of current events, and Nature and Science for Young People are of value both for the information they contain and for the forming of the habit of alertness regarding such matters. The Riddle Box sharpens the wits and affords opportunity for both answer and original puzzles. The St. Nicholas League is a contest department of importance, as it awards prizes for verse, stories, cartoons, cover designs, and photographs on assigned subjects, thus developing latent talent. Sometimes, it is surprising what creditable work is submitted by the young contestants. The Stamp Page for stamp collectors ends the list of good things in this magazine.

To generalize, St. Nicholas has an important place in the lives of young people by the way it develops and cultivates taste in literature, art, and music, by its stimulation of interest in world events and natural science; by the encouragement it gives the boys and girls in creative work. Just one series of articles running through the issues of 1922, The Workshop of the Mind, was of much value. The price of St. Nicholas is 35c a copy, $4.00 a year. Cloth covers may be obtained from The Century Co. for the numbers of each half year (October and April), or for the whole year; or the company will cover and bind the copies for each half year or for the whole year.

Whether or not we know the foregoing magazine friends, all of us know The Youth's Companion, published by the Perry Mason Company, Boston Mass. (7c a copy, $2.00 a year). We and our parents were raised on it; bread and milk and The Youth's Companion were considered necessary for our welfare. Now for our children we insist upon whole-wheat bread, whole milk, and The Youth's Companion, which has the same high purpose, the same departments and arrangement, and even the same delightful contributor, Mr. C. A. Stephens, that we enjoyed. With the Children's Pages (which may be loosened and collected into separate book for the week folk, the Boy's Page, Girl's Page, Family Page, general information, editorials and sermonettes, jokes, and science, it is a valuable weekly for the whole family. Its intent is helpful, its tone is of the highest quality, and its stories have youthful interest and enthusiasm. On the whole it inspires to worthy living.

Such special papers as Boy's Life, The Boy's Scout Magazine are not included in this general list. The Bible school papers of today contain excellent material. No longer are they the insipid, "preachy" papers destined to be connected with Sunday, and unconnected with the other six days of the week. Though elevating in character, and religious in atmosphere, they are alive and natural and show how real-seeming boys and girls harmonize their everyday problems with their Christian principles. They are worth the slight trouble of saving, arranging in order of date, and fastening in books of ten or fifteen copies. You likely will find that your boys and girls appreciate this convenient way of reference.

Shall we not, then, resolve that the new year will bring regularly to our boys and girls one or more of these magazines with their priceless influence?

BANK OF OREGON CITY

OLDEST BANK IN CLACKAMAS COUNTY

Organized Forty One Years Ago

Former Resident of Oregon City Passes

Mrs. Rebecca Turney, well known throughout Clackamas county, died Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harve Farmer, at Eugene.

Mrs. Turney was a resident of Canemah for many years, later moving to West Linn, where she resided until about a year ago when she went to Eugene with her daughter, Mrs. Farmer, with whom she has made her home for a number of years.

Mrs. Turney—who was 84 years of age—was the mother of 13 children, seven of whom survive. These are Mrs. Rachel Hill, of Tacoma, another married daughter in this city; Mrs. Ella Farmer, of Eugene; Frank, George, Francis and Ike Turney. She is survived by a number of grandchildren and one great grandchild.

F. Turney, husband of the deceased, died many years ago.

Mrs. Susan Horton Dies at Sellwood

Mrs. Susan Horton, wife of the late George Horton postmaster of Oregon City for many years, died at the home of her son, Gilbert Horton, of Sellwood, Friday evening.

Mrs. Horton had been in ill health for several months, and had gone to Sellwood for her health.

Deceased had made her home at West Linn for several years, but was a former resident of Oregon City. She is survived by her sons, Gilbert Horton, of Portland; Eugene Horton, of West Linn, and also by a granddaughter, of Sellwood.

Resident of Orting Dies at Son's Home

James Smith, of Orting, Wash., died at the home of his son, Sidney Smith, of West Linn, Sunday evening, after a few days' illness. He had come in company with his wife to spend the holidays with his son and family when he was stricken with pneumonia.

Deceased was 81 years of age, and is survived by his wife and several children.

The body was shipped to Orting Tuesday, and funeral services will be held at that place Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith and the former's mother have gone to Orting by automobile to attend the funeral.

$20,000 Is Stolen In Bold Chloroform Robbery in Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 26.—A baffling burglary, in which a man, his wife and two maids were chloroformed and their home robbed of $20,000 in money and jewels, was reported to the authorities Monday. No clue was found by detectives working on the case.

Harry Schaaf, wealth piano dealer, was the victim of what the authorities claim was the boldest "chloroform" burglary in Chicago.

According to his statement to detectives, the family retired shortly after midnight Sunday. He and his wife occupied the same room. Two maids were sleeping in the rear of the house.

When he awoke it was nearly noon, Schaaf said. He felt ill. He roused his wife. She was so ill she could not leave her bed. The room was filled with the odor of chloroform. The maids were called. They, too, were in a stupor.

The rooms of the home were in disorder. Mrs. Schaaf's platinum diamond bar pin, her rings and other articles of jewelry were missing. A sum of money also was missing.

The burglars are believed to have entered the house through a window and left through the street door.

The modern woman fears on breebe, the wind may whistle "round her knees; her ankles do not mind the air, but how she does arrange her hair! If Mother Eve were only here, she'd wear her fig leaf on her ear.

Pneumonia Fatal to James Monroe Mark

James Monroe Mark, prominent resident of Oregon City, died suddenly Thursday morning at 1:30 o'clock at the family residence on Eighth and John Adams streets. Mark was stricken with heart failure, terminating into pneumonia and causing his death.

James Mark was born at Lebanon, Pa., August 27, 1857. He was the son of the late Colonel and Mrs. John Mark, the father, serving as colonel in the Civil war. In 1878 he married Miss Kathryn Uhler, of Lebanon, Pa., the marriage taking place in that city. In 1885 the family moved to Oregon. Mr. Mark having been sent by a furnace manufacturing company to Oswego to install a furnace in the plant of the Oregon Iron & Steel company's plant at Oswego, now the site of the large cement factory. The family remained for nine years at Oswego, later coming to Oregon City, which has been their home for the past 23 years. For a number of years Mark was machinist for the Portland General Electric company, but of recent years has been connected with the Crown Willamette Paper company, being with this company at the time of his death.

Deceased was a member of the Workmen of the World and also an active member of the Congregational church. He was among those belonging to the Congregational Brotherhood, and has been active in the work of that organization since it was formed.

Surviving are Mrs. Mark, of this city; his daughters, Mrs. John Lowry, of Oregon City; Mrs. Charles Blumh, of Pendleton, Or.; three grandchildren, John Mark Lowry, of Oregon City; Margaret and Kathryn Blumh, of Pendleton, Or.; two brothers, Milton Mark, of Denver, Col., and Cyrus Mark, of Pueblo, Col.

Last Rites Are Held For Joseph Swartz

The funeral services of Joseph Swartz, who died at the family home at Redland Thursday, were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services, which were held in the chapel of Holman & Pace, were largely attended, many friends of the family coming from Redland and Robbins station. The service was conducted by the Scientist church.

Interment was in the Mountain View cemetery. The grave was completely covered with flowers.

"MORE AND BETTER FRUIT"

A new discovery—Nature's way of production greatly improved.

The fruit buds mature and produce much larger and more wholesome fruit. Extremely large cherries and they do not fall. Bear in mind that fully fifty per cent of our cherries fall before maturity. This may be saved, except for weather conditions, the first year by the application of "Morehouse's Orchard Invigorant," applied by expert horticulturists. All fruit made to bring forth an abundance, as well as Bacterial Gummosis, in the cherry, soon overcome, thru the perfect circulation of the sap. Roses and all the flower kingdom made to respond with brighter tints, all cereals, vegetables, forced into heavy production. Practical pruning, spraying, budding and grafting done in proper season. All sprays have the invigorant added free. "The wilderness and the dry land shall be glad, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose." Write or call for information.
